Progressive and Successful.

The fact that the Central Business College so well located in the Forum has found it necessary to materially increase its hitherto spacious accommodation by adding to its premises the large Hall, formerly occupied by the A. O. U. W. and other societies, and the apartments so long held by the Dorcas Society of the Church of England, is quite sufficient evidence that this progressive school is enjoying a prosperous and successful term.

On the staff are nine regular teachers, while the equipment including over 40 typewriting machines is up to date in every particular. The work of this school is practical and thorough, and why business men look largely to this College for such clerical assistance as they require is probably best shown by the numerous applications on the file at the College Office, which during the past three days include the firms of John Catto & Son, Bertram Engine Co., Chemical Compound Co., The Mill Bringham Co., and R. S. Williams & Son; The Metropolitan Life Ins. Co., and The Dominion Express Co.
