DURHAM, NOVEMBER 29, 1900

Paul Kruger, as everybody knows, his tour through France, he was re- Jos. Pringle, Henry Brigham, ceived everywhere with great demonstrations of joy, This we need hardly regard as a genuine manifestation of French enmity towards the Williscroft. British nation, as every country has its rabble class ready to throw up their hats and cheer with the apparent hero of the day, Though Oom Paul, who is now absent from his own country, can hardly be regarded as a courageous hero, yet he is not a cowardly man by any means nor are the Boers a cowardly people, but urged on as they are by the head of the nation, they are rapidly working out their own destruction, which might long ago have been averted had President Kruger known enough to call a halt and surrender when he saw there was no other alternative. He still persists in say ing that the Boers will fight to the finish, while the French rabble cheer him on in the perpetuation of his mad carreer. There may be danger of the President's trip stirring up deeper enmity between the two European nations, but at the presen time the matter can hardly be re garded seriously.

The day for receiving nominations of candidates for the office of county councillors throughtout the Province will, this year, be Monday, the 24th day of December (the Monday in the week preceding the week before polling day). The Act provides that notice of such nomination meeting and of the election shall be given by "nominating officer" in such county council division, by advertisement in two weekly newspapers in the county, to be published for at least two successive weeks prior to nomination day; or by giving sufficient public notice thereof by printed posters. When posters are used, the Act is not clear for the time for which they should be posted up prior to nomination day. To do away with all possible doubt, we would suggest that the posting up be completed at least two weeks before the day fixed by the statute for receiving nominations,-Municipal World.

It was 2.20 when the warden took the chair, and after the clerk, Mr John Rutherford, had called the roll and read the minutes of the last session held in Durham, Mr. Mc-Donald delivered his opening address. He welcomed the members to the closing session of the 1900 Council and expressed gratification at the improvements noticeable about the court house. Some minor matters likely to engage the attention of the Council were briefly referred to, including a letter from the mayor and the clerk of Meaford intimating that a deputation would wait on the Council in reference to the guarantee re by-laws recently passed granting for damages said to be sustained by bonuses for public improvments. defective railing at bridge on town The warden complained that the pub line of Markdale and Glenelg; letter lication of the minutes of previous from J. Since they last met one of the number, Mr. George McDonald, who had acted as Richardson, had been elected member of parliament and it was the duty of the Council to congratulate him inas- Hopf, of Normanby, for bridge built much as it indicated the respect in which he was held by the electors of South Grey and his selection was a compliment to the County Council. If it was absolutely necessary to elect a Conservative in that riding there was no one whom he (the warden) would sooner see elected than Mr. Richardson. Mr. Gordon, another member of the County Council who had contested North Grey, was not so successful, but he was to be Butchart & Co. for $63.78 for material congratulated on having made a splendid run. Good men sometimes go down, but Mr. Gordon had courage enough to assure his friends that Kenary for $7.50, for teaming rubbish he might some day bob up serenely.
