PIANO RECITAL.

A Huge Success—Fine Programme.

A couple of years ago Rev. and Mrs. Newton came to this town, and at once saw the need of a new church to replace the old one falling into decay. Few men would have undertaken the task under such conditions.
The congregation was not very large and their bank account wasn't a heavy burden. The work was undertaken, however, and to-day the little Chapel in which they worship is a credit to the denomination, and they're working off the debt very nicely.

Mrs. Newton is a great lover of music and a skilled musician, and an up-to-date church without an lacked harmony and a fine bi-manual organ was purchased from the Karn Company at Woodstock. Mrs. Newton undertaking to procure funds for the payment of it. To do this she gives her organ and piano recitals, the proceeds going to the organ fund, as we understand it. Some thought the high-class music would not continue to be appreciated, but Mrs. Newton's opinion was that the public taste could be cultivated, and if we judge by the large and appreciative audiences attending these recitals we must conclude that her opinion was correct.

On Friday night last another of these recitals was given, and a forty-dollar house was delighted with the whole program. Mrs. Newton's ability as a vocalist and pianist is too well known now to need any special reference, but it is only fair to say that her work on this occasion was in no way inferior to her former efforts. Mr. John S. Drysdale, too, was in good trim, and in the duets rendered in company with Mrs. Newton he gave strong evidence of a vocalist of high order. He is now no stranger to a Durham audience and his well-chosen selections are always appreciated.

The drawing card of the evening, however, was Mr. Frank Slater Davidson, of Detroit, a brother to Mrs. Newton. On a former occasion he sang here and those who heard him then were so pleased that many who were absent felt reason to regret their absence. From the first line of "The Village Blacksmith" his opening number, he had the rapt attention of the audience. He appeared four times on the program and after each selection he was forced to respond to a genuine encore. The "Border Ballad," "Alone in the Desert," and "The Deathless Army" were well we can't describe them—but everybody was delighted. We feel sure that Mr. Davidson is a favorite in Durham, and his return at any future time will be greeted by a large audience.

The Tom-foolery sort of legislation going on in Toronto these days makes the observant voter say little, but he thinks hard. If his thoughts were put into terse form they'd be, "May the old Harry take the whole lot of 'em."

Easter week is usually a time of reunion and rejoicing, but this year has its drawbacks.
Mrs. M. Peart is visiting at Mr. G.
Furneaux' Durham.

Mabel Hunt is home from Vande-leur for the Easter holidays. Pedagogy agrees with her as she looks remarkably well.

Alf Staples was out from town last week at the old McClocklin home, bidding the friends good bye before going to London.

John Hudson of South Bentinck, spent a day or two lately, with the Peart families.
Tom Blair is making great improvements in the second story of his house. Mr. Brodie of the Lake is head carpenter.

The girls are bound to make it most interesting for Will Nelson this year. Recently he purchased the old D. McNab estate, lot six on the 4th.
Purchase price $1600. He'll make a good Hubby.

Sam Edwards is engaged in carpenter work at Banff this season and reports times brisk there. It promises to become quite a town as coal of good quality is plentiful. The Company purpose erecting 150 miner's homes and a monster boarding house this summer. About 100 miners are working in the mines at the present time and they count on having that many carpenters at work right away.

Messrs. Will Banks and Ben Stone have taken up land in Red Deer, district.
Messrs. Jim Bartley and William Bell's sale on Tuesday, of last week was one of the most successful held in the neighborhood this season.
Over $650 worth were sold and they are shipping more than that in value to Prince Albert, this week. On the Friday evening, prior to the sale, the neighbors gathered and presented each member of the family with a handsome gift and spent a happy evening in the old home that has ever been noted for its ready hospitality and cheery welcome. Will Bell and Will Ellison leave on Tuesday of this week with a carload of stock and effects and Mr. Bartley will follow it a day or two. Mrs. B. and family will remain with her father, Mr. John Bell, at the Rocky, for a short time.
Many are the regrets expressed at losing such rare good neighbors and a thresher so popular. Will Mc-Nally of the 9th has rented the farm and needs a house-keeper.
