THE Canadian Advertising Agency is reported to have gone up stumps, and we, with many other newspapers, are mourning their ascension. It will have the effect at all events of making us still harder hearted towards these frothy concerns. In fact, we believe that no outside advertising should be done only on a cash in advance basis.

We are glad to contradict a report that has been in circulation for a few weeks past, and to those who may have heard that Mr. Abraham Lauder, of Omaha, son of Mrs. Jas. Lauder, of this town, was executed for murder a few weeks ago, we contradict the report on the authority of Mr. Lauder's mother and sister who have just returned from a visit to Omaha where they left him well and attending to his business every day. How the report originated we have no idea, but we rejoice to learn that there wasn't a word of truth in it.

We received a letter a few days ago from Mr. E. O. Windsor, pianoforte, now of Calgary, and it is not a little surprising when he told us he had been to Watakiwin, stayed at Mr. Knapp's Hotel and tuned his piano for him. More important still he says "I am surprised there are so many fools in Ontario who are allowing foreigners to come and elect the best lands whilst they themselves are groaning over a heavy burden in the way of a mortgage on their properties in the older province." He also states that settlers are pouring in from nearly all the States in the Union to become permanent residents.

Iron Ore in Durham.

On Wednesday morning Mr. Wm. Russell, who spent about three years in the Iron, Copper and Silver Mines of Algoma, left at this office a piece of Iron Ore picked up in town here. The sample, he says, will yield between fifty and sixty per cent of pure iron, and the quantity, he thinks, is quite abundant. Moreover, he says, with ore so rich at the surface a much greater yield may be looked for deeper down. Who knows but this may be the beginning of another new industry, and with the certainty of a large cement output, a strong probability of gas and oil in paying quantities, and a large iron industry, Durham may yet become a great mining centre. The sample is now on exhibition in our office window.

Miss Dick, LAMBERTON STREET

A Wonderful Wedding.

A wedding of unusual interest was celebrated this afternoon at St. Mark's church. The bride, Miss Blanche Hunter, is a daughter of the late James H. Hunter, M. P., of Durham, Canada, and the bridegroom, Lorne Macnider Somerville, of Toronto, has recently retired from service with the Forty-Eighth Highlanders.

The wedding was a very quiet one, witnessed only by the immediate friends of the family and the bride's brother, H. A. Hunter.

The service was read by Rev. Thomas McLean, and the music was sung by the vested choir.

The guests were ushered to their seats by Lieutenant F. Fraser Hunter, of the First Bombay Lancers.

The processional was led by the choir. Miss Evelyn Somerville, a young sister of the bridegroom, was the maid of honor and walked alone. The bride followed, escorted by her brother James A. Hunter. They were joined at the chancel steps by the bridegroom, who was attended by H. A. Hunter of this city, and the Rev. Thomas McLean.

The bridal costume was exceptionally handsome. White chiffon over duchesse satin formed the foundation and a handsome robe of rose point lace was worn over this. The long train was covered almost by the tulle veil which fell from a tiara of orange blossoms. Both veil and flowers were worn by the bride's mother at her own wedding.

A necklace of pearls, the gift of the bridegroom, was the only jewel worn, and a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and maidenhair fern completed the toilet.

The bride's carriage cloak was of yellow panne velvet with real lace and chiffon, and lined with white Tibetan lamb.

Miss Somerville looked charming in a girlish frock of white silk organdie over silk. Lace trimmings and a wide satin sash were used, and she carried a bouquet of white roses and wore a wreath of them in her hair.

The bride's mother, Mrs. J. H. Hunter, wore a robe of black silk net with trimmings of black velvet over a white satin lining. The bodice had a yoke of real cream Venetian point lace, and touches of red panne velvet were introduced at throat and wrists.

Mrs. A. J. Somerville's gown was of blue crepe du chine with white satin trimmings. An elaborate arrangement of Venetian point lace adorned the bodice. The hat which accompanied the costume was of roses and lace, and she carried a bouquet of La France roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's brother, H. A. Hunter, at the Berkeley. The rooms were decorated with rich hangings of Indian silks and Chinese fabrics, which has been brought home by Lieutenant Hunter, who has just returned from the Orient.

Mr. and Mrs. Somerville will leave on an evening train for the East and will receive their friends at Atherley, Toronto, May 15 and 16.

The going away gown was a smart tailored suit of grey. The bodice was of cream brocaded crepe du chine with chiffon and lace trimmings. Slight touches of crimson appeared at the collar, and a hat of white chip with scarlet poppies went most appropriately with the suit.

The bride's tresseau was most elaborate and was from materials sent by relatives from the Indies and China. Among the wedding gifts were several checks for handsome sums, which were also sent by relatives.
