

Cough and colds on the increase.

WE never had such a demand for cough preparation as just now. One reason is the prevalence of coughs and colds and another most important reason is because our Preparations are so reliable and effectual that people are pleased to tell their friends and neighbors about them.

For the coughs of Adults.

WE would especially recommend our CARR'S COUGH CURE. It relieves the severe coughing spells so that you can rest at night, and at the same time loosens up the phlegm and clears the lungs and bronchial tubes.

Price 50 cents.

For Children's Coughs.

COUGH medicine suited for grown up people is not always adapted to the needs of the little folks. Our BABY'S COUGH CURE is especially prepared for the children and cures their coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis, etc. more effectually than any other remedy.

Price 25 cents.

DURHAM CHRONICLE

W. IRWIN, Editor and Proprietor.

Durham, Jan. 28th, 1904.

A letter appears in this issue from the pen of Mr. W. A. Clemons, Publication Clerk at Ottawa. His topic deals with Canadian Butter in the British Market. The butter business is becoming more and more important, and it behoves every one interested in the exportation of so extensive an output to use every means to secure British confidence in Canadian butter. The writer points out that irregularity and uncertainty of quality are damaging factors in the British market regarding Canadian made butter, and the remedies suggested, to say the least, seem to be feasible, and worthy of more than a passing thought. The rancidity and rapid deterioration of our Canadian made butter he attributes largely to imperfect refrigerator appliances, and as he speaks particularly to creamery owners he advises a careful effort to reduce the temperature at which butter is kept while in their hands. The article explains itself and further reference to the subject here is not necessary.

The butter question is one that demands an all-round attention and were it not for the fear that merchants have of giving offence to their customers the butter industry could be much improved even in our small farm dairies. The practice of giving the same price for anything or everything that the maker wishes to designate by the name "butter" is damaging to no small extent the quality of an article that might be and would be improved, if a regular grading system were adopted the same as buyers adopt in grading all kinds of farm products. A merchant can very blandly tell a person that the Lord didn't make his wheat grow as good a sample as his neighbors, but the same merchant would hesitate before saying to a farmer that his wife made poorer butter than his neighbors wife was in the habit of making, and yet this would be nothing more than the plain unvarnished truth. The galling feature in connection with the butter business is the unfairness in giving the same price for a species of non-descript salve as a neighbor has to accept for a first-class article of butter. The writer knows of a locality where butter was graded just the same as oats or barley were graded, and prices paid according to quality in one case just the same as the other. There was certainly difficulty in the initial stages of this movement, but the trouble soon ended, and it wasn't long till the whole butter-out-put was improved, and what could be designated as bad butter soon became a thing of the past. We spent two years in that locality, and never but once did we get butter of a low standard, and the woman who got from two to five cents a pound less for butter than her neighbor had usually sense enough not to be the first one to tell it. The idea of paying for the name rather than the quality of any article is decidedly wrong, and has a sure tendency to make people careless regarding the quality of the butter they put off on our local dealers.

If there's anything in keeping butter at a low temperature and there certainly is, it would be a good time now for farmers to put in a stock of ice for summer use. Ice is not hard to procure just now, it requires very little expense for an ice-house, and is not a hard article to preserve throughout the summer. Almost any ordinary shed with a few loads of sawdust will answer as a storehouse, and the benefits accruing from a little effort now is worthy of a trial. Even good butter doesn't take long to deteriorate in July weather, and not only farmers but dealers should prepare for such exigencies.

COUNTY JOTTINGS.

