Sale.

TEIGHT, N. D. R., feil fenced and watered of cultivation. Easy

LD MCCOSKERY, 11 Peter St., Toronto

Sale.

D LOT ON QUEEN property of Mrs. J. L. use contains 12 rooms d, and quite new. Will boarding house, For

J. L. BROWNE, tf. Photographer.

ots For Sale.

IN OF DURHAM s lots on the west side ng part of Lots 10 & 11. on the east side of Garapart of Lots 10 & 11.

to secure building lots. lars apply to

J. M. HUNTER, Durham.

ots For Sale.

WISHING TO PURle building lots would k at John A. Warren's n of Park Lot number ster street, in the Gov. f the Town of Durham. the office of J. P. Telthe office of the underer particulars apply to

SALD DAVIDSON, Clerk Division Court,

d. DURHAM, ONT.

for Sale.

CON. 14, GLEN. g 100 acres-90 acres class state of cultii, well watered, with g and good out build-54x64 on stone foundne barn 25x50. Good learly 100 trees, will be on easy terms. For the owner, Dafter, Mich.

GEORGE LAMB,

for Sale.

CON. 3, SOUTH Township of Glenelg, cultivation. There is Post barn and stables. l orchard. Convenient and post offices. For

S. MARY MCNULTY. PRMICK,

CARTHUR,

Priceville P. O., Ont

For Sale.

N EASY TERMS OF ots 24 and 25, 13 conces-County, half a mile and a quarter from e and a mile from sawred, 100 acres in good emainder pasture land. good bush and 5 acres trees in full bearing. n on stone foundation ered house, 2 wells on never-failing spring in for further particul-

TAYLOR, CHESLEY.

Astray.

THE PREMISES OF out the 4th day of July e apparently seven or The Owner may have operty and paying ex-

ROBERT HILLIS, Varney P. O.

Lot for Sale.

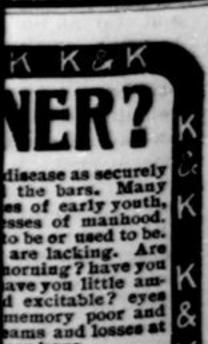

AGE IN A DESIR. Bruce Street, 1 acre. ral bearing fruit trees. or particulars apply to

IRS. A. E. HIND, Durham.

or Sale.

E FARM, TOWNnt, near Holstein, comod bank barn, orchard, ost office and Railway

MRS. H. ADAMS, Holstein P. O.

ou have Weakness. r is guaranteed to etroit. Bank old established, Free. Books e Treatment.

rgan,

HARVESTING MANITOBA CROP.

How the Army of Farm Laborers Will be Sent to Their Destinations.

More important than any other topic at this particular time is the given by the Manitoba Government ing but whiskey.—Harriston Review. in a statement made by Mr. Hugh McKellar, of the Department of Ag-where they may desire to go. Upon did. But Dowie could do nothing for inquiry I find many of those con- him, and he died there just as he templating going from this locality would have died here, by slow dehave relatives, friends or farmers for grees. The remains will be buried whom they have worked before, and for whom they have promised to work again should they return. These parties will decline to go unticketed through to their desired destination."

the laborers from the East:

years, if they advise such friends or chances are that he will get nothing. farmers that they are coming, sc - Walkerton Telescope. that such friends and farmers do not engage others.

from Winnipeg to destination. For I need and all I want, but it goes those who have never been here to against the grain to be compelled to help in larvesting and who have no go to work two weeks sooner than particular place to go, we are arrang- the town teachers." For our own ing that they shall be met at Winnipeg by delegate farmers from all any good reason why town schools points in the province and taken out should have longer holidays than the to their various districts. This is to rural schools, and if the former class prevent congestion at any stations. of schools were to open a couple of A pass is also given to all such from weeks sooner it would be a great re-Winnipeg to destination.

"You will see, therefore, that Telescope. there is no interference with men who know their destination, and that every assistance possible is to be given by the officials of this department in locating those who may come to assist us for the first time. There is nothing, therefore, to deter any one from coming. They are wanted, and they will receive every cited except the owner. After adattention and assistance possible."

