

THE BIG STORE.

J. A. Hunter.

We often hear customers saying, "my, you are always busy in this store." We like to have you talk that way. We have the crowd. That's so. But we are always looking for a larger one. Our trade for June was a record breaker. Bring your butter and eggs to this store and get your goods or your cash, whichever you please. The store which sells the most buys the most and the big buyer gets the lowest price on goods.

PRICEVILLE.

On the evening of Monday, July 9th, a member of the Priceville Lodge of the A. O. U. W. wending his homeward way after lodge and soliloquising on the various rites and ceremonies, which had engaged his attention during the meeting, was suddenly brought back to the realities of life by the sudden appearance of two suspicious looking characters, who passed him on the road. They bade him goodnight in a peculiar and sepulchral tone. He at once decided that they must be tramps or burglars, and considering that discretion was the better part of valour, at once proceeded to the home of a brother workman, roused him out of bed, and after duly preparing themselves started to hold an investigation, on again getting sight of the said to be tramps. Workman No. 2 said they looked to be tough looking cases, and immediately proposed getting further assistance. This was at once agreed to by his friend, and after a short time, a Vigilance Committee was assembled consisting of the discoverer of the suspicious characters whom we will call the chief of Police. Captain M. (with a club), Armory Sergeant P. (with an empty revolver), Field Surgeon H. (with a lantern), Hospital Surgeon B. (left at base of operations in case of danger or emergency call), Quarter Master Sergeant W. (with a can of emergency rations on Fish pole sure bait for burglars), Sword Bearer B. (being better up in teaching the young idea how to shoot, left his sword at home in case of accident. The above named force promanaded the front and back streets of the village until as near as we can ascertain about 3 a. m. Tuesday morning, searched out lying buildings, vacant houses and also hunted the tannery from top to bottom, poked sticks into all the rat holes, beat up shrubbery in all directions, climbed the shade trees, in fact made a general search in all likely and unlikely places. But all their efforts were vain the birds had flown when daylight again appeared. A scared boy turned up at his home and narrated the circumstances of his adventures during the night. It seems that two of the village boys had been occupied during the day at a job that blackened their faces and gave them an utterly disreputable and dirty appearance. When they saw that they had created a sensation they resolved to keep up the fun by running away, but the result greatly exceeded their expectations. While the Vigilance Committee was laying their plans the objects of their search were hid among some bushes about 10 feet from where there would be captors stood and heard all the plans laid for their capture. So they folded their tents like the arab and silently stole away. The committee found in the morning that they had been practically hunting nothing for the best part of the night and now it is not safe unless you are a good runner to mention tramp or burglar in the hearing of some people.

Donald McDonald, of Priceville, commonly known as Big Dan, had Wm. Marshall before Magistrate Nichol last week on a charge of abusive language and disorderly conduct. Lawyer Batson, of Markdale, appeared for Marshall and McDonald pleaded for Marshall and McDonald pleaded his own case. Result, Marshall was mulcted in the costs.

Mr. James Bolger, brother of Mr. P. Bolger, Priceville, died last Saturday evening of consumption. He has been a sufferer for about four years, and was of a quiet and genial disposition and was well thought of in the community by all who had the pleasure of his acquaintance and will be much missed. His friends have the sympathy of this community. The funeral took place to the Family Burying Place at R. C. church, Province of Ontario, on Monday last. A large number of friends attended at the Crown Hotel, from which the funeral cortege started, and only for the great distance, no doubt a larger number would have gone to the graveyard.

Mr. T. Tuder, who lately moved into this village from near Seaford, had the misfortune to lose one of his team of horses last Saturday. He was cutting hay on the Scott farm adjoining the village and had unhitched to come home at noon. After he got out on the road he turned back to drive some pigs out of his grain and the team left for a moment to themselves, made for a pond on the roadside to drink. One of them got so far in that he got stuck in the mud, and although every effort was made and assistance on hand almost immediately the horse was dead before he could be got out. This is rather hard on a new comer to lose a horse just in the start. Neighbors will have an opportunity to show their good will in this case.

We are pleased to see that Miss G. J. Wright is again in our midst enjoying her summer vacation.

The Misses James are at present enjoying the summer holidays at the parental home. They are quite an acquisition to the Methodist choir and Epworth League during their visits.

Master Rac. Watson, from Walter's Falls, is visiting his uncle, Mr. Geo. Watson here, at present.

The Rev. Mr. Varley now occupies the Methodist Parsonage, and preached his first sermon here on Sunday, 8th July. We are pleased to welcome him and hope to become better acquainted as time rolls on.

