A FEW days ago Charlie brother of Ye Editor, a resident of Collingwood Township, a mile from Thornbury, got sweat. "We haven't heard from him about it, but as we are always in communion with him, it may be imagined he's not the information. We can't tell as to the extent of "sweat," but this much is certain that similar circumstances make us boil. He had been busy and got cheques cashed and started home on a way board resting on the boat was quite sober, never knew otherwise. But his sobriety intensified when he got about a half on the way and pocket-book missing. He round and searched the whole back but found no trace of it. On his arrival home, he gave a sign to his first smile on him money there ahead of him. He had found it on the road, as the owner by some papers it taining his name and drove to his home where she deliriously found. We could hug it for a honest, and get handsome reward into the and if Charlie didn't do it we have done under similar instances, we'll have to discontinue relationship. The angel of never rest easy till we find it.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Mills, of Sullivan, spent part of Friday with Mr. and Mrs. J. McNally, of the 6th. He is what the boys call "a cracking good fellow!"

A most happy bridal! For the first time in the history of the fine farm on which Mr. A. J. Robson and family live has such an interesting event occurred. Thursday of last week was an ideal August day. Just the day to live for in pleasant memory. Blue sky, flecked with dream clouds overhead; earth either green or golden with rustling oat fields; breezes buoyant! At high noon his third daughter, Miss Maggie, and Mr. Thos. Flynn, of Toronto, pledged hand and heart to each other, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Wray R. Smith, of Durham. The bride was given away by her father, in the tastefully decorated parlor. She was gowned in white organdie trimmed with white satin ribbon, and carried a bouquet of white roses. Her bosom friend and bridesmaid, Miss Mary Glencross, was dressed in white organdie and carried pink roses, both bouquets having been brought by the groom from the city. A more graceful, queenly pair of maidens would be hard to find. In their shimmering robes they were "Loveliness" personified. The groom is a handsome, companionable youth. He won the goodwill of all by his genial manner and frank countenance. He was assisted by his friend, Mr. Herbert Bobby, of Toronto. After the union, the guests partook of as choice eatables as mortal could wish. A dinner to be remembered! The tables were brightened by bouquets of pink dahlias and sweet peas entwined 'mid myrtle. The bride's cake, the work of her own clever hands, was a "thing of beauty," and as delicious as it looked. The guests from a distance were Rev. Thos. Farr, B. A., and wife, of Wallaceburg; the bride's grandmother, Mrs. H. Farr and Miss Maggie; Miss Renton, of Burlington; the Grant family and Miss Maggie Robson from Durham, and a half dozen close friends of the neighborhood. Among the many choice presents received by the bride was a gold watch from the groom, who, also, presented the bridesmaid with a handsome opal ring. Her brother, Charlie, gave her $20, and a couple of fivers came from the foothills of the Rockies from her sister, Agnes, and her brother, Asa. They took the five o'clock train from Cayton amid showers of rice and old slippers for their home in Toronto. "Heaven bless and prosper them" is the wish of all. Life looks bright ahead of the happy hearts, and we hope the sunshine of Love may ever glow upon them.

Shoddy in British and American Woollens. The article, "Why is Wool so Cheap?" previously alluded to, further states that shoddy is the great feature in the trade of one of the leading towns of the Heavy Woollen District of Yorkshire, and it is well known that the mills do turn out an enormous weight of goods, the material being composed mostly of shoddy, cotton and the like. Sixteenpence to eighteenpence per yard (broad width) is the price of these so called woollen goods, and plenty of attractive fabrics are made at less. It is also stated that Scotch manufacturers of tweeds, who hitherto used no shoddy, have had to resort to its use in order to compete with the composition of similar articles largely composed of shoddy produced in several Yorkshire towns and elsewhere. The manufacture of artificial wools—and it is somewhat difficult to understand the designation—is said to be a large industry supplying manufacturers with a cheap substitute for the real article. In speaking of the trade of another town in the Heavy Woollen District, the Yorkshire Observer says it is noted for its classical cloths, cheap dress meltons, dyed in classical shades, which find their chief markets in Greece and the Levantine ports. If all goes well there is a great future for these goods. The twills and serges produced here are in great favor with wholesale clothiers, and combined with an export demand, a steady trade results the whole year round. Into the composition of the higher grades a percentage of wool enters, but it is small. The cheap costumes which adorn the windows of many mantle shops are made in this locality. Tweeds and

FLESHERTON

The Shelburne Free Press informed its readers last week that John McArthur, merchant, of Pricewille, and representative for Artemesia in the County Council, offered to present the county with a marked cheque for $1000 towards the expenses of the proposed House of Refuge if it was erected at Pricewille or within two miles of that village. Our sister burg is to be congratulated on having a citizen so generous, and the liberal offer from Artemesia and Proton's worthy representative should be appreciated by our County Fathers when deciding upon a site.