It is hoped that the Eastern Canadian press will put this matter in its proper light, so that no one may be deterred from going, for it may be readily seen from the above letter that men will be allowed to go to whatever destination they desire. without interference, and those who have no special preference will be assisted in every possible way.

Murdered Her Daughter.

Victoria, B. C., Aug. 16.-A horrible murder took place here this morning. Mrs. Fleming, widow of Mr. John W. Fleming, of North Park street, killed her daughter, Pearl, with an axe. Fleming had the contract to supply steel for the high school building a year ago, and committed suicide by hanging himself having become involved in financial trouble through the contract. His aberration, and this morning she rose Back Ache? about 6 o'clock, and going to the shed, took an axe, and entering the If It aches and pains, is stiff and sore, daughter's bedroom struck her twice with the back of the axe on the fore-Mrs. Fleming then rushed out into the yard with the bloody axe and tried to break into a neighbor's Some women seized and asked her what she had done. woman replied: "I've killed Pearl; her father wanted her in heaven, and Women, on breaking into the house, found the girl still breathing. and medical aid was summoned, but the girl shortly afterwards died. Tablets. She was 21 years of age The un-She was 21 years of age The unfortunate mother is in custody.

Blotches.

great disadvantage in life. The only forms of kidney trouble. cure is a blood purifier like Ferro-20ne. It cleanses the crimson flood mail, THE DR. ZINA PITCHER Co., Toronto. poisons and impurities, renews and strengthens it, and makes lots of red corpuscies that manifest their presence by a ruddy, healthy glow in the cheeks and lips. Ferrozone builds up broken-down constitutions, about five years old. Three feet were abundance of sickly women an abundance of sickly women an quickly masters all skin eruptions, and beauty. Try Ferrozone, it's all right. Price 50c per box or 6 boxes right. Price 50c. per box, or 6 boxes for $2.50, at druggists, or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

District News.

ITEMS OF INTEREST CLIPPED AND RE-WRITTEN FROM OUR EXCHANGES.

Edward Waterous, who visits Hargathering of the anticipated bountiful riston quite frequently, was arrested harvest in Manitoba and the Territor- at Owen Sound on Friday on a charge ies this and next month. At least of vagrancy and was sentenced to a 20,000 men are required for the work, month. Edward has only one leg, and the great majority of these will and has been doing the country for from Ontario, Quebec and the the past five years in search of funds Maritine Provinces. Some interest- to buy a cork one for the off side but ing information regarding the way can never raise more than expenses. the farm laborers will be handled is Although waterous, he drinks noth-

Mr. John Leggett received word riculture, in reply to the following on Tuesday of the death of his father, letter received from a person in On- at Zion City, near Chicago. For some years past Mr. Leggett had Please say what arrangements suffered from cancer. His friends at you will have at Winnipeg for send- Zion promised him a speedy cure if ing farm laborers to certain localities he would only go there, and go he at Zion City .- Walkerton Telescope.

When a man becomes an employee of the Grand Trunk Railway Co., he is compelled to pay so much a month less some arrangement is made into an insurance fund. In case he whereby they can be sure of being is disabled he is permitted to draw a certain amount out of this fund for a period not exceeding 26 weeks. In The following is Mr. McKellar's case of death, his heirs draw the letters at will. "When they were some reply, which concisely sums up what whole amount for which his life was hundreds of miles asunder, each of the Government has done in the way insured. So far, the fund is all right, of preparing for the distribution of but proper provision does not seem to have been made for the man who "The question you raise is the one is dismissed from his office or who that impressed itself most forcibly voluntarily throws it up. A case in upon me last year in considering any point is that of James Dougan, who change in our method of distributing was dismissed from the section at harvest hands. I consider it absurd Dunkeld. He had paid about $400 to dictate to any man where he into the fund, but on applying for a should go, especially when men have refund in quiting the service, he has definite places in view. There is been informed that if he can produce nothing, however, in this year's ar- evidence of complete disability he rangement, that will prevent men will be allowed seventeen fiftieths of from going to their friends or to the amount which he paid in. This, those for whom they worked in past of course, he cannot do, and the tricts re opened on Monday of this The fare to Winnipeg is $10. On week. In towns and incorporated presenting stub of coupon to C. P. R. villages they have two weeks longer. officials on arrival at Winnipeg a The teachers in the country think pass is given to any point in Mani- this is unfair. They can see no good toba and away men go to destination. reason why the school law should They can take care of themselves for make fish of one and flesh of another. they have been here before. Their As one teacher remarked to the Telebaggage would also be re-checked scope,-"I have had all the holidays part we have never been able to see lief to many parents. - Walkerton > figured in the first one. While stood in line. standing in front of Whitehead & Huether's store it suddenly bolted and went down the street like a rocket. Everybody who saw it got exmiring the animals speed for a minute or two he proceeded very leisurely to with hats off cheered the figure of their follow it, remarking that getting into devoted nurse until the roof rang a splutter wouldn't make the horse stop The animal was finally captured without any particular harm having been done. Two ladies figured in the next runaway. These were Miss Mary Harrison and Miss Jennie Hudson. The horse becoming frightened at a reaping machine, ran all he way from Adamson's tile yards to its own stable. All went well until the stable was reached, but there a wheel was smashed on passing through the door. The young ladies escaped without injury but got a pretty bad fright .- Walkerton Telescope.

