WINNING HER WAY sie. The latter he handed a white, paper parcel. "The only one that was in blossom in the conservatory," said he.

CHAPTER IX.

Two weeks bad flown when one morning Augt Latt descended the stairs hastily, and asked for Moritz.

"He is with mistress," said the servant; the old lady passed through the blue drawing-room and stopping at the boudeir door she asked: "Am I disturbing you, children?"

"Come in, Aunt Lott," cried Moritz. Frieda sat at her writing desk.

"One moment, aunt," said she rereading a letter written upon a dainty she, tearfully. crested sheet of paper. The contents ran as follows:

"My Dearest Lili:—Only a few words children to cipher," was the answer the spring!" said Aunt Lott. in haste that you may be au fait with given in a low voice. only ball-dress for Berlin, as we shall "I hope to see you this evening at tea," continued Frau von Ratenow, we are, Hegebach! You are still a to doubt be much together. I have tea," continued Frau von Ratenow. "Aunt Lott, pray be punctual. Herr ordered at Gerson's a white satin cos- von Hegebach is coming." tume trimmed with silver embroidery; the bodice of drap d'argent, and I Frieda, rising. "Formerly he never shall wear my diamonds with it instead

"Mamma and Moritz insist that Elsie, who at present is pining, on account of Lieutenant Bernardi, go with invited to tea at Frau von Z-'s." beth-worship" and shall tell Moritz what I think of it.

into your house a young girl, who has awhile if you like." so-called equal rights with the family; ma always is!" complained Frieds. "Is he in it is more than unpleasant, especially "Anyone would say that I was right muttered those words more softly, and his dark eves gazed into hers with an word, a party sop. At least half of the cross, these having been offered to him by the Crown as a reward for adding father and knight, as Moritz does. My I am the last one to be exacting. I patience will not last much longer. Re- I think the girls are learning whe

"Your sister, Frieda." "N.B. Hegebach comes remarkably "I do not believe Elsie wanted to ac often now; I do not trust my mother- cept the position at first," thus the anx in-law on that point—she says it is on lous old lady defended her protege. account of Elsie's father. There is an lamentations. Frieda was so terribly old proverb, which, however, I will not injured in all her rights.

"Now, aunt, what is it?" she asked, the table did not utter a word! after she had addressed and sealed the All at once the storm which had been threatening so long, gathered on Morenvelope. She stepped to a magnificent itz's sky! A sultry, atmosphere per and began to look over her finery.

She wore a light-blue dressing-gown not notice it; she had one of the chill's and upon her luxuriant dark tresses kept busy answering their questions. was perched a lace rosette with a blue Yes, indeed, the girl looked miserable turning to Moritz, who sat motionless tion: Why should it have been I? That at the fire-place in a gray pilot-coat was caused by sleepless nights and the Toplitz.

Cairo for one costly dagger would have cretion. 2. To advise for the Queen's honour, and good of the public without just west of the new house. The storm blew the barn, family and house across at the fire-place in a gray pilot-coat was caused by sleepless nights and the and high boots, just as he had come in yearning for the golden days which.

Bitter, disagreeable thoughts filled partiality. 3. To keep the Queen's blew the barn, family and house across the prairie. All were carried over fifty from the fields, "Oh, heavens, Moritz, pariah among the others: comfortless to that time, she had believed—love, faith, honor, were all as nothing. The to help and strengthen the executive she was faith, honor, were all as nothing. The ed Frieda. "Elsie seems to be very could not, however, cradle itself in the those eyes were so peculiar. content. That she is somewhat timid sleep of oblivion—that required long "Remain, Elsie," said Frau von Rate-

Add

July

the children's noise all day. I know "Thank you very much, Herr von that nerves are fashionable. I will Hegebach!" She puts the rose in a vase make you a proposition: Send the girl and busied herself about the tea-table. "Nothing new, dear Hegebach?" asklightfully quiet, my daughter, and you ed Frau von Ratenow. Then the con-ing position, but she did not reply. "Elsie von Hegebach shall be my com- those of olden days. panion, dear child," said Frau von Ratenow, raising her voice, "and such, I shall protect her against indignity, Frieda."

Frieda turned pale. "I did not mean it that way,"

"The third time in two weeks," said came, or rather he came very seldom.' of flowers. I think it will look very cate wife, and lately he has been in deep mourning. Shall I have the pleasur of seeing you this evening?" she aske

"I am very sorry, mamma, but we ar "Elsie, too?" "She was invited, but she declined.

