Mr. F. Stokes, 116 Dunlop street, Barrie, Ont., writes:—"I was troubled with blind, itching piles for years, and could get nothing to stop the constant itching. I was always in pain until a friend of mine told me of the wonderful cures Dr. Chase's Ointment had made among his acquaintances."

When operations and every other means have failed to cure you, you can begin the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment with perfect confidence that it will cure you. It has never failed to cure piles and will not fail you; 60 cents a box at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates and Co., Toronto.

DURHAM CHRONICLE

W. Irwin, Editor and Proprietor.

DURHAM, OCTOBER 4th, 1900.

The Clarksburg Reflector gets off the following paragraph on the nomination of C. W. Hartman, at Flesherton. It says:—"The Convention on Monday distinctly informed its candidate that they did not wish him to be a mere partisan, but desired that he support the Government only when he deemed its measures to be in the interests of the country."

The Lay of the Last (Grt) Minstrel.

We used to sing of "Tory Hordes," and "Robber Barons," too; We never sing those old songs now, the tunes would hardly do. "Ring the knell of boodling, boys" was once our loud refrain; We do not sing that old song now, we never will again.

FLESHERTON.

A crowded house greeted the speakers and performers at the Commencement Exercises of the Flesherton public school held in the Town Hall on Friday evening last. A program of twenty interesting numbers was rendered by the pupils several of the juvenile entertainers acquitting themselves admirably but could not be heard to advantage on account of confusion not usual in a Flesherton audience.

On Tuesday evening of last week Miss Mamie, 12 year old daughter of Mr. James Sullivan, was descending the stairs with a lighted lamp in her hand when she slipped and fell several steps to the bottom. The lamp broke in pieces, the oil ignited and set her clothing on fire, which, though smothered with rugs and extinguished as speedily as possible, was not accomplished until severe burns were inflicted, the worst being above the knee of one limb.

the rear. Put pie at once loomed up before the proprietor who proceeded to make a captive of the visitor, but the swamp drummer had not called to be so dealt with and made a bee line for liberty leaving Mr. B. to replace a large pane of glass in his shop window through which it flew in exit.

Mrs. W. J. Henderson and family are this week having erected in the Public Cemetery here to the memory of her beloved husband and their revered father, a handsome New Quincy granite monument, dark gray in color. HITS AND MISSES.

When a fellow runs after his twenty-five cent prize money before the judge hands the book in, it's not much wonder for us to want our four-year-old delinquents to pay up.

We'll bet fifteen cents there isn't a man in Durham that's dead certain about the front side of a fashionable hat.

The Milliners returned thanks when the openings were over. The printers will rejoice and be glad if they can write them up without hurting anybody.

Ye Editor has been invited to take the chair at the Varney Festival. Let this be a timely warning for the public to stay away. Turkeys! Turkeys! Yum, Yum.

Any devil can make pi, was the remark of a lady citizen, while a listener gazed in astonishment at the thought of her using a cuss word. It was pure print shop lingo, and not only orthodox but true.

"I don't owe a man a dollar," said a citizen the other day as he smiled in blissful ignorance of the fun he was missing. Getting danners is a "joy forever" with most of us poor mortals.

Mr. S. Arrowsmith was the first man to discover that we missed a name from the prize list. It was his own name too. We omitted to mention he got a prize for sunflowers or some other rare plant. He got it all right, though his name wasn't in the judges book when we got the list. Please accept our apology.

VANDELEUR Mr. T. Shannon, of Dundalk, is visiting with his brother, George.

A social gathering met at Mr. Geo. Wating's last week to congratulate Mr. and Mrs. John Gilbert on their recent wedding.

Mr. J. A. Wating, of Toronto, was a visitor with friends here lately.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. R. Buchanan, a daughter, and to Mr. and Mrs. Wes. Kells, a son.

The Rev. Paul Flint made a few short calls on friends here, and on his way to Meaford the week before last.

Mr. Wm. McAllan, of Stratford, was a caller at the parental home a short time ago.