Does

so that you can hardly get round to do your work, or If you're so bad you've had to go to bed, just take

Dr. Pitcher's Backache

The new Scientific remedy, prepared by the eminent Kidney Special-Irritating Pimples and Disfiguring Ist, Dr. Zina Pitcher. These Tablets cure promptly and permanently the They place many young girls at a worst kinds of bad backs and all Price 50c. a box, at all druggiste or by Horse Astray.

CITRAYED FROM THE PREMISos of the undersigned on or about the

C. W. HARTMAN, Clarksburg standing .- "Scotsman" Aug. 20, 1902.

Literature's Anticipations of Science.

VERY interesting book might be written, as the "Spectator" observes, by collecting together all the cases in which poets and dramatists and novelists have anticipated the triumphs of later science. A correspondent has just called attention to such a case, in which he claims that the Spanish dramatist Calderon uttered "a very clear prevision of Marconi's wireless telegraphy." Freely translated, the passage in question reads as follows: "They say that when two instruments are properly attuned together they communicate to each other their wind-borne echoes; touch the one instrument and the winds excite its fellow, though none be near it." Calderon's reference is, of course, to the well-known principle of resonance, and can scarcely be used as a prophecy of wireless telegraphy, but in the writings of a contemporary of Calderon there is a much closer approximation to Marconi's discovery. Strada, the learned Jesuit historian, tells us how two friends carried on a correspondence "by the help of a certain Loadstone, which had such virtue in it that, if it touched two several needles, when one of the needles so touched began to move, the other, though at never so great a distance, moved at the same time and in the same manner." Strada goes on to describe how these two friends made a kind of "alphabetic telegraph" - a dial-face with the letters of the alphabet placed around its edge, and a needle in the center which them shut himself up in his closet at the time appointed, and immediately cast his eye upon his dial-plate. If he had a mind to write anything to his friend, he directed his needle to every letter that formed the words which he had occasion for, making a little pause at the end of every word or sentence to avoid confusion. The friend, in the meanwhile, saw his sympathetic needle moving of itself to every letter which that of his correspondent pointed at. By this means they talked across a whole continent, and conveyed their thoughts to one another in an instant, over cities or mountains, seas or deserts." Not only had these correspondents no necessity for wires; they did not even need the simple apparatus upon which Marconi depends, although The public schools in the rural dis- there are scientific prophets of our day who believe that we shall yet reach even a higher standard of simplicity in the future.

Recognized Their Old Friend.

HE love which English people, especially British soldiers, feel for Florence Nightingale has been shown at many times and in many places. A new and striking instance of it was recently given by the "Sunday Magazine."

The late Sir John Steell, sculptor to Queen Victoria, was modeling a bust of Miss Nightingale, when an officer of one of the Highland regiments which had suffered so cruelly in the Crimea heard that the bust had just been completed, and was in Sir John's studio. Many of the men in his company had passed through the hospital at Scutari, and he obtained permission from the sculptor to bring some of them to see We had two runaways in town last it. Accordingly a squad of men one week. The Rev. Mr. Wittich's horse day marched into the big studio and

> They had no idea why they had been mustered in so strange a place. Without a word of warning the bust was uncovered, and then, as by one impulse, the men broke rank, and with cries of "Miss Nightingale! Miss Nightingale!" surrounded the model, and

> So spontaneous and hearty and so inspiring was the whole scene that in after days Sir John Steell declared it to be the greatest compliment of his life.