The Stonewall Gazette (Man.) reports Mr. Samuel Cleland, who lives near that place, to have recently sold his farm—half section—for $5500 cash. Mr. Cleland was formerly a resident of Artemesia township, and is a brother-in-law of Mr. Joseph Blackburn, of this village.

On Tuesday of last week the 213th anniversary of the Relief of Derry, the Y. M. P. B. A. lodge here celebrated the day at an enjoyable picnic held in Flesher's park. The weather being ideal for harvesting, a goodly number were prevented from participating in the pleasure of the occasion. The same day the Presbyterian Sabbath School also picnicked at the park and had a very enjoyable afternoon at their annual event.

Master Ross, the resourceful little five-year-old son of Mr. W. J. Douglas, of Collingwood, who is here visiting his grandma VanDusen, remembered one morning last week that his birthday had come and thought, of course, that it should be commemorated in a fitting manner. Without divulging his scheme he sallied forth in the execution of the same and on his return informed his grandma that it was his birthday and that he had invited a number of little ladies to a birthday party. There was a surprise, of course, but the invitations having gone forth due preparations must be made. The company came, refreshments were served on the lawn, after which, if one can judge the pleasure by the lung expansion, Ross' birthday celebration was a success.

Miss Ella Karst-it gave a pleasant party on Saturday afternoon to a number of her young friends in honor of her own and her little sister's birthday.

Friday last was Civic Holiday here. A large number took in the A. O. U. W. excursion to Owen Sound, and report a very enjoyable time.

That some individual has a sneaking regard for fruit grown in your scribe's garden is again in evidence. The annual visit was paid one night last week where a nicely laden cherry tree was stripped of its fruit.

Mr. Wm. Reid, who is retiring from farming on the Old Durham Road, has purchased Mrs. Dinwoody's neat property in this place.

Principal Fawcett, Mrs. Brown and Miss Martin returned on Saturday and commenced school duties on Monday with about the usual attendance at opening. Three of Mr. Fawcett's pupils wrote at the P. S. L. examinations, two of whom—Miss Jennie Wilson and Miss L. Cooper—were successful. On the part of Miss Jennie Hopps, who was considered the most efficient in the class, an appeal is likely to be made.

On Thursday evening last a Baptist service was held in the Methodist church when four children were presented for the solemn ordinance. At last Sabbath morning service there was received into full membership a large number of converts taken on trial four months ago. In the evening the pastor's theme was "The Almighty Dollar" based on Luke 12: 15, and was the first of a series of sermons to be given on "Ruling forces of the present age." Next Sabbath evening "Party Politics" will receive attention. The Baptist pulpit is being supplied for two Sabbaths by Rev. John Stafford, B. D. The pastor, Rev. Albert Cooke, Mrs. Cooke and little son left last week for a fortnight's holidays at Meaford and up the Georgian Bay. Boarders and patrons in the Munshaw House are now having their palates regaled with dishes of the most modern and delectable character from the hands of a gentleman cook who has been installed in the culinary department of the house.

Mr. Fred Armstrong, sen., of Toronto, is visiting relatives here.

Miss Brown, of Durham, is the guest of Miss Florie Richardson.

Miss Bunt, of Toronto, is visiting her brothers, W. H. and J. P.

Mr. Robt. Wright, of Hagersville High School, and wife are visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Wright, Sr.

Mr. Geo. Mitchell, of Buffalo, formerly butcher here, and wife are visiting Mrs. Mitchell's sisters, Mrs. F. Cairns and Mrs. D. McLeod, west back line.

Mrs. John Sheppard and Mrs. E. Scott visited on Saturday till Tuesday with friends at Meaford.

Mr. and Mrs. John Brown, east back line, met with a run-away accident on Sunday evening last in which they were thrown from their buggy and sustained severe injuries, the former about the head and face and the latter wrist sprained.