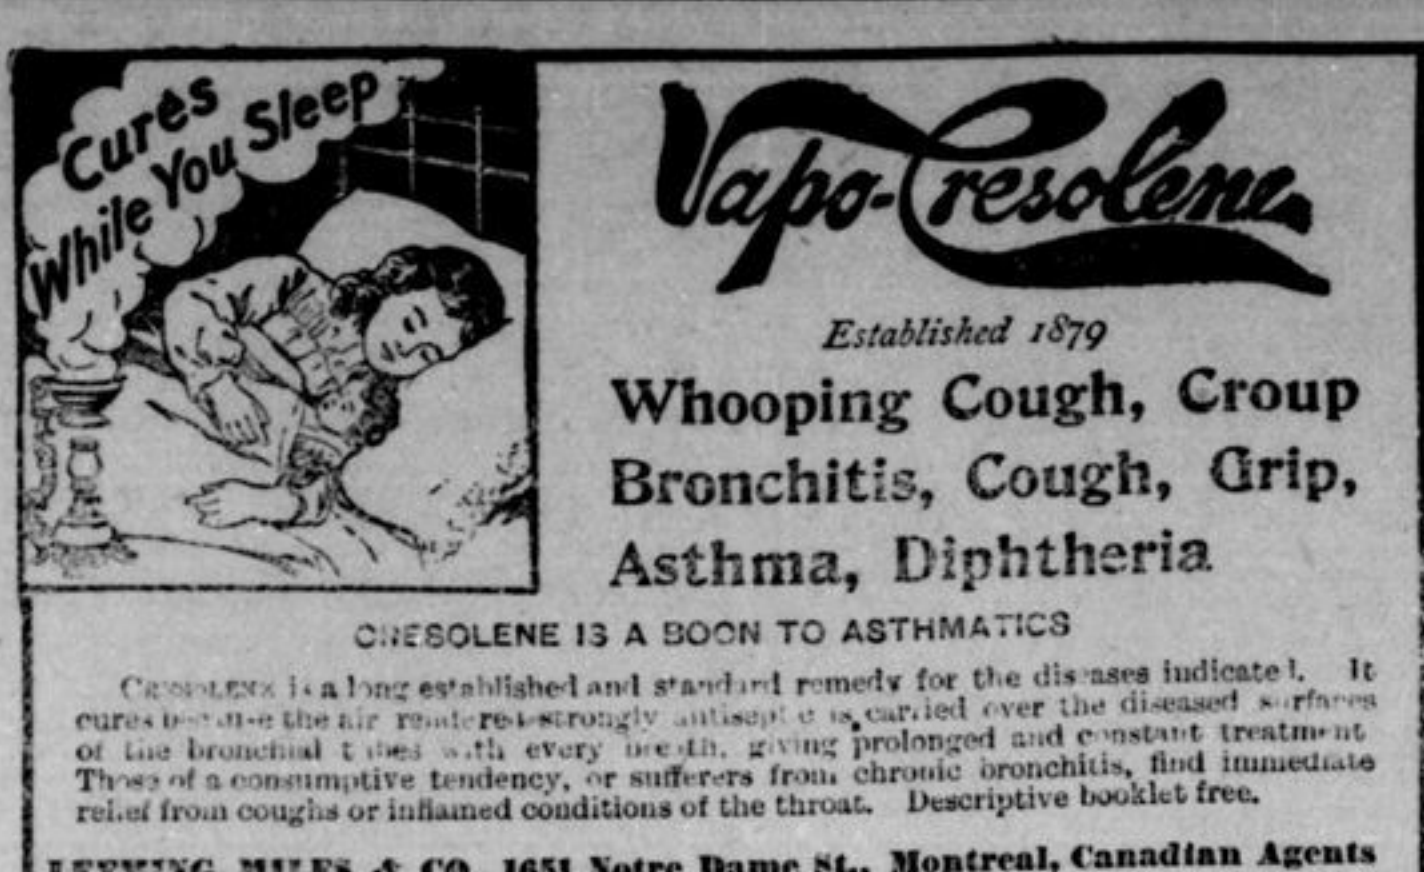

The local option by-law submitted to the vote of the ratepayer of the township of Euphrasia on the 4th of January was carried by a majority of 56 votes. The vote stood 332 for and 276 against the by-law. At present there are only two licensed hotels in the township. The township contains nine polling subdivisions, six of which gave a majority against the by-law in the other three polling places were large enough to wipe out the majorities against and leave a total majority of 56 for.—Chatsworth News.