At a New York Pier.

The traveler fell on his knees and begged for mercy; but the customs inspector was adamant.

"Once, and once only," said the latter, "I let a man go through without offering him every indignity that savage ingenuity can devise. He proved to be a spotter from Washington, and I nearly lost my job. I sha'n't make that mistake again."

Yes, the traveler would have to have his stomach pumped out; most distinctly, yes.-N. Y. "Life."

A Story of Cecil Rhodes.

Mr. Cecil Rhodes' latest biographer, Mr. Hensman, contradicts the story that Rhodes ever used the phrase "he never met a man whom he could not buy." The germ of this fiction, Mr. Hensman says, "is to be found in the fact that one day, many years ago. when discussing his proposed telegraph wire from one end of Africa to the other, somebody asked him how he proposed to carry it across the Soudan, which was then under the domination of the Khalifa. 'Oh, leave it to me,' Rhodes answered. 'I never met the man yet that I could not come to an agreement with, and I shall be able to fix things up with the Khalifa when the time comes.' This is the true version of a story that in its distorted form has been so widely circulated."

Proof Positive.

A convict at a French penal settlement, who was undergoing a life sentence, desired to marry a female convict, such marriages being of common occurrence. The governor of the colony offered no objection, but the priest proceed dt cross xamine the ir's ner. "Did you not marry in France?" he

"Yes." "And your wife is dead?"

that she is dead?" "Then I must decline to marry you. You must produce some proof that your wife is dead."

"Have you any document to show prospective looked at the would-be Finally he said: "I can prove that my former wife is dead." "How will you do so?"

"I was sent here for killing her."

Curiosities of Book Sales.

Commenting on the phenomenal sale of some recent novels, a correspondent of the "Book Buyer" writes interestingly of notable books that years ago were popular, but since have become practically unknown. He says:

There was once a very popular preacher who wrote many books, and for every one there was a large demand on the day of publication. But most of them passed out of print while he was still living, and I doubt if a single one of them is now kept in stock by any bookstore. Not many years ago appeared a book which the laboring classes and the tenementhouse population bought so eagerly as to run the sale into the hundreds of thousands, because they thought it showed how an equal distribution of all property might be brought about. Now it appears to be dead. Helper's "Impending Crisis" attained a sale of 140,000 copies, forty years ago, which was as great an achievement as half a million would be to-day. That was because of its bearing on burning political questions and the fact that it was systematically attacked in Congress. Now you can occasionally find a stray copy of it in a second-hand shop. Tourgee's "Fool's Errand," twenty years later, reached about the same circulation. For purposes of comparison, this and "Uncle Tom's Cabin" would seem to be closely analogous. But while the "Fool's Errand" has almost, if not quite, gone out of circulation, Mrs. Stowe's great novel, thirty years older, still sells largely in several editions, and at many libraries is called for more frequently than any other book. Mrs. Stephens' "Fashion and Famine" was the best selling novel of its day, and three translations of it were published in France. But to-day it is difficult to find a copy of it anywhere except in the lumber-room of a public library. Another example may be seen in the sudden popularity and subsequent deadness of "Robert Elsmere," the author of which is still writing successful books. Were it not that it might seem like telling tales out of school, something could be said of certain books that have begun life with a phenomenal sale, which has stopped suddenly and unaccountably, as if at some mysterious signal.

For the reverse of the picture, the most notable example is afforded by "Ben Hur." This book had no sale worth mentioning for a year after its publication, and was considered dead. Now it is said to have attained a circulation surpassing that of any other American novel, with the single exception of "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

Someone might prepare a curious and entertaining article on three classes of books in light literature: 1. Those that have had an immediate large sale, and have then gone to oblivion. 2. Those that have had no sale at first, but afterward have met with large success. 3. Those that have been popular at the start and never lost their popularity. The first class would be the largest. Probably the second class would be the smallest. Two that would shine in the third are the "Autocrat at the Breakfast Table" and "Reveries of a Bachelor."

