The Monroe Doctrine is to be the cause of the war predicted between Uncle Sam and the Kaiser. It seems that the Kaiser and his people are two distinct parties in this business. The region embraced within it is practically the whole of the Brazilian Republic from Rio de Janeiro on the north to the boundary line of the country itself on the south, and from the Atlantic on the East to Uruguay on the west. This is the way most German colonies/are governed. Unfortunately for Germany, the German subjects in Brazil view such a prospect with anything but enthusiasm.

"Land hunger" is alleged to be the disease of the reigning dynasty in Germany. Far sighted men have not hesitated to predict that South America will constitute the great prize of the future in the eyes of European government. The Brazilian government is not without uneasiness at the prospect. The recent additions to the navy of the republic may be intended as a warning to the world that Brazil will not submit to dismemberment without resistance. Germany has never disavowed the designs upon South America which European diplomats have atributed to her for ten years past. Such a disavowal would be a distinct negation of the policy of Emperor William. He could not repudiate all designs to annex portions of South America and remain consistent.

Just a woman's story.

Not strange because it happens every day; not romantic or thrilling, but just a story of misery and suffering such as, unfortunately, too many women endure in silence.

For several years Mrs. Thomas Sears, of St. Catharines, felt her illness gradually but surely gaining a firmer hold upon her system, and ultimately she almost despaired of recovery. To a reporter who called upon her, Mrs. Sears said :-

The number of eggs is only a part of what we should know of the egg production, therefore, in order to be able to judge of the relative merit of breeds, the weight as well as the number of eggs, should be known. SEED DEVELOPMENT.

Improvement of seed for all crops is a great demand. When no greater care is given to growing seed than is bestowed upon the general crop, improvement in seed can be had, and consequently no improvement in the yield and quality of the general crop can be realized.

To conform to the natural demands of the several crops of grains and vege ables produced on the farm in tion that backache is a symptom of the production of seed, is to insure great improvement in the seed and a necessary improvement to the yield and quality of the general crop grown from such improved seed.

Take corn, and what are the demands made in order to improve the seed? Does not "nature itself teach" that one stalk growing in a place will produce a better growth than if one or two more stalks are grown together with the one stalk? What then are the imperative demands of natural law, in order to the improvement of seed of this great staple?

The rule then to be observed is to grow each stalk by itself, with su ficient distance to insure the most perfect growth and permit perfect fertil-

Potatoes are capable of like improvement by planting the very best for seed purposes with wide space between hills and when the plants are three or four inches high thin out to one stalk in a hill; this will give the greatest opportunity to grow to perfection, and but one stalk in a place gives a larger and better growth to the tubers and consequently finer and more productive seed will be produced in this line.

Toronto, Dec. 26th .- Miss Ida Hob-: kirk, of 184 Harbord St., this city, is a young lady who is exceedingly popular with a very extensive circle of friends, all of whom are rejoicing over her recent escape from a terrible danger. The story of her experience is deeply interesting, told in her own no straightforward way.

Here is her narrative: In 1896, I took a position in a down-town store. My work was not unusually hard, but soon found I could nto stand it, and my health failed. I grew very thin, had splitting headache continually, dizzy spells, and extreme weakness. My tongue was thickly furred, harsh and dry, every morning, and I arose tired and aching. I was dull and lowspirited all the time.