The old lady nodded pleasantly to he "I implore you, Lili, never to take sweet child; send the little ones to m member me to our parents. Auf. Wie- Moritz comes and says: "Elsie, we ar going to the subscription ball at Ber lin. Mother will give you a dress.'

She even kept her promise and at prece of furniture, opened her drawers vaded the house, notwithstanding the clear mosty air without. Elsie did

"Oh, heavens"! began Aunt Lott, wounded heart, with the mute ques tion: Why should it have been 1? Tha Cairo for one costly dagger would have cretion. 2. To advise for the Queen's just west of the new house. The storm and she was very quiet, that was caused have obtained relief from his sufferings. Support that his consisting of the Ionowing seven are by the constant struggling of a proud. The sum that his consist had been accordanced by the constant struggling of a proud. The sum that his consist had been accordanced by the constant struggling of a proud. The sum that his consist had been accordanced by the constant struggling of a proud. The sum that his consist had been accordanced by the constant struggling of a proud. The sum that his consist had been accordanced by the constant struggling of a proud. The sum that his consist had been accordanced by the constant struggling of a proud that his consist had been accordanced by the constant struggling of a proud that his consist had been accordanced by the constant struggling of a proud that his consist had been accordanced by the constant struggling of a proud that his consist had been accordanced by the constant struggling of a proud that his consist had been accordanced by the constant struggling of a proud that his consist had been accordanced by the constant struggling of a proud that his consist had been accordanced by the constant struggling of a proud that his consist had been accordanced by the constant struggling of a proud that his consist had been accordanced by the constant struggling of a proud that his consist had been accordanced by the constant struggling of a proud that his consist had been accordanced by the constant struggling of a proud that his consist had been accordanced by the constant struggling of a proud that his consist had been accordanced by the constant struggling of the nothing, she does not murmur, but poor! She could not even weep. There only thing which engendered happition of what shall be resolved. 6. To were carried a quarter of a mile.

After striking the Peter Har she is growing so thin; will you not living. Hundreds and hundreds took "To a speedy future friendship, coussend the doctor up when he comes? I what Fate decreed them, and were conin," Hegebach raised his glass. Elsie "Is that farce not ended yet " ask- ful bruised heart, thirsting for love, cheeks; she was vexed with herself, but all passed along a road of nettles and "Look me in the face," said he grave- ought to do to his sovereign lady.

now's room was the coziest in the house at Bennewitz at Bennewitz was the only form of Parliament, its that she had to be killed. A cow that April Lott glanced in terror at Morphany were almost repulsive to Elsie. Since her father had addressed his first "That is well. But why are you so— at the head of the entire educational apron. The owner of Bennewitz was right, aunt," replied Elsie, looking full in the old lady's face. "I bear him no cil and a committee of its members are found open and lying beside it was a streward at the head of the entire educational strength and the head of the entire educational strength. Thus, the Lord President of the Countries of the head of the entire educational strength. The strength apron. The owner of Bennewitz was right, aunt," replied Elsie, looking full in the old lady's face. "I bear him no cil and a committee of its members are found open and lying beside it was a strength. The strength apron. The owner of Bennewitz was right, aunt, "replied Elsie, looking full in the old lady's face." Thus, the Lord President of the Countries of the countrie apron. The owner of Bennewitz was right, aunt," reptied Elsie, looking full Thus, the Lord President of the Counting the old lady's face. "I bear him no cil and a committee of its members are found open and lying beside it was a found open and lying beside it was a

"If you insist that Elsie is to go with obtained one glimpse of the bitterness us. I shall remain at home with my of his soul and no word was too harsh, no mood too glomy, the drss of sorrow possible that aunt had intended to say possible that aunt had intended to say the Home Department."

THEIR UNIFORM AND RANK.

THEIR UNIFORM AND RANK. he replied calmly; "she wanted Elsie only person upon whom she had a laughed almost contemptuously. She claim, a sacred claim. Meetings with paused at the mirror and gazed at her lighthouse, ecclesiastical and charitable large and granary two miles east of Lyle. From there on the storm seems "I cannot go, then, on account of the the owner of Bennewitz were, there-pale face. Certainly it was absurd; affairs of the State are subject to the painting of the State are subject to the painting of the State are subject to the painting of the Prive Council, the meetings of the prive Council.

Frieda did not reply, but slowly clos- down the newspaper, "you may read onable child."

She suddenly started up, the blue A carriage rattled through the court and drew up at the door; steps were conflatence on Ratenow crossed the threshold.

