NOTICE is hereby given to the public that the undersigned, who have been working for the past year under the name of "Barclay and Noble," have ceased to do business together and will henceforth carry on operations separately, each in his own shop. THOS. BARCLAY, THOS. NOBLE.

OUR readers will notice this week that A. B. contributes another article on that religious controversy between himself and Reader. Though we are still out of touch with all such discussion, a cheque for the full amount at two dollars a column makes it easier for us to bear the burden, and even at this modest charge we have an idea we can stand it just as long as he can. We feel a little sorry now that Reader has left the ring, but we can't help his departure.

THE stock of the Durham Natural Gas & Oil Co., Limited, is rapidly being subscribed, and the Directors expect to have sufficient sold in a very short time to enable them to commence operations. Owing to Mr. C. Layton and Mr. J. A. Hunter both having left town and consequently having resigned their positions as directors, Mr. John McKechnie has been appointed President and Mr. John Kelly Vice-President of the Company. The stock books are still open, and any person desiring to subscribe may do so at the Standard Bank, or Mr. McKechnie's office, or the office of the Secretary, W. S. Davidson, where prospectuses of the Company may also be obtained.

We congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Yiirs on the matrimonial state into which they have just entered. Mrs. Yiirs, now, was Miss Sarah Gambol before she answered the preacher's questions. We are not informed where the marriage was performed nor by whom the nuptial knot was tied. On Wednesday morning of last week, Mr. Yiirs, a valued employee in the Furniture Factory, got leave of absence to go and see his sister in Milverton, but whether he saw his sister or not we are unable to say. On Thursday, however, he came home with someone else's sister, and now the two are happy in each others company. Mr. Yiirs is a clever mechanic in more lines than one, a good all round musician and a reliable gentleman in every way. We heard it on the side that Mrs. Yiirs is a first class housekeeper and a No. 1 cook. Under the circumstances there's hardly any one could blame George for falling in love with such a treasure. We wish the happy couple all kinds of enjoyment.

ON Hallow-e'en the cry was Get a Gate off. Now it is Get a Gait on to the New Clothing & Furnishing Store.

MR. DUNCAN McFARLANE, a former Durham boy, but now of Flint, Mich., was united in marriage to the girl of his choice in the person of Miss Hilda Johnston of that place, on October 21st. We extend our heartiest congratulations to the young couple.

REV. J. McD. DUNCAN, B. D., of Toronto, preached in the Presbyterian church on Sunday last, and at both services gave thoughtful and earnest discourses, which were much appreciated. The congregations hearing him were large, and the collections, which were for the Church Improvement Fund, were liberal.

THE Man on the Street informs us that a river is a fine institution to have in a town. A few weeks ago he stood on the bridge at midnight, and was poetically inspired as he witnessed the shadows of the stumps reflected from the placid bosom of the Saugeen. Not only is a river an esthetic acquisition to an up-to-date town, but it may also be made of utilitarian value, as a cheap mode to transport the damaged chickens, geese and turkeys, of town merchants and others who feel themselves overloaded with such a commodity. This is one of the uses the Man on the Street says was made recently of our noble river. He said he thought it wasn't right, but we can't see any ground for complaint. What could be more conducive to the health and happiness of the community than to breathe an atmosphere that was thoroughly fragrant with the aroma of rotten goose? The Man on the Street is getting too fastidious and we'll have to give him a calling down.

People We Know

THE GOING AND COMING OF VISITORS IN THE MONTH OF NOVEMBER.

Miss Lizzie Burnett is home from Toronto for a few weeks holiday.

Dr. Park, of Hamilton, spent Sunday with his mother and sister here.

Mr. Homer Hind leaves for Waterloo next week where he has secured a position as baker there.

Councillors Allan and McKinnon left Monday morning for Owen Sound to attend the County Council.

Mr. and Mrs. John McPhail, of Tiverton, Bruce Co., are spending a few days visiting Mr. John A. Black, of this town.

Mr. Henry Cameron, bank clerk, came home Saturday night to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Cameron, and left Monday morning for Winnipeg.

Mr. Lick, Fruit Inspector, of Oshawa, was in town Thursday night of last week to visit his sister, Miss Lick, of the teaching staff here.

Mrs. Greaves, of Saginaw, is visiting her father, Mr. Samuel Arrow-smith who has been ill for the past month or so. We regret to learn he is not improving much.

Mr. George Stinson, who for the past two years has been Mr. Rowe's head baker, leaves this (Thursday) morning for Waterloo, where he has secured a more lucrative position. "George" made many friends while here, and is a young man of character, trustworthy and diligent.

CHIEF CARSON was out last week to take the soundings in Wilder's Lake. Big Bill says he heard the sound.

This week a partnership was entered between T. J. Jordan, of the Star Grocery, and Joe Burnett, who has been doing business up town. It is their intention to enlarge the business and put in a heavier stock. The concern will go by the firm name of Jordan and Burnett, and their new ad. will appear next week. They are both popular, and will, no doubt, control the grocery business.

