WHAT THE MAN SAYS WHO CROSSED ON BLONDIN'S BACK.

He Tells About His First Trip Across the a Bet.

The papers recently announced the death in Ealing, a suburb of London, of the famous tight-rope walker, Emile Blondin, who was a native of France, born about 1830, and whose this country was achieved principally by rope, which remarkable feat he first his neck and shoulders in great beads Reed held his fire till; collision seemdeed of carrying a man across on his and we went on safely and without or trained and fired. The slaughter this child is so small when all of the shoulders. This man was Mr. Harry Colcord, an artist, who is still living, affair:

"It was in the year 1858, and while tired of sailor life and came to Boson shore. Shortly after my arrival in din to carry a man over, and human leap aboard the pinnace. The fight was possibly "make a live of it." ton to look for something to do this city I made the acquaintance of Blondin, the tight-rope walker, who was a member of the Francona troupe, which included Martinetti and the famous Ra- forgot everything else. vels. Having some natural artisti ctalent, I became through the influence of travelled about the country with varying success until the beginning of Feb-Cincinnati and disbanded.

seen and been greatly impressed with a tight rope. He asked me what thought of making the journey across the falls

ON HIS BACK.

"At first I thought he was joking, but, on his assuring me that he was in and together we started for Niagara to complete arrangements for the proposed feat.

"We experienced no little trouble in obtaining the necessary permits to extend the rope. But finally we succeed-Porter, on the American side, and went to work. Blondin wanted to carry the rope from Terrapin tower and across to David's Hotel, which would have led us over the Horseshoe Falls, through the mist and spray of the great catar-

"These arrangements were strongly condemned, because people said the spray would keep the rope damp and Blondin was sure to fall. So we stretched the rope from 'White's Pleasure Ground,' across to Clifton House.

"The rope was 2,000 feet long. It was of manilla, three inches in diameter, made in a New York ropewalk in two long splice, which, when the rope was was a mental and the other a physical was as follows: extended, was in the centre of the span. It took us nearly five months to stretch the rope and get the guy lines in place.

"The rope was 250 feet above water at its lowest point. There were 75,000 feet of guy line attached to the rope. Each guy was weighted with a pound sandbag to drop them out of the way of Blondin's balance pole, and in putting them up the ropewalker crossed the span a score of times.

"At last, we were ready to make the perilous journey, and it having been advertised through the newspapers that I was to ride on Blondin's back, I became the subject of all kinds of adverse criticisms. Indeed, I was ready to back out of my agreement, when Blondin began to taunt me to such an extent that I finally decided that nothing could deter me from making the jour-

"Meantime Blondin had coached me as to what I should do. I was to put my weight on his shoulders only with my arms, and clasp his body about with my legs. But I could not put my weight on his legs, as that would encumber his movements. I had to keep all my weight

ON HIS SHOULDERS.

"In July, 1860, everything being ready, I took my place on Blondin's back, and we started to cross the rope. We began the descent from the Canadian side of the rope, and by reason of the fact that I had to bear my weight on Blondin's shoulders and could only use my arms to support myself, frequent rests were necessary. I told Blondin when I wanted to rest and then dropped down on the rope with one foot and waited until my arms were relieved, when I would spring up again, in place.

There was a great crowd present, but I did not see it at first. From my place on Blondin's back I could look out to the American side and see below the stunted pines, thrusting their sharp with pirates. No unconvoyed vessel points up from the edge of the foaming, roaring waters, ready to split us was anxious to get over and I recall, mainland were not uncommon. There too, that the great rope before us was no Admiralty Court at Singapore, swung alarmingly from side to side. We afterward ascertained that the rope had been swinging 40 feet at the cen- Settlements had to emanate from the

"The swing was caused by there being a length of 40 feet between the guys on one side and those on the other. It was the middle span. Below us, we swung from side to side. Still moving on steadily Blondin never tremfrom side to side in a vain effort to the same in make-up a the first, was enable him to secure his balance. At despatched when the indromache anone time his pole was up and down on chored off the Arroa Islands, and it the right side, at another up and down on the left, and I recall now with won-Niagara Gorge on a Tight Rope-Gam- der that I was only curious to know blers Tried to Shake Them Off to Win whether he would succeed in gaining "Failing to get his balance he started to run across THE HORRIBLE SPAN.