"Well Frieda, Moritz tells me that "Good evening my days Heashold."

"You are not well, Elsie!"

"No. I think I am going to be ill, beard in the hall and Frau von Ratenow rossed the threshold."

"Poor child! That is caused by "The Summer Girl—Oh! I love nature so.!

The Summer Girl—Oh! I love nature was to strengthen the bonds of union. The Farmer—Well, Miss, things is jest as nacheral around here as they are anywhere. curtains were thrust aside and Frau von Raterov crossed the threshold.

"Well. Frieda stammered some exclaimed, shoking hands with him ing to help us three solitary women thing about a headache.

"I am not grieving, aunt."

"I am not grieving, aunt."

"I am not grieving, aunt."

"I know, child, you fancy you are gown about a headache.

"I' though any a few hours."

"I' away a few hours."

"I' know, child, you fancy you are when the doctor comes to-morrow he gallantly kissed her extended sleep. I have been overwhelmed with so many thave been overwhelmed with so many and howe deen the words. In the Baltin cless then in any other place in the worlds. I' how conditions, being accorded just as world. The average throughent the worlds. The average throughent the worlds. The average throughent the world. The average throughent the conservatory," said he. It was a fine Marechal Neil.

need not worry about a governess any versational ball was set rolling. They both were familiar with the entire sur-Frieda rose quickly from her reclin- rounding country and its inhabitants; THE HONOR CONFERRED BECAUSE OF from those of that day, they turned to

"Pardon me, Hegebach, I am ten as years older than you-just the same all age as your cousin; I know that positively." "You are mistaken, madame," said said Hegebach calmly, "you are at the most eight years older than I; when I mar-"Where is Elsie?" asked her mother- ried I was thirty-six, and eighteen

> "Well there are older folks than young man," said Frau von Ratenow. Aunt Lott glanced at him; he was Colonial Films blinisters at the blank would have involved the creation of new peerages each time there was a change of Premiers in any colonial films are constant. many years his senior.

> stories of long ago? They lay so far knighthood, baronetcy, or even peerage. Prime Ministers a member of her own have sought her own little room, to tion, nor does it entitle its holder to prestige superior to any place in either have seated herself at the window, to coronets or to any other increase of House of Parliament. so difficult not to yield to sad, longing adornment to the coat of arms. But, on over night," said she abruptly. Frau von Ratenow's face darkened. that tea is served?"

carpet noiselessly, and disappeared in the adjoining room. Herr von Hegebach's eyes followed her; he slowly stroked his dark beard. Frau von Ratenow changed the subject; she evidently wished to blot out the remembrance of that rude reply.

was again flowing freely. company; he had traveled extensively considered on that ground worthy of Minn., district a week or so ago, and and he was acquainted with a host of people of note. He was a man who forming part of the particular coundid $30,000 damage was one of the most knew life, who knew it from its best cil of the sovereign. side. And over there in that gloomy A Privy Councillor is bound to the house sat a miserable old man, who had not once had money sufficient to pay monarch by a special oath of office, capes, among them were those of the not once had money sufficient to pay his fare to a resort at which he might consisting of the following seven arbiding a house and with his ticles. 1 To advice the Queen accord-claim, a sacred claim. Meetings with paused at the mirror and gazed at her lighthouse, ecclesiastical and charitable type. Date there, half face. Certainly it was absord affairs of the State are subject to baye broken and simply blown as a gan once more: "do not let Elsie sus" how you have retained your sight so lather was courting her. You look pect why this arrangement was made, well with your everlasting reading. It so much like her, Elsie, and Hegebach wears a very smart diplomatic uniform "And what is that?" said the professor kindly.

"For God's sake, Frieda, what ails ing dear aunt, that Moritz and Frieda were not dissatisfied with my effiand my hair is gray. How vividly the same of the Privy Council and the who lives by de sword and my hair is gray. How vividly the same of the realm, and before the Barley Bilcook—Wotter yer not dissatisfied. "If I only had the comfort of know ing dear aunt, that Moritz and Frieda "only Ratenow has grown much stouter ranks fourth among the great dig-dis by it is too true—too true! were not dissatisfied with my effiedge ciency."

"only Ratenow has grown much stouter ranks fourth among the great digand my hair is gray. How vividly the nitaries of the realm, and before the Barley Bilcook—Wotter yer mean?

Prime Minister, the first after the Erring Eaton—Dat we wuz brough my room at night? I hear every leaf full-fledged ambassadors extraordiant of some independent monarchical grant power.

