HOW TO KEEP FOOD.
 Different kinds of food should be separated from each other. Potatoes and all root vegetables in a dry cellar. Berries may be kept for months in jars or jars, and covered with wax paper. Rice, hominy, farina, oatmeal like, are kept best in bags or in a cool, dry closet. Apples should be as far as possible separated from other food, and kept clean. Apples kept on a swinging shelf in a paper receptacle for eggs. Fruits are best kept in bags and upon a dry wall; but they may be well preserved, if properly packed in boxes. Apples and oranges keep longest if wrapped separately in tissue paper and spread out, so as not to touch in a cool, dry place. Cooked vegetables and the like should be covered if not kept in a cupboard.

DECESS WITH OLEANDERS.
 In blooming this old favorite is frequently from one or both causes. One of these is the lack of drainage of water during growth. The other consists in failure to afford light and warmth. It is this which causes the buds to refuse to develop, the partially-developed stage they so often stand for many days. Plenty of light, plenty of water, plenty of sunshine and plenty of warmth to make short-jointed, well-wooded for next season's work points which make for success.

GIGANTIC INVESTMENT.
 Probably the $300,000,000 to develop the Yukon Mines.
 The Yukon, though affording opportunities for individual success with comparatively small investments, the nature of the mining in the immense aggregate required for their development. Each man or party must shaft through frozen earth, considering the great disad-vantages of the work, the need of open air, and thawing the ground by stoves, brings the outlay up to that of quartz mining. Outdoor travel and shelter makes an additional to the initial outlay. Klondike mining, and the possibilities of individual success is an impending to augment the total. A close estimate by men in the average cost of transportation and maintenance the first season at about two dollars. If the family alone hundred and fifty thousand should try their fortunes on Klondike it will mean an investment of $100,000 in this new industry.

CROWDING THE MOURNERS.
 Mr. Konset—Don't you think husbands are terribly aggravating at times?
 Mrs. Konset—Oh, very; especially when they ask whom you think you would have married if you hadn't married them.

Prince Oscar of Sweden is Going to Africa to Try and Convert Heathen.
 The average Prince is usually a gay young blade, but Prince Oscar of Sweden is a rare exception. Not only has he devoted the greater part of his life to evangelical work, but it is now announced that, accompanied by his equally pious wife, he will invade the jungles of Africa and spread the Gospel among the benighted heathen.

Prince Oscar, although the second son of the King and Queen of Sweden, is not a Prince at all. He sacrificed his title when, in 1888, he married Miss Ebba Munck. Ebba Munck, who is of patrician birth, was chosen maid of honor to the Crown Princess, and, although three years older than Oscar, their meeting was almost a case of love at first sight. She was engaged to be married to Count Valdemar von Rosen, a young army officer, who was not altogether in sympathy with her religious views. She consequently released the Count, and Prince Oscar, a blonde giant, standing six feet and six inches in his stocking feet, began to pay her assiduous court. The King and Queen were strongly opposed to the match, and Miss Munck left the royal household, becoming a nurse in the Queen's Hospital.

Despite all opposition, the marriage took place, the Prince according to law, renouncing all the pomp which was his by right of birth. Since then Oscar and his wife have never been seen in royal circles. Within the last year they have associated themselves with the Salvation Army, and have been conducting open air meetings in the streets of Stockholm. And, now, according to recent cable despatches, this strange pair of religious enthusiasts purpose to go as missionaries to Africa.

HIGHEST COST OF A CABLEGRAM.
 Sixteen thousand dollars is the record price paid for a cablegram, that price having been paid for a message sent by Mr. Henniker Heaton to Australia in behalf of the British parliament. Reuter's account of the murderer Deeming's trial, 4,000 words, cost $8,000. An 1,800-word dispatch from London to Argentina cost $7,500. The most expensive private message so far is that sent by the King of Italy to the duke of Abruzzi at Rio Janeiro, informing him of the death of his father, the late Duke of Aosta, which cost $2,070.

 SWORN EVIDENCE:
 DOMINION OF CANADA. IN THE MATTER OF the "Amberine Hair Producer," Province of Ontario, manufactured by Messrs. Job Cook and Company, 58 Wellington Street, London, Canada.
 I, Henry Amor Plastow, of the City of London, in the County of Middlesex, Water Works Inspector:
 Do solemnly declare that I have used the "Amberine Hair Producer," manufactured by Messrs. Job Cook and Company, of No. 58 Wellington Street, in the City of London, since the 15th day of April, 1897. It has stopped the itching of the scalp, stopped the hair from falling out, removed the dandruff, and has brought out a thick crop of hair where my head was entirely bald before I commenced using their preparation.
 And I make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing it to be true and knowing that it is of the same force and effect as if made under oath and by virtue of "The Canada Evidence Act, 1888."
 Declared before me at the City of London in the County of Middlesex, this 11th day of October, A. D. 1897, all which I certify under my notarial seal.
