Composition on Editors, by a Durham School Boy.

An editor is a man what edits a paper. Some editors use a pen to edit with, but some use a sissors. Lots of editors get news from scribes. Some editors are Parisees. Nearly all editors lie. An editor that can't lie aint no good for an editor. An editor should like gossip. Women would make good editors, but editors must keep secrets. An editor never has any money. Once an editor got ten cents and it made him crazy. An editor never expects pay for his paper. Lots of people never think of paying an editor. When an editor gets a free ticket he has to give a dollar's worth of free advertising in advance. Sometimes an editor gets wood, and some drink whisky. An editor that doesn't d ink whisky is a dry editor. Some that do are dry next day. Most people know how to edit papers better than editors do. If an editor asks for pay for his paper the fellow he asks is likely to get mad. It's cheaper to borrow from some one else. Some editors are not afraid of men. I once knew of a woman what frightened an editor and made him crawl under a table. This is all I know about editors.

The Roman Catholic picnic at Irish Lake will be held in Sullivan's Grove on Thursday, June 16th.