American side pulled the outer guy line. of a pinnace and two cutters very well groom.

and in safety reached the point where the guy rope came from the American shore. Then to steady himself, Blon- countered fully manned and armed, and din put his foot on the guy rope and a sharp fire of grape and langridge salfather was also a gymnast, says the tried to stop, but the guy snapped, and Boston Herald. Blondin's notoriety in with a dash of speed he ran swiftly twenty-five or thirty feet further and "Descendez vous!"

accomplished in 1859. The next year and we balanced ourselves on the sway- ed unavoidable. But in the nick of ing rope. Presently he said, 'Allons,' time, just when the gun could rake the and I raised myself to his shoulders, foremost proa end by ead, the cool sailaccident toward the shore.

and gives this account of the perilous done. Then it occurred to me that the ships, and the water was alive with man who had pulled the guy line was her crew, With astonishing rapidity, explain. one of those who had bet that the feat | Reed had reloaded with langridge, and could never be accomplished, and my as the second proa cameon he raked her I was still a mere boy, that I became indignation mastered any reactionary about three-fourths on end for end. feeling of fear.

cupidity stops at no sacrifice.

that in my foolish, boyish elation I soon | intercepting a kriss-thrust meant for | fed for three days on catnip tea, but sented as they stood gazing up at us first boarding attack repelled, the proa ment in the old-fashioned way. Dolls' Blondin, their scenic painter, and we as we approached the shore. Thousands was boarded, and here occurred one in- clothes have been bought, and a pilof them turned their faces away, or, stance of Reed's singular bravery. A low is the cradle. The physician hopes half turning, cast anxious glances over Malay, as he jumped everboard, grap- to bring the child up to be as large their shoulders, as we drew near the pled a seaman whose name is unre- as any girl wants to be. The arms and ruary, 1860 when the troupe reached bank. Then the crowd became very corded and dragged him over with him. legs are hardly three inches long and much excited, and surged toward us, Now a Malay is as much at home in the are about the size of a slate pencil. "It was then that Blondin, who had and Blondin stopped, fearing they water, as a shark and every whit as would push each other over the bank.

"When the crowd was still again the beauties of Niagara, conceived the Blondin started once more and with idea of crossing the great cataract on a quick run we soon came to the end of the rope and sprang to the ground Cheer after cheer then went up, and I was seized in the arms of a man who lifted me high in the air, saying, Thank God, this terrible feat is over!"

"Would you have crossed again?" "I crossed again, twice, the last time under the patronage of the Prince of Wales. He congratulated us, and gave earnest, I consented to accompany him, us each a purse of $100. I would not make the same journey now for all the wealth in the world."

THE DEEDS OF A HERO

ed in getting them for a man named THE BRAVEST MAN SIR HENRY was white pluck and strength against CHAOS EVER CAME ACROSS.

Named Reed, as Seen by a British Naval lish naval officer of the early part of the century, was wont to say that, of all the many brave men he had met in the course of a career which for letters. In attacking three proas, in thirty years had been a series of hard fights, dangerous expeditions, and exciting events, the bravest was an American sailor named Reed. Chads used to distinguish between characteristic, and he credited Reed with the physical quality. It may be asserted that he was qualified to judge, peculiar shape of his kriss and for he was himself a man of undaunted temperament and could fight a losing battle as well as a winning one. Those who are familiar with the history of the Constitution may recollect the fight between that vessel and the Java. The Java was the inferior in weight of metal and tonnage to the extent of about one-fourth, and when her Captain was killed Chads, then a Lieutenant, fought her bravely, despite the hopelessness of the attempt, until she was a helpless log. Commodore Bainbridge, who was as gallant a gentleman as he was a brave and skillful seaman, returned to Chads the sword just surrendered, and complimented him on the quarter deck of the Constitution, on the magnificent defence made his crew and himselt.

Reed, the man who commended himself to Chads by his

SUPERB PHYSICAL COURAGE, had been, it appears, a gunner on board of the Constitution during the fight with the Java. Some years after he turned up in the East Indies where Chads was then stationed in command of a British frigate, the Andromache. How Reed came to be on board the Andromache is not exactly plain, but that he must have signalized himself in some way is evident, for when Chads was designated by the Indian Government to take charge of an expedition against the swarms of Malay pirates who at using my arms to lift and hold myself | that time infested the Straits of Malacca and the adjacent waters, Reed held the rank of bo'sun's mate; and was one of Chad's crew. The Straits at that time swarmed was safe, and attacks upon and lootin two if we fell. I remember that I ing of small trading settlements on the and all legislation regarding the Straits Bengal Government, at that time notoriously and shamefully inefficient; consequently piracy had practically a free hand. When Chads arrived at 250 feet, roared the river, and over it | Penang he laid his plans, which necessarily consisted in the main of boat

