> It Is a Disease of the Cities - There Must be More Fresh Air in the Workrooms and Homes Must be Established.

The annual report of the Ontario Provincial Board of Health, will shortly be issued. The principal feature of the report is Secretary Bryce's strong advocacy of county sanitariums for the treatment of consumption. He points out that smallpox has been stamped out of existence in Ontario. and typhoid cases reduced one-half, but tubercular affections are on the increase. There are two objects in view; an attempt at healing those who have contracted the dread disease, and an effort to save those who are in danger of contracting it.

THREE LINES OF ACTION.

There are but three plain lines of Aunt Maria-" Why, Johnny, what in action for us, says the report. 1, Fight the world are you thinking about?" by all our combined energy to prevent, legal enactment, every cause inducing to ill-health and thereby consumption. 2. In plainer words, there must be a union among the various benevolent societies, counties, and the Province of Ontario to have placed in every county a sanitarium.

"The work of fighting the great 'White Plague' holds the first place in the work of every sanitary and benevolent association whose operation is within the great industrial countries of Northern America and of Europe, where the ravages have been described from the earliest history till now," continues the report. FACTS ABOUT THE DISEASE.

In dealing with the disease itself Dr. Bryce arrives at these conclusions:-1. That the disease is rather one of the city than the country.

2. It is a disease directly associated with the density of population.

3. That it is a disease essentially of Wayworn Watson-"Here is one of houses, and naturally to particular

4. That in our older settled countries, as in the cities, the number of infected houses slowly increases.

5. That other cases are found in many instances to follow a first case in a house within a year or two.

6. That in the centre of the worst infected districts of large cities some houses will year after year continue free from the disease.
