

RESOLUTION REGARDING SUNDAY FUNERALS.

PASSED BY THE MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION AT THE MONTHLY MEETING, APRIL 15.

Whereas the holding of funerals on the Lord's Day interferes with attendance upon the regular services of the church, seriously interrupts the the different Sabbath Schools, adds to the onerous duties of the pastors on that day, incommodes the caretaker of the cemetery and the undertakers, and also serves to break in upon the quietness and restfulness that ought to mark the Sabbath; and whereas we believe that, except when death occurs in the extreme heat of mid-summer, or as the result of some contagious and dangerous diseases, it is easily possible, in the majority of instances, to avoid all infringement upon the Lord's Day; therefore resolved, that we, members of the Ministerial Association, do hereby, with one accord, reaffirm our earnest disapproval of Sunday funerals, and that we agree in asking the members of our several congregations to unite with us in continued efforts to conserve the sanctity and quietness of the Sabbath by discountenancing all funeral processions and parades on that day: And be it further resolved that this resolution be read publicly in each of our churches, and that a copy be sent for publication to each of the local newspapers, and that a copy be also transmitted to his worship the mayor, and also to the health officer, and to each of the undertakers in the town.—O. Sound Advertiser.

AT LIFE'S EVENING.

To those well along in years there comes, according to the condition of the system, their measure of ills and suffering. Some are young at 70, while others are old at 40.

Elderly people who once use Dr. Leonhardt's Anti-Pill find that it has marvelous power to relieve them of the troubles that nothing else will shake off, especially backache, constipation, bladder trouble, falling appetite, and indigestion. If ANTI-PILL is used upon taking cold, the aches and pains that usually follow will be avoided. To prove this, send to WILSON-FYLE Co., Niagara Falls, Ont., for a free sample. ANTI-PILL is sold by druggists at 50 cents a box.

From A to Z.

A wondrous thing, the alphabet,
As doubtless you'll agree,
No honey from the B we get,
No water from the C.
The J has never built a nest;
No pod enfolds the P;
And there is nothing to suggest
A—beyond the D.
No oyster has the R to sell;
No pupil has the I;
No house adjoins the model L;
No questions ask the Y.
The X is never cross; and O
From debt is wholly free;
And cockney H you'd only know
By its apostrophe.
No type is measured by the M;
No sugar spoils the T;
No Dutchman fashions dikes to stem
The inrush of the Z.
No lamkin tag behind the U;
The U—no wool has she;
No Chinaman unbraids the Q.
No Scottish tears shed E.
The F is sharp, if not acute;
And A is flat it's true;
While G and N and K dispute
The ownership of Gnu, New, Knew.
The S it's $ counts for naught;
But VV to me
Suggests that for these rhymes I ought
To get a double "V."

The Old Maids' Convention, given under the auspices of Christ Church Literary Society, proved a grand success both financially and as an entertainment. The costumes of the "Old Maids" were creations worthy of an artist, some of them being heirlooms and over fifty years old. These apparent old maids, after being transformed by Prof. Makeover's machine proved to be some of Markdale's most charming young ladies, still blushing buds. The burlesque was fun from start to finish and it would be difficult to decide who was the star, as each old maid was a finished actress in her own particular line. Proceeds of the evening amounted to $81.25.—Standard.

The Huron and Ontario Electric Railway, that was at one time going to give wonderful facilities to the people of this section of the Province and that at times has attained truly great dimensions—on paper—dies hard. Over Hanover and Walkerton they still look on the H. & O. as a "good thing" with "something in it," and a few whole souled enthusiasts keep losing sleep over it. Over that way the people think they will be happy if they succeed in getting even a short line on the strength of the charter that calls for the whole glorious H. & O. Maybe they will get it some day—if they live long enough, and have sufficient perseverance. We don't need the blamed thing anyway. The C. P. R. gives us enough cussin' to do without doubling the load. The latest move in the game was set forth in a paragraph in one of the dailies the other day, about Parliamentary doings at Ottawa: "Thomas, Tiley & Johnston, Toronto, solicitors for the Huron and Ontario Railway Company, gave notice of application for power to issue bonds to the extent of $20,000 per mile of the railway and branches, instead of $10,000 per mile, and extending the time for construction.—Shelburne Economist.

Mr. Cyrus R. Sing of "Swarthmore Hall," Meaford, died Tuesday evening after a short illness. Deceased was a prominent member of the Society of Friends, and had filled many important municipal offices. He had been Mayor of Meaford, Reeve of St. Vincent and Warden of the County of Grey. A widow, two daughters and two sons survive—Mrs. W. T. Moore, Mrs. A. McK. Cameron, W. H. Sing of Meaford and J. G. Sing of the Public Works Department, Toronto.—Owen Sound Advertiser.

