Stop Your Frettin'.

When things don't come along your way, Can't hurry 'em by frettin'; If clouds of care obscure your day, Can't chase 'em off by frettin'; Your tears just irrigate your woe An' freshen up an' help it grow— Don't wash it out of sight, an' so There ain't no use in frettin'.

The heavy load you have to bear Ain't lightened up by frettin'; The sorrow vultures in the air Ain't skeered away by frettin'; If debt is crowdin', rent is due, No cash in hand an' you are blue, Brace up an' be a man, fur you Can't square yourself by frettin'.

Young feller, if you get the jilt, There ain't no use of frettin'; Remember that the milk that's spilt Can't be restored by frettin'; There's jest as good fish in the sea As ever struck the net, an' she Ain't with a sigh of misery; So don't you go to frettin'.

If Chawley quits you in a huff, Dear girl, don't you go frettin'; It's nobble jest a cranky bluff That isn't worth the frettin'; An' if he don't return you'd ought To thank the Lord you wasn't caught In such a trifier's trap an' not Go round in tears a-frettin'.

No matter what your cares an' woes, Don't humor 'em by frettin'; If hard luck aims her heavy blows, Strike back; don't go to frettin'; Screw up your nerve an' hold your grip An' keep a frozen upper lip, Fur anythin' on earth can whip The man that gits to frettin'.

DOWIE'S CRISIS.

Harper's Weekly.

"Dr." John Alexander Dowie, self-acclaimed reincarnation of the Prophet Elijah, banker and publisher, divine healer and absolute owner of a town with more than 4,000 residents, General Overseer of the Catholic Church in Zion, lace manufacturer, and founder and head of the Theocratic party, former Presbyterian preacher and present millionaire, who is said to draw regularly every week one-tenth of the total income of more than thirty thousand families in the United States and other parts of the world, has apparently reached a crisis in his career, which has so far been a remarkable demonstration of the power possible to a man who combines shrewd business methods with the audacity and fierce earnestness of a religious fanatic. The cardinal doctrine of Dowie's creed is divine healing through the prayers of himself and of his apostles. By preaching this doctrine and by denouncing physicians and all drugs as allies of the devil, he has brought about him hundreds of invalids, some of them bringing with them considerable sums of money. Two weeks ago his only daughter, Esther, was terribly burned by flames resulting from the overturning of an alcohol lamp. Her wounds were dressed by one of Dowie's elders, after which the General Overseer and his chief men spent the whole day in prayers about her bedside. At nightfall the young woman was suffering terrible agony, and at last paternal love overcame the scruples of her father, and he sent for one of the despised physicians. The physician who responded says that from the first there could have been no hope for Miss Dowie's recovery. She died during the evening. And now the thousands who actually look upon the gray-bearded old Scotch-Australian as more than human, and who have listened to his terrible denunciations of medical men as words inspired, are asking what they shall think of his own act of heresy in the hour of personal distress. Dowie himself slipped off to his summer home, leaving behind him his apostles and a number of phonographic records of his own "in-pired speech," to which 5,000 followers, gathered in the Chicago Auditorium on Sunday afternoon, listened midway between awe and incredulity. Within recent months Dowie and his great religious business enterprises he has built up have received several other severe shocks. By a court decision he was forced to pay more than $100,000 to an English manufacturer he had persuaded to take up his residence in the holy city of "Zion," located forty miles north of Chicago, on the shore of Lake Michigan, and more recently there was a severe outbreak of smallpox in the Divine Healing College, which he has established in Michigan avenue. Whatever the outcome of the present crisis, it is certain that Dowie and the strange and fanatic following he has built up in ten years are worthy of the serious study of sociologists.

The Sprayer Blew up.

(Flesherton Advance.)