We afterward found out that it was manned and armed. Red was chief gun-CARRIED ACROSS NIAGARA We afterward found out that it was manned and armed. Red was chief gundered on the pinnace, which carried a done intentionally, and the rope was 12 nound connected. Withing carried a his first expedition, an a second, much HAND-TO-HAND FIGHTS of the most desperate lind the American sailor earned Chal's eulogium. The pinnace had separated from the cutters and the jollybat and entered a small creek which proved to have no outlet save the one by which the pinnace entered. A short way up stream, round a bend, two larg proas were enuted the pinnace. The first discharge knocked Reed's cap of; but although the two proas swept directly toward the pinnace with the intention of boarding, "It was not, however, until we land- around and the pinnae crashed into ed that I appreciated what had been her, cutting her clear in two amid-

CRUEL AND DESPERATE. Reed heard the sailor's yell, and in two steps was over after the pair, O'-Callaghan's account is as follows:

"The three were separate on reaching the surface, and the Malay made for the man he had dragged over. But Reed was close by, with no weapon but his clasp knife, which was as yet unopened. Raising hinself in the water, Reed dealt the savage a blow with his fist that turned the man over. Following up his advantage, he grappled him around the body with his left arm, pinioning the Malay's right arm and kriss, and got a death hold on the throat with the right hand. Then ensued a short but awful struggle, during which the Malay was slowly but surely choked to death. It was a strange combat, but thrilling beyond words. It savage desperation, and the Malay went under." The scene when Reed got back to Exploits of a Wandering American Seaman | the vessel was enthusiastic enough. Reed's name was slated for special men-Officer - Hand-to-Hand Fights with tion in the despatch sent to Calcutta announcing the first encounter with the pirates, and a purse was given him by Sir Henry Chads, a well-known Eng- the Deputy Commissioner accompanying the force. From this onward through the four months that the expedition lasted Reed's name occurs constantly in Chads's and O'Callaghan's a boat expedition, and being forced to land in pursuit of the panleemahs or Captain of the piratical craft, he is reported to have captured one of them alive in a hand-to-hand fight. When asked why he risked his life in endeavoring to take the desperado alive inpieces. Blondin joined them with a courage and bravery, holding that one stead of cutting him down his answer

I saw the fellow stuffing a lot of things into his loin cloth as we boarded the third proa, and I noticed the

A BROAD GOLD BANGLE, and taking him to be a chief, I guessed he'd be more valuable alive than

To the credit of Reed's perspicacity it must be said that commissions from the Rajahs, of Rhio, Johore, and Salangore were found in the waistband of this chief, thus proving to the satisfaction of the Calcutta authorities that the native rajahs were accessories before the deed of all the piratical acts that had for years made trading along the Singapore coast a hazardous occupation.

The last thing that can be learned of Reed is that on the pay-off and discharge of the Andromache's crew he wandered northwest. Chads would have taken him home as body servant, but, apparently, such a life was too mild for his spirit. What became of him, where he laid his bones, or what fresh deeds of valor fell to his lot before joining his fellow Berperkers in Valhalla cannot be recorded, but if ever a fair share of fighting, and magnificent fighting at that, fell to one man's lot, it fell to the share of the unknown

FROM THE FIRST.

The French-Canadian in Quebec finds matrimony expensive at the very beginning, whatever it may be afterward. On the evening of the wedding day there is a supper and a dance at the bride's new home. When the guests rise from the table the bride keeps her seat, and some one asks, with great dignity:

"Why does madam wait? Is she so soon in bad grace?

She replies: "Somebody has stolen my slipper; I cannot walk." They carry her, chair and all, into the middle of the room, while a loud knocking announces a grotesque, ragged vendor of boots and shoes. He kneels before the slipperless bride and tries on a long succession of old boots and shoes every variety and size, until at last he linus her missing shoe. The groom redeems it for a good price, which is spent in treating the company. All this is according to the regular programme. But if the groom be not watchful they steal the bride's hat and cloak, which he must redeem in the same way, and they have been known to steal the bride, for which there must be liberal pay. The church forbids round dances, so they content themselves with contra dances. The event of the evening is expeditions starting from a point on the the jig, in which a guest volunteers mainland called the Ding-dings. on this middle span some one on the The first-boat expedition was made up the visitor demands a prize from the

A REAL LIVE DOLL BABY.