(To Be Continued.)

COUNCILLORSHIP

SERVICE RENDERED.

Dignity of the Office-Its Origin and Functions-Canada Represented in England's Final Court.

Marquise de Fontenoy writes in the Chicago Record this interesting description of the English Privy Council, especially interesting now that Canada has membership in it:

paid by Queen Victoria to all of those was likewise injudicious to confer upon oung man," said Frau von Ratenow.
Aunt Lott glanced at him; he was be Inhiles in making them members of the of new peerages each time them. still young? It was a long time since Privy Council, it is necessary to explain a change of Premiers in any colonial many years his senior.

Elsie sat by silently, her thoughts jects the dignity of a Privy Councillorwandered. What cared she for those ship appears superior to any order of onies, made each one of the colonial or of the c the other hand, it is far more rarely the Privy Council, were the late Sir "How is your father?" Hegebach ask-conferred than a mere order or title. John A. Macdonald, for so many years "Thank you, he is tolerably well," The latter is generally a reward for the Prime Minister of the Dominion of political service, a return for contrihaving chosen this honour in prefer-"Papa does not change his opinion by huge subscriptions to either the Conreign have been practically purchased British Empire. "Elsie," said she, "will you please see among the most notable cases being in London, a fact which is likely considerably to enhance the relative of London. those of Lords Wandsworth, Brassey, siderably to enhance the value of poli-

OATH OF A COUNCILLOR.

But a Privy Councillorship is only conferred either upon a Cabinet Min-When Elsie reappeared, conversation rendered conspicuous service either to ister, or upon some person, who, having Opened a Pocketbook, Uncoupled Cars and Herr von Hegebach was excellent the Crown or to the nation at large, is

ORIGIN AND FUNCTIONS.

"Yes, she has wonderful self-control, a fire glowed in the stove, the heavy ing her head, "but—"

ing her head, "but—"

ing in folds upon the thick, soft carnet of ten.

ing in folds upon the thick, soft carnet of ten.

ing in folds upon the thick, soft carnet of ten.

ing in folds upon the thick soft carnet of ten.

ing in folds upon the thick soft carnet of ten.

ing in folds upon the thick soft carnet of ten.

ing in folds upon the thick soft carnet of ten.

ing in folds upon the thick soft carnet of ten.

ing in folds upon the thick soft carnet of ten.

ing in folds upon the thick soft carnet of ten.

ing in folds upon the thick soft carnet of ten.

ing in folds upon the thick soft carnet of ten.

ing in folds upon the thick soft carnet of ten.

ing in folds upon the thick soft carnet of ten.

ing in folds upon the thick soft carnet of ten.

ing in folds upon the thick soft carnet of ten. Frieda," said the old lady gravery, snak ing her head, "but—"

"Well, you all de everything in order to console her," continued Frieda angelight played on the snow, with the damp-light played on the snow, what to say to Elsie, who was bending annot even speak as I will and how I will, and very soon at meals I shall a dark house-dress and an embroidered will, and very soon at meals I shall a dark house-dress and an embroidered will and how I will, and very soon at meals I shall a dark house-dress and an embroidered will and how I will, and very soon at meals I shall a dark house-dress and an embroidered will and how I will, and very soon at meals I shall a dark house-dress and an embroidered will and how I will, and very soon at meals I shall a dark house-dress and an embroidered will and how I will, and very soon at meals I shall a dark house-dress and an embroidered will and how I will and very soon at meals I shall a dark house-dress and an embroidered will and how I will and very soon at meals I shall a dark house-dress and an embroidered will and how I will and very soon at meals I shall a dark house-dress and an embroidered will and how I will and very soon at meals I shall a dark house-dress and an embroidered will and how I will and very soon at meals I shall a dark house-dress and an embroidered will and the latter will and the scuesed herself on the stroke of ten.

"I know that Herr von Hegebach is Privy Council begins."

Lott had excused herself on the stroke of ten.

Frau von Ratenow was vexed, yet to constitution of Parliament in its present form the duties and prerogatives of the Council have become much modified. But it would a gruuge on a dark house-dress and an embroidered of the latter will be comment in its present form the duties and prerogatives of the Council have become much modified. But it would a gruuge on a dark house-dress and an embroider with the constitution of Parliament in its present form the duties and prerogatives of the Council have become much modified. But it would a gruuge itz who leaned back in his chair so inSince her father had addressed his first

"That is well. But why are you so—abrupt with him?"

cil and a committee of its members are at the head of the entire educational system of the empire. all matters per away. "You see, aunt, Frieda knows that pathy was all his. She knew that he he had said he was doing it for her sake trolled by this committee. It is also freight cars into two divisions, send-trolled by this committee. It is also freight cars into two divisions, send-trolled by this committee. It is also freight cars into two divisions, send-trolled by this committee. it is becoming for her to pout a little. Was not treating his cousin justly, but he had said he was doing it for her sake and that exalted his caprices, his obstin hands.