Mr. Geo. E. Paton, of Instioge, met with a very peculiar and painful accident on Tuesday of last week. On that day he undertook to spray his apple trees with a patent zinc sprayer, which he carried strapped to his person. He had sprayed three trees when, without warning, the sprayer blew up with a terrific explosion. Mr. Paton was knocked senseless, and remained in that condition for about three hours. He was badly cut on chin and forehead, and his clothing was torn. The grass was torn up by the explosion several feet around, and remnants of the tank were found between twenty and thirty feet from where Mr. Paton stood. Five stitches were required to be put in the wounded man's chin. No satisfactory explanation is given of cause of explosion. The solution in use was the ordinary bluestone emulsion.

Hugh Campbell Killed.

(Clarksburg Reflector.)

A terrible accident occurred last Saturday afternoon causing the death of two young men. It is particularly sad to the people about here happening, as it does, to one who was born and brought up a short distance from Clarksburg, and whose parents are citizens of Thornbury. A large boiler exploded in the Ontario Lumber Company's mill at French River, and while sitting talking, Hugh Augustus Campbell, fireman, and Geo. Webster, sawyer, were sent into eternity in an instant. So terrific was the explosion, it blew the whole end out of the building. The mill was not running at the time, and the men were sitting talking when the accident occurred. Mr. Hugh Campbell was the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Campbell, Thornbury, and was in the 33rd year of his age. He was born on the 10th line of Collingwood, on December the 29th, 1869, where he spent his early years. In June, of 1894, Mr. Campbell married Miss Ida May Morrell, of Kirkville, who with two children survives him. For a number of years he has resided in Parry Sound, where he was in the employ of the Parry Sound Lumber Company. Only about a week or two ago he went to French River, and engaged with the Ontario Lumber Co.

A telegram was received by Mr. Archibald Campbell on Monday telling the sad news, and shortly afterwards Mr. Campbell left for French River, he had the body embalmed and brought over to Collingwood by boat on Monday. Mr. Whately drove to Collingwood late last evening and returned this morning with the remains. The funeral takes place today at 2:30 p. m.

Besides a wife and two children, there are left to mourn a father and mother, and two sisters, Mrs. James Fawcett, who resides on the 10th, and Miss Sarah Campbell, who resides with her parents. To the bereaved ones we extend the heartfelt sympathies of the whole community.

Poor Fido.

(Flesherton Advance.)

Mr. W. Trimble and family had an exciting few moments one night recently. The whole family were awakened during the night by a peculiar noise in the woodshed as of some one trying to enter the house. Mr. Trimble armed himself with a lamp and a revolver, while his son, Percy, carried the family butcher knife, and a cautious approach was made to the back kitchen door, beyond which the noise was still kept up. After rehearsing the manoeuvres about to be made, Mr. Trimble unbolted and threw open the door, while the muzzle of his revolver pointed forward to slay the piratical intruder. The people upstairs awaited with quaking knees the explosion which was momentarily expected, but it failed to materialize. When the door was opened one of Mr. Wilson's big dogs wagged his tail and scratched at the shed door as much as to say, "Please may I go out?" The animal had entered the shed to take a snooze and was locked in when the family retired. Oh, you may laugh when you read this, but I had you been in the same place your hair would have turned as grey as the next fellow's.

Lame Back In the Morning.

There are many people who find it a difficult task getting up in the morning, on account of a terrible pain and soreness across the small of the back that makes rising a painful and discomfiting operation. Ever know what it was to have your back so bad that when you'd try to get out of bed you'd almost scream with the pain? Can't do much of a day's work starting off with a back as bad as that—not fit for pleasure either. Well, all this backache and pain, this stiffness and soreness comes because the kidneys are clogged up, can't do their work properly, and your back has to suffer for it. Just try a box or two of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets. What a change you'll find coming over you! You'll be able to spring from your bed in the morning as lively as a cricket, and feel refreshed and fit for your daily duties.

TOUCHED THE SPOT.