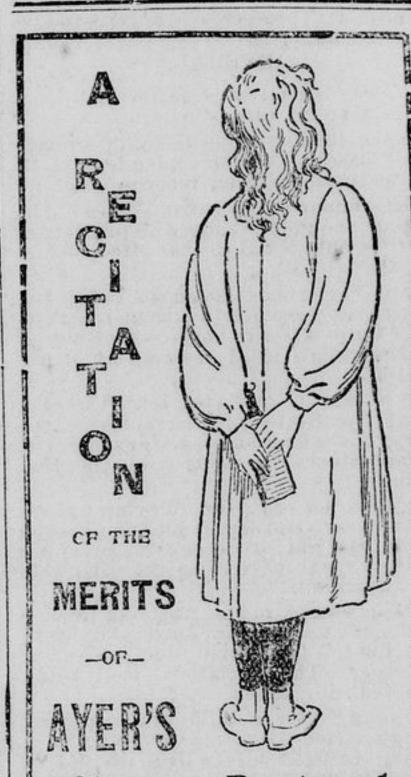

Wrapped Up in Flannels and with Clothing and All It Weighs Only 21 Pounds.

Kansas city has the honor of being the birth place of what is probably the smallest baby in the world. With all of its clothing on and wrapped in a thick flannel blanket it only weighs two and a half pounds. The child was born a week ago. The baby, small as it is, seems to be as healthy and welldeveloped as the noisiest of ten-pound affairs.

The infant is the daughter, of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Chandler. They have bowled Gore, in comnand, over and had several children and all have been of normal size except on one occasion, when Mrs. Chandler gave birth to triplets. They averaged a little over four pounds each. Neither Mr. nor Mrs. Chandler can understand why it is that ed from eight to ten pounds. It is a mystery which neither will attempt to

There was consternation in the Chandler household on the night when Dr. B. F. O'Daniel brought this tiny young Just then a fresh danger threatened, lady into the world. It was so puny "You see, many thousands of dol- for the second proa passed so close that that he did not think such an insiglars were bet upon the ability of Blon- at least twenty Malays were able to nificant bit of flesh and blood could short and sharp. O'Ca'laghan, a mid- The baby, in a weak, plaintive voice, "Then came the congratulations and dy, second in command reported afterpraises of pluck and the rest of it, so ward that Reed had saved his life by was taken of it accordingly. It was him while himself hotly engaged with now it receives its mother's milk from "I shall never forget the wonderful a Malay. Evidently the American was a doll's play spoon, the mouth being tableau, which the 100,000 people pre- not satisfied with one antagonist. This so small that it cannot take nourishwould include the cure of every form of disease which affects the throat and lungs. Asthma, Croup, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough and other similar complaints have (when other medicines failed) yielded to Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Cherry Pectoral

Here in Ottawa

Irresistible Proof That There is a Cure for Diabetes.

The following sworn statement is the best proof that diabetes is not incurable, and that there is a remedy which will cure it. Ontario, County of Carleton, to wit:

I, Charles Moss, of the City of Ottawa, in the County of Carleton, Blacksmith, do hereby solemnly declare as follows:

1. I reside at 180 Bell Street, in the said City of Ottawa.

2. For the past fifteen years I have been a great sufferer from kidney disease; among the prominent symptoms of which were severe pains in my back, hot flashes extending from the base of the spine up between my shoulders, dizziness, headaches, etc. I was in a bad state generally and suffered great agony at times. The intense pain prevented my sleeping, and I seemed to get worse continually. The doctors tho were called in pronounced my disease diabetes, but their treatment did no good, and they held out but slight hope of my recovery. I was then so far gone with the disease that I could not turn in bed without help. My urine was of a dark wine color, and full of sediment. 3. I took all kinds of medicine, but without permanent relief.

4. Hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills I got a box at H. F. MacCarthy's drug store, but having been so often disappointed I had no faith in them. However, I started taking them, and they struck the right spot at once, and I commenced to get better. From that time on improvement was continuous until I am now. after five weeks use of Doan's Kidney Pills, entirely free from pain of any kind. The urine is natural, and I am now working right along every day in my shop.

5. It is a great source of pleasure for me to testify to the world of the curative powers of Doan's Kidney Pills, and I make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing it to be true, and knowing that it is of the same force and effect as if made under oath and by virtue of the Canada Evidence Act.