The pour pardon, aunc, she stamble troiled by this committee. It is also a committee of the Privy Council that three up; while it broke the coupling After that one outburst he remained from other girls—but good night, nel Islands, those of the Isle of Man, nel Islands, those of the Isle of Man, belonging to the at-Ahildren," persisted his wife. "I do during his visits to the castle, he had folly. No, aunt had not meant any—which are usually held at Windsor or thing; it was simply her way of speak—at Osborne, in the presence of the fore, painful to her; it was true that only an excited fancy could sugest such the Privy Council, the meetings of heavy wind, having lost its rotation. not see what I have a governess for never up to that time mentioned her thing; it was simply her way of speakat Osborne, in the presence of the sovereign, whose commands, when is-"Up to this time, nurse has always Ratenow thought of him, and it griev seemed to fear her own thoughts and cil," have in a number of cases the entered the old lady's room. what he thought of him and what Aunt "Aunt Lott!" cried she softly. She sued in the form known as "in country thought of him and it was thought of him and it was thought of him and it was thought and cil." have in a number of cases the been sufficient. But, please yoursell, ed her deeply.

Frieda; I have never quarelled with Bernardi's name never passed the old

"What is it, my pet?" asked the latyou know. This is the last day that for all—the least said about it, the same value in the eyes of the tribunals of the land as statutes duly enacted by the National Parliament.

"I am afraid, auntie."

Privy Councillors have the right of

Privy Councillors have the right of

ed one drawer after the other.

"I only ask one favor. Frieda," he begrowing worse. I do not let Elsie sushow you have retained your sight so much like her, Elsie, and Hegebach wears a very smart diplomatic uniform when your sight is of much like her, Elsie, and Hegebach wears a very smart diplomatic uniform "And what is that?" said the profes-The rest will be arranged."

He rose took his cap and riding-whip acceded to my request and relieved you hands and burst into tears.

"Oh dear! Aunt Lott. I am very mis-"

"Oh dear! Aunt Lott. I am very mis-"

"That was twenty works are the same and in the service of the charge of the children. I paper nor to write a letter."

"That was twenty works are the same and has a right ex-officio to serve as majorist contracted her throat.

"That was twenty works are and the profession of land.

"That was twenty works are and the profession of land.

"That was twenty works are and the profession of land.

"That was twenty works are and the profession of land.

"That was twenty works are and the profession of land.

"That was twenty works are and the profession of land.

"That was twenty works are and the profession of land.

"That was twenty works are and the profession of land.

"That was twenty works are and the profession of land.

"That was twenty works are and the profession of land.

"That was twenty works are and the profession of land.

"That was twenty works are and the profession of land.

"That was twenty works are and the profession of land.

"That was twenty works are and the profession of land.

"That was twenty works are and the profession of land.

"That was twenty works are and the profession of land.

"That was twenty works are and the profession of land.

"That was twenty works are and the profession of land.

"That was twenty works are and the profession of land.

"That was twenty works are and the profession of land.

"That was twenty works are and the profession of land.

"That was twenty works are and the profession of land.

"That was twenty works are and the profession of land.

"That was twenty works are and the profession of land.

"The grade of the chair and the profession of land.

"The grade of the chair and the profession of land.

"The grade of the chair and the profession of land.

"The grade of the chair and the profession of land.

"The grade of the chair and the profession of the cha

"He loves me no longer," sobbed the ciency."

and my hair is gray. How vividly the chair; "I know it only too well, he when they want compliments pai thus, and once, I remember, she said bishop of Canterbury, the second the tle, an' frum kidhood to der present. ehair; "I know it only too well, he when they want compliments pai chem," returned the old lady. "No, no them," returned the old lady. "No, no them, and once, I remember, she said bishop of Canterbury, the second the them," Lord High Chancellor, the third the date we've been brought down by one. "Lord, you are not jear—" The word I asked moritz to do it. What terrible and not pass her lips.

"And now he is going to mamma not see well! There, however, comes the bedside and trembled nervously.