Miss McPhatter and Miss Fox, of Owen Sound, visited at Dr. I. G. Huttons for a few days last week.

Miss Norman Luck, of Markdale, visited her relatives here last week, returning home on Monday last.

An epidemic of losses struck the inhabitants of this burg last week. Dougall McDougall lost a pocket knife, W. J. Blakeston a valise full of clothing, Bert Patton four dollars in bills, T. Tuder a horse and the Vigilance Committee lost the burg-lars.

The Rev. Mr. Matheson, of St. Columbia church, Priceville, returned from a trip to Halifax and other points last week. He occupied the pulpit last Sunday and appears as if his vacation had agreed with him.

GLENELG CENTRE.

Dear Editor, we and the children are all well hoping you and your able staff are no worse.

Well, we all had a lovely time at the Bunessan picnic on the 12th inst. Pat enjoyed it very much indeed and wishes he were a Scotchman, although his wit was up in G when he heard the remarks of one of the speakers on the Englishman, Pat and the Hog. Mr. G. Binnie was elected chairman, which place he ably filled in his usual good style. The chief speakers were Rev. Mr. McGregor, John McGillivray, J., and Alex. Firth, teacher.

Mr. Jas McGillivray, we learn has bought the Muilen farm—eleven hundred, we are told. Congratulations Jimmy.

Miss Maggie McGillivray, who has been seriously ill for a time is again her usual self, hearty.

Pat's brother is here on a brief visit from Gooseberry and wishes to know who the young lady is that was trapped in a bike north of here a few weeks ago while practicing. Right information will be thankfully received, Crowbar P. O.

Miss Mary Martlow has been dangerously ill and at one time there was little hopes of her recovery. At time of writing she is some better and we trust she will soon be restored to health as Mary is a favorite with old and young.

We extend sympathy to the McNab family in their sad bereavement in the loss of a kind father whose death appeared in the columns of the Chronicle last week.

Mr. John McGillivray from New Brunswick, is on a visit at the old homestead with his brother John Sr. All pleased to meet Jack.

Some of the Glen boys got a little rusty one evening recently. No bones broken.

Thomas B. and Billy D. had better be careful or they probably will get left.

Hello! Hello Pomona! and you are not yet reformed. Keep your eye on the watch word, being you are such a sturdy youth. Yes, dear William, we've been to Priceville and had fun galore, nice quiet place to spend one's honeymoon, eh? No doubt, William darling, experience teaches, thanks. How are the oxen? Hope you are able to manage them. These hot days do they ever have their tongue out, William, when they turn the yoke? Give them their wind, Billy. Have a chew of gum or sing to them the Narrow Gauge Railway. Shoo ity.

years of age and has lived over half that time a kind neighbor on the farm where she died. Five sons, Wm. and Isaac in the U. S., George in Singhamton, Francis in Euphrasia and Jeremiah in Artemesia, and one daughter, Mrs. Geo. Wright, Owen Sound, survive her.

Mr. John Wilson, of the creamery here, sold the June butter, 201 boxes last week. 19 cts. was realized which will doubtless be gratifying to the patrons and place a handsome sum of the needful in their hands.

Mrs. Kennedy, widow of the late Angus Kennedy, of Euphrasia, has purchased Mr. Bradbury's brick cottage on Elizabeth street and, we understand, is coming to town to reside.

Mr. W. Trimble sold a few days ago a neat outfit, horses, buggy and harness to Rev. Mr. Varley, the new Methodist minister at Priceville. Mr. Trimble has again gone into the Royal Mail and livery business having bought back the Durham stage outfit and livery business at Flesherton Station sold by him to Mr. McNally a few months ago.

Mr. Thomas Gallowsy, of Uxbridge, who is a cripple and has been for many years a great sufferer, occupied the Methodist pulpit here on Sabbath morning and delivered a beautiful sermon on "Praise" selecting for his text Ps. 34:1.

Mrs. M. K. Berton is visiting friends in Toronto and Mrs. J. Wright Jr. is visiting her sister at Coldwater.

A MANIA FOR OPERATIONS.

Most physicians are anxious to try the surgeon's knife and recommend an operation for piles. A less cruel, less expensive, and less risky method is the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment, a preparation that has never yet been known to fail to cure piles no matter of what form or of however long standing. Don't think of risking an operation when you can be cured in your own home by the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment. The best physicians use it in their practice.

But a French preparation for restoring hair which has become prematurely gray to its original color.