We were pleased last week to have a call from one of our old school boys, Mr. McCubbin, who was under our instruction twenty-two years ago in the town of Leamington. He is now a Civil Engineer, and lives in St. Thomas where he is doing well. We weren't fishing for compliments when he told us we had still many friends in Leamington who regarded the humble scribe as the best teacher the school ever had. We assure our readers that some of them didn't think so.

ON Saturday last Mr. R. T. Edwards, of Traverston, called at this office and ordered out a small ad. he put in about some colts he had for sale. Knowing the notice would bring buyers he intended to have it inserted only once, and if we mistake not he disposed of all the animals before the next issue. We left the item in, however, for a couple of weeks longer, and he tells us that prospective purchasers are still coming. What's true in Mr. Edwards' case is true in nearly every case. A small amount expended in advertising in THE CHRONICLE will bring the buyer and seller together in nearly every case. THE CHRONICLE is found in many homes in Durham and vicinity, and we feel safely within the bounds of truth when we say it is the best advertising medium in South Grey.

The Big Jewellery Store.

DURHAM, ONT.

THEY sell Nasmith's bread at the Star Grocery, and Mr. Jordan, the proprietor, informs us that he wants everybody to know the half loaf is 1½ and the whole loaf 3 lbs.

A MAGISTRATE'S Court was held here on Tuesday afternoon before Justices Ryan, of Ayton, and Crawford, of this place. The charge preferred was made by Principal Allan in behalf of the Lord's Day Alliance against a number of the Cement Company's employees for a violation of the Lord's Day Act by working on the dredge at Wilder's Lake on Sunday, the 26th day of October. Twelve summonses in all were served, and seven cases were disposed of. It is hardly necessary to give the names of those who appeared, nor is it practicable to find space for the volume of evidence taken down in connection with the trial. The investigation went to show, however, that the employees engaged in the work on the request of the foreman carpenter, who took his instructions from Mr. Farr, the superintendent here, and who takes his instructions from the Cement Co. It is therefore to be inferred, or rather to be seen, that the Company were the prime movers in causing the work to be done on the Sunday in question. No attempt was made by any one to deny the charge of having worked, but the plea of the experts of the Company, who gave evidence in the case, went to show that the work was a work of necessity. The magistrates found a case, and taxed each a dollar and costs, deciding to be as lenient as possible as this was the first offence. County Crown Attorney Armstrong for plaintiff. Wm. Kingston, Mt. Forest, and W. F. Dunn of MacKay & Dunn for defendants.

WINDSOR IS SOLD.

Con. Knapp Buys a New Hotel at the Canadian Soo.

Sault Ste Marie (Mich.) Evening Journal, Nov. 1.

A deal is now being arranged for the sale of the Windsor hotel. The consideration is $50,000. The name of the purchaser is Con. Knapp, of Owen Sound, one of the best known hotel men in Ontario. The price has been agreed upon, $20,000 paid on it and the parties now are only waiting for the arrival of Mr. Knapp and the signing of the necessary papers.

The Windsor hotel is on the corner of Queen and Brock streets and does a large business. James Breen has owned it for several years past, and it is understood that he would not have sold out had it not been for the fact that he is in very poor health and desires to retire from business.

Mr. Knapp is expected to-morrow, and it is expected that the change in management will take place some time next week.

Prospecting for Railroad.

ON Friday last THE CHRONICLE was honored with a call from Mr. John H. Teall, of Tilsonburg, Gen. Manager of Lake Erie and Pacific Ry., and G. A. McCubbin, Civil Engineer, of St. Thomas. The former gentleman is interested in the railway running from Port Dover to Ingersol, and both gentlemen are touring the country with a view to extending the road to Collingwood by way of points near Stratford, Arthur, Flesherton and Thornbury. Their mission here was to ascertain particulars and learn of any advantages in the way of business if the road were made to touch Durham instead of running several miles to the east of it. The physical features of the country were claimed to be somewhat uninviting, and the short interview left very little apparent encouragement that they would come this way. The most practicable route to Collingwood, according to what we could learn in the interview, would be by way of Flesherton, thence down the Reaver Valley to Thornbury, and along the shore of the Georgian Bay to Collingwood. The road would then tap a large territory now unprovided with railway facilities, and also facilitate transportation between Lake Erie and Georgian Bay.

We took the gentlemen to the Office of the Cement Co in order that they might have a short interview with the managers, but it was too soon after the noon hour to find any of them in, and want of time as well as other circumstances, prevented their return at a later hour. It seems to us that a railway from Lake Erie to Georgian Bay would be an immense advantage to the Company in furnishing a direct line for the import of coal as well as more direct communication with the Canadian North-west, where large shipments of cement will doubtless be made.

The question is an important one, and as the road is in a fair way of going ahead, it would be well for the business men of the town to take the matter up and investigate its merits.
