MR. BRADLEY, of Toronto, organizer of the Ancient Order of United Workmen spent a week in town, and in company with Principal Allan did some healthy canvassing for the local society here. The result was the addition of nine new members initiated on Monday night last. Though Mr. Bradley intended to leave for Warton on Tuesday he remained over on the solicitation of the brethren and is conducting a vigorous canvass this week with a view to getting another batch through on Monday night next. The A. O. U. is one of the strongest and soundest benefit and fraternal societies on the Continent of America to-day, and thro' the charitable distribution of millions of dollars many widows and orphans have been relieved from distress when the cold hand of death had entered the household and carried off the chief bread winner.

IS IT A SILVER MINE?—A story is told of an Indian from Owen Sound, who many years ago, in Glenelg and while exploring the rocks in the neighborhood of Glenoraeden, struck upon what he believed to be a valuable vein of silver ore. Hiding his tools he left for home to ascertain the value of his discovery and prosecute further search. The specimen, it is said, was pronounced to be rich in silver, but before he could return the Indian took sick and died. Other Indians on different occasions endeavored to find the place where the valuable specimen was picked up, but were never able to discover more than the tools that were hidden by the sick man. Time passed on, but the circumstances were not forgotten. White men too examined the rocks, but unaided by the scientific knowledge necessary in such investigation they have been unsuccessful. Recently, however, the examination of a scientific expert, and his hasty departure with a promise to return again soon, has aroused suspicion that the Indian tale of the discovery has been more than a mere yarn. It is firmly believed by some that silver will be found there.

This Week

We received an advance lot of our Fall Clothing. This reminds us of the fact that the Clothing Business cannot be carried on in the Fall with light weight garments. It is always harder to sell old goods, no matter what values they may possess, than it is to dispose of New Fresh Clothing.

We had no old goods to dispose of this spring and we do not want to carry over any for next.

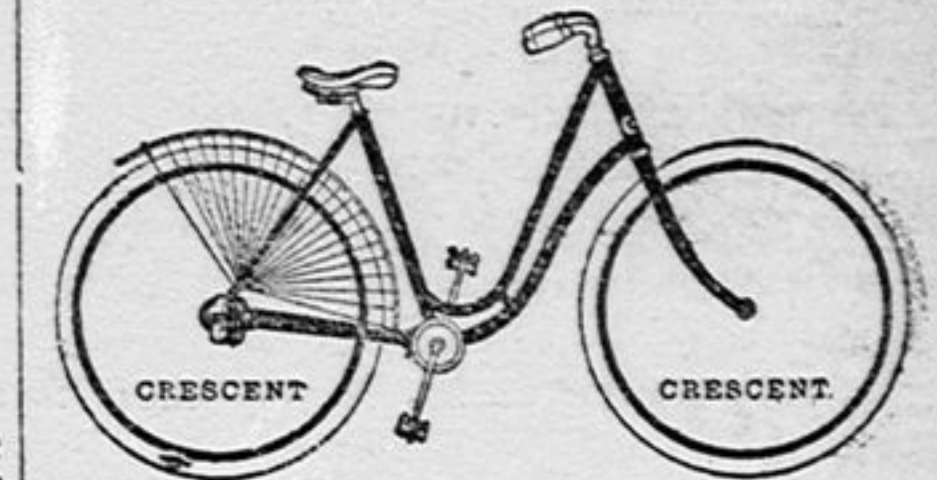

You can have your pick of any Summer Suit in the Shop at a Big Discount.