A company has been formed to develop the Eugenia Falls waterpower composed of the following gentlemen as directors:—A. O. Hogz, Esq., Oakwood; Thos. McLaughlin, Toronto; Geo. F. Madden, Toronto; H. S. Lytle, manager Ontario Bank, Lindsay; L. B. Lucas, M. P. P., Markdale; B. F. Roesor, Lindsay. The secretary is Mr. McLaughlin, Toronto, and the head offices of the company are at 16 King street west, Toronto. The secretary writes that the company intend installing a first class electrical plant there during the coming season. The company claim to have 280 feet head, probably the highest head in Ontario. We do not know what sized plant the company purposes erecting, but presume it will be a large one, as the object is to supply power and lighting to surrounding towns.

A very serious misfortune befell the widow of the late Henry Collins one day last week, and she may die from the effects of her injuries. Mrs. Collins lives alone on the Meaford gravel road nearly half a mile from the business portion of the town. She was a smart old lady considering her years, she was 82. On Tuesday morning of last week while she was engaged in lighting the fire a spark ignited a woollen shawl she had thrown over her head. Before she could remove the shawl she was very badly burned about the head and face and her wearing apparel was also considerably burned, leaving her a terrible sufferer. In this condition she remained until Wednesday evening when her son, Mr. Dynes Collins, came from Kolapore. She was at once removed to the home of her son, Mr. Thos. Collins, who resides in town, and medical assistance sent for. At time of writing she is in a very precarious condition, and her suffering, while somewhat relieved, is still intense. It is a miracle how she escaped being burned to death under the circumstances.—Just as we go to press we learn that Mrs. Collins has passed away.—Thornbury Herald.

If the schools throughout the country take advantage next summer of the recent provisions of the Ontario Government in reference to rural school gardens there will probably be many beauty spots in various school grounds. The teachers should take up the matter early and have all plans for an excellent garden complete before the spring comes. The regulation of the Educational Department approved by Order-in-Council, with reference to school gardens provide that any rural school board which provides a school garden with the necessary equipment and accommodation shall be entitled to a share of whatever money may be appropriated by the legislature; every board which provides a school garden shall be entitled to an initial grant not exceeding $100, and a subsequent annual grant of $10, or if the appropriation does not warrant that sum then the grants shall be made pro rata; the area of the school garden must be at least one acre in addition to the rural school grounds; the trustees must provide tools and implements and a shed erected for use as a working laboratory and for storage of tools, etc.; the grant will be payable on the report of the inspector that the conditions have been complied with.

Spring Bank.

Joe Lawrence sold a two-year-old colt to W. J. Ector for the nice sum of $130. He also traded teams with his brother John and is now the owner of the best team in the neighborhood we presume.

Samuel Scott, of Glascoot, spent the fore part of the week visiting his sister, Mrs. W. R. Watson, and other friends in the neighborhood. Sam intends leaving in the early spring for Alberta or some place away up near the North Pole.

John Whitmore, of Rainy River District, after an absence of fifteen years is at present visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Whitmore, Sr. Mr. Whitmore has greatly changed in size and appearance and will, no doubt, witness as great a change in our people and vicinity.

Shovelling snow, doing chores and courting the stove is about all we farmers can do at present. To go courting otherwise seems a great difficulty according to what we saw on Monday morning. A young man from near Edge Hill was trying to plough his way homewards through the snow banks, no doubt having been storm stayed from the previous day.

Roy Teft, of Hanover, visited his father-in-law, John Eckhardt, who has been quite indisposed for some time.

It looks as if wood was becoming scarce in country as well as town as coal stoves are beginning to enter the neighborhood. Henry Seely being the first on the list to make an investment in that line.

Coughs, colds, hoarseness, and other throat ailments are quickly relieved by Cresolene tablets, ten cents per box. All druggists.

No Difference

No distinction is made as to the kind of Piles that Hem-Roid cures. The names internal, external, bleeding, blind, itching, suppurating, etc., are simply names of the different stages through which every case will pass if it continues long enough.

Piles are caused by congestion or stagnation of blood in the lower bowel, and it takes an internal remedy to remove the cause.

Dr. Leonhardt's Hem-Roid is a tablet, taken internally.

It is a permanent cure and no case of piles has ever been found it failed to cure. Money back if it does. A guarantee with every package. Sold in Durham at Darling's Drug Store.