Joseph Weeks, Beckwith Street, Smith's Falls, says: "My back was in a bad way. I was desperately lame, and there was a dull grinding pain over my kidneys. At times I had headaches, and often I was dizzy, particularly if I had been stooping. I tried first one thing, then another, but there was no permanent benefit till I began using Pitcher's Kidney Tablets. They go right to the spot and I found prompt relief. Nothing before ever did me as much good. I would suggest to anyone suffering in that way to try them."

Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets are 50c a Box, at all druggists or by mail, THE DR. ZINA FRENCH CO., Toronto, Ont.

PATHETIC APPEAL.
One of Many Letters Received by the Trustees Free Hospital for Consumptives.

[Comment on the following letter is hardly necessary. It tells its own sorrowful tale. This may be said, that, at the time every door seemed closed, one of the trustees of the National Sanitarium Association secured, at his own expense, temporary accommodation, with medical attendance and nursing, for the sick man. The wife is a graduate nurse and a position was made open for her, but at this point the friends interesting themselves on her behalf learned that she was the mother of a young babe, and consequently could not enter upon the position offered. Surely the need for the work undertaken by the National Sanitarium Association for the sufferers from consumption is great. For obvious reasons names are omitted from letter:]

—Jan. 10, 1902.
W. J. GAGE, Esq.,
Toronto.

My dear Mr. Gage,—No doubt your noble effort to relieve the consumptive situation has brought you many piteous inquiries re the "free" addition that is being fitted up. In my case the crisis has come in a peculiar manner. About a month ago my people were induced, under the stress of what they were led to consider an emergency, to pay $30.00 in advance to Dr. — for one month's trial treatment at his place in —. I went there, and although he promised, in writing, to accept any reasonable terms after the month, his plan was the same rate—half cash and balance secured by good paper. Neither the man nor the place under present conditions is fit to be associated with the idea or purpose of a sanatorium. I tried to get a cot in — Hospital, but none were available. My brother, unfortunately, did not inquire at any other city institution, so I came here yesterday to my mother-in-law's home. My wife is a graduate nurse, and under her care but little fear was entertained, but my case had developed no virulent symptoms. I have improved greatly, but the fact that I have been away and in possible contact with the "true" danger, I found the door almost closed against me. My wife did succeed in getting permission to fix my cot in the back kitchen. This was no hardship, because for years I have had no floor-rugs or window-curtains in my sleeping-room. I am not a graduate in medicine, but my knowledge of sanitary law is thoroughly professional. I am a journalist, and the trouble has been that I have had to burn the candle at both ends to make ends meet. Systematic starvation has produced the present collapse. I can give you references as regards my general worthiness, but few know my poverty. — of — can give some information; also — of — Mr. — of the Globe, or Mr. — of the Star, know me to some extent. I enclose herewith a clipping from the Globe of January 22nd, 1901. — P. O. in — township, is my father's home address. I would be welcome there, but it would mean three people in a room (with but one window) if my younger brother is at home, which he frequently is. My sister, who is none too robust, does all the farmwork of the household.

My lot was tolerable before, even when more or less shunned, but now that a presence is looked upon as a menace to the general health of the household, I cannot be content. I possess no "real resources" beyond the understanding of a Christian conscience. One has said, "Knock and it shall be opened unto you" and I trust this appeal may be consistent with His message.

Most faithfully yours,
The Free Hospital for Consumptives, erected under the auspices of the National Sanitarium Association, commenced to receive patients on April 23rd. Accommodation will be provided for 100 patients at a cost of over $30,000 yearly, covering medical attendance, nursing, board, laundry, etc. There is no endowment. The buildings are the gift of two Toronto citizens. The trustees rest solely on the generosity of the public for the $30,000 for maintenance. Will you help?
Contributions may be sent to HON. SIR WM. R. MEREDITH, Kt., Chief Justice, 4 Lampart Ave., Toronto; W. J. GAGE, Esq., 52 Front St. West, Toronto, or the NATIONAL TRUST CO., LIMITED, Treasurer, 22 King St. East, Toronto.