CHARLES MOSS. Declared before me at the City of Ottawa, in the County of Carleton, this 4th day of April, JOHN E. O'MEARA.

The D. & L. Emulsion

Is invaluable, if you are run down, as it is a food as well as ta medicine.

The D. & L. Emulsion Will build you up if your general health is impaired. The D. & L. Emulsion

Is the best and most palatable preparation of Cod Liver Oil, agreeing with the most deli-The D. & L. Emulsion Is prescribed by the leading physicians of

The D. & L. Emulsion Is a marvellous flesh producer and will give you an appetite. 50c. & $1 per Bottle Be sure you get | DAVIS & LAWRENCE CO., LTD.

Do without Implements, because they can't sow or reap profitably without them. But when they buy, they naturally want to do so as cheaply as possible. This is why so many deal with us, for we buy for each and sell at a modest profit. We keep in stock in our Big Warerooms in Upper Town, all kinds of Farm Implements, including the makes of

FROST & WOOD. WILKINSON. MAXWELL,

> and other well-known manufacturers.

ALSO

Buggies, Road Carts, Waggons, Stoves, and Musical nstruments

All kinds of Repairs kept on hand

BE SURE AND CALL.

IMPLEMENT AGENT,

DURHAM

UPPER TOWN,

Robe Tanning.

Herse Rices, Cow Hides, Dog

SKINS, Etc., Tanned Suitable for ROBES and COATS by the new process, which for Finish and Softness can't be beat.

THOS. SMITH.

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED -

N. B .- To ensure a first-class job the hides must be salted as soon as taken

EDGE PROPERTY FOR SALE IN THE TOWN OF DURHAM.

County of Grey, including a valuable W Power, Brick dwelling, and many elegible building lots, will be sold in one or more lots. Also lot No. 60, Con. 2, W. G. R., Township of Bentinck, 100 acres, adjoining Town plot, Mortgages taken for part purchase money Apply to JAMES EDGE, Oct. 2nd. Edge Hill, P.O.

A. GORDON

Dealers in Watches, Clocks, Jewelry and Spectacles, Silver and Flat Ware of all descriptions. Repairing a specialty. Upper Town, Durham.

The "Chronicle" is the only 12-Page Local Newspaper in A Commissioner, etc. | Western Ontario.

NOTES AND COMMEN If Herod had been also a more tistician with a trust in census he would have set up school h a less offensive method of carr his deadly purpose. A Germa of figures, an abstract of wh lugubrious essay has been without dissent or criticism i ing medical journal, maintain ucation is a cause of early d emn comments have been ma discovery and much sympat, for future generations that n deliberate choice between ap norance and fatal education.

Rousseau declared against ization. "Revert," he exclai fect, "to the natural state of abandon all the conditions tion and throw off its repr and manners; go back to the the savage state and retrieve that belongs to the natural conclusion of the German is virtually the same, his so. being the census report. what all students of longe ably discover, that in country civilized, where education there are fewer extremely reported in the census th tries where there is wides ance among the people. I England and Germany wit population of 78,000,000, centenarians, according t returns, while the countri kan Peninsula, with a pop ly 10,000,000 have 5542 cent same relation is found tween the enlightened 3 ant nations of all Europe also, the pauper class is an extraordinary number ally old people. The reasonable infere from such statistics is t tion, especially education long living, but that are more accurate and to their statements of are not so well infor concerning themselves are tempted to exagg There is the same cau ing remarkably old a ably anything else, personal advantage o self-indulgence. Pro er writers on this : ed that the chances strongly in favor of able circumstances ments of paupers untrustworthy: Obs ago to distrust ce are based solely the persons quest taker makes no el formation he obta that the census proof of the great ed people is sus compiled to shov tion on longevi persons, always

> That excessive hours of sta school, that the to be inseparal civilized people diminish the great age, it There is reaso the pressure ous than it is be. Yet taki ments into a tation to ove of social den of the high ditions of ilized coun long life th ignorance where the

of life.

A few votte wer Berlin co ing take Somehow in soci waltzing ed danc fashione the act of the of thou great-p people was s of a fi > ed there. It is late Kaiserin jected to walt; court of Berlin that a kind of Berlin-a two-t to the music o all resembling waltz. In Me never danced a son for this b the Grand Duc where at Germ was looked do Good style dep fashion, and so pronounced as danced at the winter. Both daughter are her Majesty h is to be dan balls now, as