"Aunt, please, I am afraid!" Elsie's Archbishop of Tork, and the fourth the bedside and trembled nervously.

"You are not year—" The word I asked moritz to do it. What terrible things are liable to happen if one canslender, girlish form pressed closer to the Lord President of the Council.

"You are not well Elsie!"

"You are not well Elsie!"

TO STRENGTHEN THE BONDS.

Officers-in-waiting, roya! carriage and royal servants were placed at their disposal, and they were concelled front rank after royalty at all tale

Encouraged to give expression to give and all gave to their wishes, they one and all gave at their wishes, they one and an gave at terance to the desire on the part of their respective colonies that the late ter should in some way or other be the standard of the late represented in what might be describ ed as the governing councils of the ed as the governing councils of the entire empire. This, they declared, would be the first and principal step toward federation, and would encour. age them to do their share toward maintaining the defences of the empire and toward the defraying of what may be described as Imperial expenses.

THE DISTINGUISHED HONOR

Now, it was out of the question to accord to them a seat in the Lower House of Parliament without the com-In order to appreciate the compliment | plete reconstruction of the latter. It

Until now the only Colonial states. by the Crown as a reward for adding so immense a piece of Africa to the But henceforth it is understood that

Iveagh, Burton, Hindlip, Wimborne, tical honours in the dependencies of

FREAKS OF A TORNADO.

Scooped Up Cattle.

freakish on record.

After striking the Peter Hanson contrary. 7. To observe, keep and do house the storm dodged around Dr. all that a good and true councillor Frazier's residence, breaking a few windows there and totally demolished the new house of Charles Christianson. In the evening old Frau von Ratenow's room was the correct in the Rateise that the ladies would soon visit him.

Britain. In the old Norman days it a hundred feet and so badly injured The Privy Council is the most ancient across the prairie in small pieces. A have broken and simply blown as a

"I am afraid, auntie."

Aunt Lott, fully aroused, sat up in prefixing the words "right honour- able." to their names and of the land as statutes duly enacted by the National Parliament.

Privy Councillors have the right of able." to their names and of the land as statutes duly enacted by the National Parliament.

gave a lecture upon the locomotive, and was particularly struck by the absorption of one invented b ing back her spectacles and putting down the newspaper, "you may read that aloud to me; my area we always sat just that way in Consin ters, after presentation, to all State stand all about the locomotive now?"

AGRICUL

BUTTER MAKING

As a matter of cou

keeps cows for the p batter, is desirous of cle that will bring to sible, and of making ount of butter possib produced, writes C. P. the milk is delivered is usually manufactu have been well inst of butter making, a that, as a rule, a fa made. Besides this, equipped with applia its butter maker to all the butter conta and by his knowleds eral butter market to produce an artic sold. But the case those who make but by far the greater in this country is ma farms excellent we choice article is ma fancy price, yet th correct methods of of the demands of many instances, th slovenly habits, the made butter fails should, entailing a of the country wh the aggregate. It the latter class tha ten, with the hope tions may be given vanced, which will methods of the da his profits. Good Milk .- To a must have good a only from health;

sweet pasture, or

and other forage

water to drink an

Certain obnoxious

onions, rag-weed

milk and the butt cidedly bad flavor ed, rotten silage, hay and musty, pure water has health of the ani ity of the milk. seen small pools stand during the rid themselves o these becomes fil red up by the me and where, as it the only water o compelled to drin ally avoided by keeping the catt is needed for the out by a pipe, I into a trough fr ventilated stable drink. In a clos little air space fa becomes foul fro affects the milk of the animals. case is to provi stock and better ble should be ke and the cows v The utmost cle served in milking brushed from th to milk, and it udder and flan prevent the du falling into the be strained imp and not allowe stable any lon pensable, and o ter than one of should always seams should that there will to lodge where remove. They, dairy utensils, scalded with t They should th and, if possible will not need ing, as the hea will cause the washing them. it will cook th make it difficu the butter bot and any other should be firs then scalded steam. They > mothers, was pans with the or three incl this has been stages of dair to set our m tin pans on s ranged so tha ter flowed ar milk cool. 2 nans were us to/hold a six herd of twen der these pa through wh water was r water to re will not do to

to the sun, as

and cracking: Creaming th milk has been

tion is to sepa

body of the a ticed by our

the milk. 1 was used in Cooley cans, five years, t used. It is the old me good a qual can yet be i other metho Uniformly tained, for being sprea posed to th affected by fects often