THE REWARD OF VALOR.

An Incident in the Life of Lord Charle Beresford.

Perhaps the most dramatic reward d Charles Beresford ever got for valor was a far years ago. One biter cold night, when his ship was off ... Faulkland islands, there was a cry of "man overboard," The sentry had disappeared beneath the floating ice. Though clad in heavy garments, Lord Charles instantly seized a coil of rope and leaped into the sea. "I went down and down," said Lord Charles when relating the incident, "until I began to think that the other end of the rope was not fastened to anything. At last I grasped my man, the rope became taut, and I began to ascend. The ship's corporal belped us both out." Fifteen years afterwards Lord Charles was speaking at a political meeting in support of Lord Folkestone's candidature. The hall was packed, and suddenly there was a scuffle at the back. "Chuck him out!" cried some one; but Lord Charles invited the man to come up to the platform and they would listen to the platform and to say The man to what he had to say The man be damining were the admissions to what he had to say The man Is Canada's Greatest Medicine. Child Was Not Well a Single Day for Three Years-A Father's Grateful Words for the Cure of His Daughter.

"My little girl, who is now seven. years old, we ghed only three pounds at the time of her birth. For three years and a quarter of her life she was not well a single day. I was persuaded to give her Hood's Sarsaparilla, and Thought I would give it a fair trial. the child began taking it according to directions. The result was a perfect cure and her health has been good ever since her recovery, due, we feel sure, to the good effects of this wonderful medicine. You do not know what a comfort it is to my wife and myself to have her restored to health. I believe the cure is permanent, and I shall always feel thankful for Hood's Sarsaparilla."
