EXTRA SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

I beg to report to the public and to my many customers that I have sold out my stock and good-will in The Big Store to Mr. Alexander Russell, of Elora. I will very likely remain and do business just the same as before up to the first of September next. I do not purpose making a sacrifice sale, but will be able to offer you some very interesting bargains. Watch this advertisement each week and I think you will be well paid if you require any of the goods offered for sale. I have to thank my customers and the public in general for their very liberal patronage in the past, and I bespeak for my successor, Mr. Alexander Russell, the same favor at your hands. I purpose living in Minneapolis where I have arranged to go into partnership with my brother, H. A. Hunter, who is engaged in the Land and Insurance business.

FLESHERTON

Two violent thunder storms, the worst experienced this season, passed over this place on Wednesday evening and early Thursday morning last week. Rain fell in torrents, and during the first storm a heavy shower of hail. Mrs. Neil, of this place, received a severe shock from a vivid flash of the lightning, but soon recovered from its effects. Mr. T. M. Bannon's barn, Toronto line, was struck and slightly damaged and one hog killed.

A picnicking party of about two dozen of our young people spent Wednesday of last week pleasantly at Bell's Lake, and were contemplating their homeward journey when the storm of that evening came on which kept them there until about 11 p. m. A start was then made, but soon after, owing to a defective place in the road, one of the loads met with an upset in which there was a miraculous escape from serious injury to any of the occupants. After some repairs to the damaged rig, the party proceeded homeward in the drenching storm of the night.

The journeymen tailors of Collingwood have organized a branch of the I. T. U. of A. with Mr. Fred Tucker, formerly of this place, as President.

It always affords us pleasure to learn of the success abroad of any who were once citizens of this place. Among those who have recently gone from us are Mr. and Mrs. P. Dafos, who are pleased with their new environments and prospering in a marked degree in the southern city of Indianapolis.

Last Saturday being the anniversary of the birthday of Miss Mary Thompson, she entertained about twenty of her friends at a picnic held at Sullivan's grove near the Irish Lake. The drive and afternoon's outing was much enjoyed by all.

Mr. Deagle's men have the electric light wire poles erected from Eugenia to the suburbs of this place, and will doubtless have them up in the village this week.

Quarterly Sacramental service was held in the Methodist church on Sabbath morning last when the pastor preached an appropriate sermon from the Saviour's words to His disciples: "Ye are the light of the world." In the evening the monthly song service was held, and was enjoyably participated in by both choir and congregation. The origin of the hymns sung was interestingly given by the pastor, who also sang effectively P. P. Bliss' memorable hymn, "I know not what awaits me." "There were ninety and nine" was beautifully rendered by Miss Minnie Joy.

For variety and profit the Senior League meeting in the Methodist church on Monday evening was given into the hands of the Junior League, whose young members acquitted themselves admirably and made the service very interesting throughout.

Mr. Ed. Hamilton's household effects were shipped to Toronto on Saturday, and Mrs. Hamilton and daughter, Winnie, left on Tuesday to join Mr. H. in their new home there.

As we write, a sweet little girl of nearly five years playing across the street reminds us that at that home, Miss Bellamy's, there are the representatives of four generations—Mrs. Bellamy, Sr., Mrs. J. W. Henderson, Mrs. J. E. Hansford and little Miss Muriel with an older sister, Blossom,—enjoying a pleasant summer holiday together. The great grandmother in the company, now in her 84th year, looks down with pardonable pride and affection on her youthful descendants playing gaily about her.

TOP CLIFF.

Angus McDonald, who has been in the gold mines in Alaska for the last five years, returned to his home in South Glenelg a week ago and intends to stay home for some time.

Mr. Alex. McCannel and son, of Port Elgin, visited at McCannel's and McCannel's for a day or two lately.

Our Teacher, Mr. Dixon, was successful in having the two pupils that tried the Entrance from our school pass. Mr. Dixon is a good teacher and spares no time in educating those under his charge.

Councillor McMillan was letting jobs on this line lately.

Alex. McEachern's new barn is nearly completed.

Miss Susan McKinnon, of Durham, is at present with her brother Dan at Farewell while he is busy haying.

Crops are looking well in this locality. Haying will take another week before it is finished. Fall wheat is not ripe yet, the grain is a fine sample. Potatoes look well and roots of all kinds are doing well.

Mrs. Fyfe, of Woodbridge, is visiting her many friends in this part for the last couple of weeks and will remain for some time before returning.

Mr. Kelly, of Toronto, spent a few days visiting at Norman McIntyre's, of this place.

Died at noon on Saturday the 26th July, Mr. Donald McDougall, native of the Isle of Ulva, Argyllshire, Scotland, at the age of eighty-seven years. Mr. McDougall came from his native land to the South Line, Glenelg, 50 years ago, consequently he was familiar with the hardships endured by the early settlers in clearing up a farm and raising a helpless family. In religion Mr. McDougall was a Baptist. He leaves a family of four sons and three daughters to mourn his death. The funeral on Monday the 28th July, was largely attended to Priceville cemetery. His partner in life predeceased him 18 years ago. Rev. Mr. Matheson, of Priceville, officiated at house and grave.

Hair Falls

"I tried Ayer's Hair Vigor to stop my hair from falling. One-half a bottle cured me."
J. C. Baxter, Braidwood, Ill.

Ayer's Hair Vigor is certainly the most economical preparation of its kind on the market. A little of it goes a long way. It doesn't take much of it to stop falling of the hair, make the hair grow, and restore color to gray hair.

If your druggist cannot supply you, send us one dollar and we will express you a bottle. Be sure and give the name of your nearest express office. Address, J. C. AYER CO., Lowell, Mass.

Mrs. Fewster, of Horning's Mills, and Mrs. Snowdon, of Mich., are visiting Mrs. Wm. Moore and other friends.

Dr. Christoe has been unable to go down to business for a few days, but is at the time of writing feeling a little better.

Mr. W. Trimble relapsed a little, and is again confined to his room with his affected knee.

Mr. F. G. Cole has also been for some time in a crippled condition with an inflamed knee cap. He, with Mr. Trimble and your correspondent, who has been painfully shelved for a month, have been as patiently as possible nursing cantharides burns.

Mr. W. Moore paid his brothers in N. Y. state a short visit last week.

Miss Carrie Sullivan, who has been at the Central Phone here for a long time, leaves on Wednesday to take a position in Montreal where her sister now resides.

Mr. E. Vanant, of Toronto, was in town a week ago and erected a monument in the cemetery for Mrs. Holman in memory of her late husband.

Mr. A. Thistlewaite has purchased the Bradbury property opposite the cemetery.

Among those who were visitors here since we last wrote the Chronicle were Editor A. R. Fawcett, of Toronto Junction, at Mr. Down's; Dr. E. K. Richardson, of Toronto, at the parental home; Mr. R. F. Downey, Principal of Port Perry Public and Model Schools, at Mrs. Joy's.

We trust THE CHRONICLE, editor and staff enjoyed the well earned holiday taken last week.
