THE CHRONICLE. DURHAM, Aug. 24th, 1899. PRICEVILLE.

WATERSVILLE.

On Friday night last a large number of Mr. Burn's congregation drove from here to the manse at Mulock and assembled to witness the exercises and give expression to their mingled feelings of joy and sorrow.

SACKETT'S CORNERS.

A good shower of rain would be welcomed at present as everything is parched, some wells having gone dry.

Morton's Eyewash For Sore Eyes in Cattle, ONLY AT PARKER'S Drug Store. Morton's Non-poisonous, Liquid Sheep Dip for killing Ticks, Lice and Insects on Cattle, Horses, Dogs and Pigs.

An Episode Surely the high-water mark of human affection is the love of an impetuous young man for a girl whom he has only known for a fortnight.

Harvest operations are now in full swing in this vicinity. Several nights' frost last week ripened up crops considerably faster than most people wanted and will have the effect of making grain much lighter than expected.

On Saturday last quite an exodus took place from here. All the teachers that have spent their holidays here seemed to choose that day for returning to their several schools.

Miss Edith James accompanied her sisters on a visit to friends in the vicinity of their schools.

Messrs. G. H. Waiter, Reggie Grier and Oscar Konold, all formerly of Priceville, took their departure last Monday morning from Plesher-ton Station, bound for the Manitoba harvest fields.

Mr. George Watson, harness maker here, has been making extensive repairs on his property having built a stone cellar and roughcast annex to the house and shop adjoining his present place of business.

Mr. Duncan McAulay has resumed his place in Brown's store after a month's holidays which he spent in the vicinity of Thessalon, Algoma District.

Miss Madge Cook, of Tara, is visiting her many relatives along the sixth.

Mr. R. L. Penfield has re-leased the flour mill and last week moved his family into the burg again.

Mrs. E. W. Hunt and Mrs. W. J. Edwards drove over Saturday to visit Paisley friends for a few days.

Three of the bright members of the Robson home take their departure this week for their spheres of work.

Mr. Cameron McIntosh spent the past week at Mr. John Greenwood's.

For the past six years we have spent many pleasant and profitable days together, but now we are at an end but we hope not forever, yet we are pleased to think that the wise counsel and moral influence directed towards us, will in future be appreciated by others and we trust they may duly appreciate your efforts and be influenced for good as they do not doubt will.

We feel that you as a pastor were not a mere tradesman but a real Bible instructor. During your labor amongst us we know that you were always going about doing good, unsparring in your energies and ever willing to sacrifice your time and your talents by driving through pleasant and unpleasant weather to proclaim the glad tidings of the gospel.

We have much pleasure in presenting to you this purse as a slight token of our esteem and appreciation when this life ends with each one of us may we again meet and refresh unite in the praise of "Him who loved us and gave Himself for us."

Address and Presentation. Mr. and Mrs. John Crutchley, of Glenroaden Honored by their Friends.

On Wednesday night, August 16th, a number of the friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. John Crutchley of Glenroaden, assembled at their home to give expression to the kind feeling entertained towards this couple who intend soon to leave the vicinity.

DEAR MR. AND MRS. CRUTCHLEY.—We, the boys of Glenroaden, some of whom are about to leave for the Western province, have gathered here in recognition of your hospitality and as a token of our appreciation of your kindness.

DEAR FRIENDS & NEIGHBORS.—The promptings of the very kind words expressed by you and also for the very handsome gift with which it is accompanied, words fail us to fully express such an unmerited and unexpected declaration of your esteem for us in what we feel to be the greatest honor of our lives.

MR. AND MRS. W. M. McCracken, MR. AND MRS. D. McKECHNIE, CHAS. McKECHNIE, LIZZIE McKECHNIE, ALLAN BELL, LIZZIE WILSON, THOS. WILSON.

MR. CHAS. ROBSON, of Traverston, who goes in September to take a position in Concord, N. H., speaks very highly of the Central Business College, Toronto where he received his training.

Wary of Experimenting With salves, suppositories and ointments and dreading a surgical operation, scores and hundreds have turned to Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment and found in it an absolute cure for piles. The first application brings relief from the terrible itching, and it is very seldom that more than one box is required to effect a permanent cure.

EDITOR CHRONICLE: SIR.—Many citizens frequently say Durham has "a one-man council." Whether facts justify this statement or not is a debatable question, but certainly the present mayor is the most autocratic personage dominating any municipal institution within the pale of civilization.

He has, during the present year, absolutely ruled out of order, three motions regularly and duly moved by members of the council. The first two, his put eventually—the one after the lapse of three weeks and the other after the lapse of four weeks—when they were carried unanimously.

I most vehemently protest against the mayor, of his own sweet will and pleasure, ruling out of order any motion made by a member of the council; and I also earnestly protest against his worship writing motions for members to move and second. The practice of such methods, subjects the council to the stigma of being a one-man institution; and his worship, for the good name of the body over which he presides, should cultivate self-denial, abstaining from enjoying the gratification arising from such eminently characteristic acts, heretofore performed by him at the council table.

Nothing Like It. You should remember that no other medicine is like Shiloh's Consumption Cure in any respect.

Dr. McRobbie, of Shelburne, has accepted a unanimous call of the Presbyterian congregations of Sarawak, Kemble and Lake Charles.

"I suppose," the young man began, "that that was nearly our last dance—our very last—at least for a long time."

"You're going to-morrow, then?" the young woman said. "I have to see my people before I join my regiment," the young man answered. "What a good time I've had here!"

"You were about," she observed, "to say something about the Southern Cross." "The Southern Cross? Why should I?" "Surely," she said, "you won't throw away your opportunities? Aren't you going to gaze on the Southern Cross in a few weeks and think of me?"
