Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives

Not a single patient has ever been refused admittance because of his or her poverty.

FROM THE YUKON
 —From Bishop of Selkirk, Caribou Crossing, Yukon: "The trifling remittance ($10.00) herewith enclosed, is intended to express our sympathy for the sufferers in other parts rather than imply a special need for your institution here."

CONFEDERATION LIFE ASSOCIATION
 —J. K. Macdonald, Esq., Managing Director Confederation Life Association, in sending cheque for $500.00 from his Company, says: "I am pleased to be able to be the medium of helping on so good a work."

Funds Urgently Needed

The financial reports for the year just ending show that to keep the doors of the Free Hospital for Consumptives open, maintaining the number of patients for which accommodation has been provided, not less than $25,000 is required for the year now entered upon.

Since the Free Hospital was opened (18 months ago) 224 patients have been received. The help the institution has been to these people—all from the wage-earning and poorer ranks of life—cannot be estimated in human language.

—Edward D. Heddon, Solina, Ont., on leaving the Free Hospital, writes: "I cannot speak too highly of the institution from which I have received so much benefit. I can but tender my best thanks for the kindness shown."

—Minnie Linklater, Hamilton, writes: "I have spent over nine months at the Free Hospital for Consumptives. I believe I have been greatly helped, and shall never hesitate to use my influence to further that good cause."

There is no endowment, excepting the provision made by three life insurance companies for six beds for the current year. Only by the continued contributions of the Canadian public can the work be maintained.

Patients are accepted from every part of the Dominion, and there have been in residence during the past year patients from Prince Edward Island on the east to the Northwest Territories on the west.

Contributions may be sent to SIR W. R. MEREDITH, Kt., Vice-President National Sanitarium Association, or MR. W. J. GAGE, Chairman of the Executive Committee, Toronto, Can.

COLORADO'S GRAND SCENERY.

By NORMAN McDONALD.

DEAR MR. EDITOR,—As I have a few minutes of leisure time I will pen for the benefit of the readers of your valuable paper a graphic account of some of Colorado's scenic grandeur. Last September I arrived here from Manitowish, Michigan; through some friends in Durham Mr. Thos. Nichol, of this city was requested to look up the writer, which he did. It's almost needless to mention the pleasure of meeting in this strange land of the west, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Nichol, who are well known to many citizens of Durham and Priceville, also Miss Bessie Park, sister of Mrs. Nichol, well remembered by her many friends in and around the vicinity of Durham.

Starting at the beautiful city of Colorado Springs, which stands on the flooded plains of an ancient river-bed is among the great cities of the west, and possibly no city in the union is so widely known, not only by pleasure seekers, but among a huge army of invalids who find in Colorado climate invigorating air and life-giving sunshine.

The altitude of Colorado Springs is 6000 feet and is enveloped in an atmosphere of so much greater rarity than at sea level that the number of breaths is necessarily increased upon first coming into it. After a time, however, nature adapts your breathing, and your chest expands and increases the depth of each inspiration. I am informed those encircling mountains of tremendous height afford great attraction to electric storms of which it's no unusual thing in summer to see a treacherous storm gather about Pike's Peak (being the highest point of the mountain range lying directly in the face of the city) and travel northward along the mountains until its force is exhausted far out in the plains. While the storm is brilliantly illuminated with vivid flashes of electricity and heavy cannoning of thunder, Colorado Springs, within four or five miles of the storm, remains in full sunshine.

Close by and easily reached is the grand city of Manitowish. Radiating from this city of grandeur like the spokes of a buggy wheel, are the three famous canons: William's, The Pass and Englemans. In the last named is located the lower terminus of the stupendous Co. Wheel Railway to the summit of Pike's Peak. The Cave of the Winds and Grand Caverns are brilliantly illuminated by magnesian lights, which at this writing I will not attempt to describe the awe-inspiring grandeur that greets the bewildered eye of thousands that seek the mystery of this under ground journey.

The doorway that leads you to William's Canon is near the centre of the city of Manitowish, and once in this canon every mountain peak towering hundreds of feet in height with castles and fortifications chiselled out by the action of the wind and rain in ages gone by, possesses a charm for you and life-experience that will never be forgotten. The road climbs and climbs to the rising cliffs; the canon is but a mere rent in the mountain, so narrow one can easily toss a pebble across, in the shadows of rocks hundreds of feet below all is dark and solitary, weird and awful. The startled traveller quickly loses all apprehension; in the wondrous beauty and grandeur.

City of Manitowish is comfortably nestled in an opening in the great mountain range, its location and the many mineral springs abounding in and near it, have justly earned it a wide reputation as being one of the most delightful and healthful waters. The writer a few Sundays ago in company with—? journeyed on the Co. Wheel Railway that ascends to the summit of Pike's Peak. The engineering and construction of this road is almost beyond human description. At the left rises mountains to a tremendous height, their crests pinnacled out against a spotless blue sky, while to the right there was rushing through the gorge and swiftly flowing beside us far below, tossing over massive boulders, was a beautiful sparkling mountain stream whose source is the perpetual snow in the mountains.