The Making of Anagrams.

Apropos the renewal of the Shakespeare-Bacon controversy, an article by William Sheppard in the "Era" on the making of anagrams is enlightening. "A correspondent has asked me," says Mr. Sheppard, "to furnish him with some good anagrams on the names of famous people. He further informs me that has spent a good deal of time trying to make an acceptable anagram on the United States, and has failed to do so. With reference to this failure, 1 would remind him that he must not be discouraged. The task he has attempted is an enormous one. United States has just a dozen letters. Now, mathematicians will tell him that a dozen letters will admit of seven thousand and twenty-nine millions (7,029,000,000) of possible transpositions. Old Camden has vividly described the vexation of soul undergone by anagrammatists when oft-repeated effort, with an oftrepeated approximation to success, have finally resulted in loss of time and labor: 'Some have been seen,' he says, 'to bite their pens, scratch their heads, bend their brows, bite their lips, beat their board, their paper, when they were fair for somewhat and caught nothing herein.' Again, let him comfort himself by the reflection that no one has yet succeeded in making a good English anagram on United States. Anagrammatists have been forced to fall back upon the more fluent and manageable Latin. It has been discovered that the letters forming United States may be transposed into the following Latin words:

In te deus stat. "God stands in thee." Inde tutus stat. "Hence thou stand-est safely." Dentatus est. "He has teeth," the "he" evidently referring to Uncle Sam. Desiste, nutat! "Hands off, he shakes!" a sentiment which may have been applicable in 1861, when it was made, but is now, thank Heaven, without meaning or point.

Siste, nudat te. "Stop, he strips thee," which might be revived to-day by the Anti-Imperialists in their warnings to our new subjects in Cuba and the Philippines.

A te desistunt. "They keep off from thee," which is exactly the attitude which the anti's wish the United States to assume towards Cuba and the Phil-

In Desperation.

European king sighed and stirred uneasily., "My subjects," he exclaimed, "are getting so enlightened, so imbued with the 'deas of democracy, that they no longer fawn upon me, toady to me. There's only one thing for me to do to relieve this monotony. I must visit America."-"Town Top-

A Phenomenon of Sleep.

He had come on her dozing in a ham-There was a pause, and the bride mock, and when she woke up she accused him of stealing a kiss. "Well." he said, "I will admit that the temptation was too strong to be resisted. I did steal one little kiss." "One!" she exclaimed, indignantly; "I counted eight before I woke up."-"Household The bride accepted him notwith-Words."

N., G. & J. McKechnie.

THE POPULAR CASH STORE.

CARPETS

4

•=

At reduced prices they must go to make room for new goods. Call and see them.

LACE CURTAINS

From Nottingham; beautiful goods; prices 2½ yds. long 60c, 3½ yds. long $1.25, 3½ yds. long $1.75.

arg

MUSLINS

White dotted muslins 10c per yd.

GROCERIES

Cheese, per lb					120				14
Lard, per 10			-						14
rice, o los									95
Japan Rice, B lbs									05
Tapioca, o lbs									OF
Dulk Starch, per lb									7
rickles, per quart		38	12						15
Codfish, per lb									7
Lemons, per doz	• •	. ,							20

MEATS

Roll bacon, per Shoulders, per Hams, per lb Bologna, per lb Home Cured, pe	lb		 					. 140
Shoulders, per	lb		 					. 140
Hams, per lb					٠.			. 150
Home Canad								.10c
nome Curea, pe	er 10.	• • •	 • •	• •		• •		12½c

THE POPULAR CASH STORE.

N., G. & J. McKechnie.

MOCKLER.

Mid-Summer Sale!

To reduce our stock and make room for fall goods which are already arriving, and among which will be found many bargains on account of early buying, we will now commence our Annual Mid-summer Sale which will run for thirty days.

Boots and Shoes. Dry Goods, Hats and Caps, Furnishings and Notions.

For Next 30 Days!

We will offer special values which can not fail to interest the careful buyer. We have no room for prices this week but watch our windows and the paper and come in and see for yourself. You'll go away more than satisfied.

H. W. MOCKLER.