One frequently hears the remark, "the poor farmer," but although you come in contact with many who seem poor and are satisfied to let you think they are in reality all but destitute, we are constantly being forced to the conclusion that this remark is a misnomer, a back number, a reference not applied, or some other kind of blunder, for to drive through the country and see the home comforts of these "poor" people, to meet them in the banking houses when they are having their quarter's interest added or to see them making deposits of cash from time to time is enough to make a man in business feel childish. An illustration of the hard up nature of this poor class came under our observation recently. A merchant remarked to one of the gentlemen from the townships that he purposed making an investment shortly and asked him sort of off hand if he had any loose money not employed that he would care to loan at a fair interest. The farmer said innocently that "he did not think so as most all his money was out." The merchant remarked he would not want it for a while even if the deal went through. The farmer got interested. "About how much would you require?" he said. "In rough figures $15,000," replied the business man. "Oh," said the farmer quite undisturbed, "if that's all I guess I can do it for you without any trouble." Just think of that now you business men, who are a mark for every charitable, every patriotic, every political, every moral cause, $15,000 as a side issue for a "poor" man. And the newspaper man who has to work early and late; carry every man's burden; rejoice with the merry; shout for our side all the while; be an ingrate if he dares criticism; grieve with those who mourn; sympathize with misfortune; live on the keen edge of uncertainty from week to week; assist every cause of whatever nature for love, although probably having an investment of several thousand in a printing plant only paid for—think of him with $15,000! Whew, boys, we'd better take Horace Greeley's advice—and go west and try farming.—Ex.

On Tuesday, about 7 p. m. a special freight took on a double decker of hogs at Chesley. There were 200 hogs in the car. They were bought by Wm. Halliday for Duncan McKerracher of Walkerton. The train had just pulled out of the station past the east switch when the hog car jumped the track, the wheels sunk in the earth, and the car toppled over at right angles against the bank at the north east corner of the Chair Factory. The pigs were piled in a heap on each other and before the end of the car could be broken in and the pigs got out eighteen of them were smothered and seven others so badly hurt that they were unable to move. The auxiliary was telegraphed for, and the wrecking crew had the track in shape for the late train to pass about one o'clock this (Wednesday) morning. We understand the G. T. R. will have to foot the bill. The car wheels were not defective, the rails did not spread, and it is not known definitely what caused the car to leave the track.—Chesley Enterprise.

Two drunken young hoodlums tried to clean out Jaung Lee's establishment late Saturday night, and as a consequence of the racket that ensued Jaung and his two assistants were charged with disturbing the peace, and fined $1 and costs each. The hoodlums who caused the trouble have, however, as yet gone scot free! It is an anomaly that we will leave those concerned to explain for themselves. In the meantime the authorities owe it to themselves to see that Jaung receives protection not only from further attacks of this kind, but from a host of annoyances that young smart alecks have been subjecting him to.—Shelburne Economist.

Death came with awful suddenness to Louis Alfred Trambley on Sunday morning last at the elevator dock. The unfortunate man had a sail boat anchored in the slip near the elevator and had doubtless gone down to see that the same was all right when the ice was beginning to move. When the lightning struck the elevator, he was on the dock close to the building and had evidently made a rush under the leg for safety. This proved disastrous for before he reached the enclosure a section of the roof came down upon him and buried him. Others close by rushed to his assistance and he was released and removed to the American hotel when it was found that his legs were broken and he had received severe internal injuries. In a short time he was moved to his home on first street where he lingered until about two o'clock. Deceased was 34 years of age and leaves a wife and two small children to mourn his sudden death.—Midland Argus

Farmers in this country are advised to examine the corn they are using for seed the coming season and test it to make sure it will grow. A well known farmer in this vicinity states that about 45 years ago this country passed through just a summer and winter as the past and the next season a large amount of the corn sown failed to grow. He argues that on account of the wet season last year, most of the corn did not mature properly and some put away in cribs is still quite soft. The severe weather, he argues, has killed the germs in much of the corn and its failure to sprout will be the first knowledge that some will have that the corn will not grow. He advises the farmers to test the seed by putting in dirt and setting it under a warm stove for four or five days or a week, when it should sprout. Anyone having 1901 corn should use it this year for seed. The above is well worthy of consideration.—Ex.

How It Spreads.

The first package of Hem-Roid (the infallible Pile cure) that was put out went to a small town in the State of Nebraska. It made the cure of a case of Piles that was considered hopeless. The news spread and although this was only two years ago the demand prompted Dr. J. S. Leonhardt of Lincoln, Neb., the discoverer, to prepare it for general use. Now it is being sent to all parts of the world. It will cure any case of Piles. There is a month's treatment in each box. Sold for $1.00, with absolute guarantee. It is for sale at Darlings Drug store.
