Glenelg Centre.

The weather is somewhat cool after the hot spell or rather the hot time lately.
The frost last week damaged the clover to a certain degree in this vicinity.
Seeding will be about over this week with most of the farmers.
Allan McMillan sings, "The Girl I Left Behind Me." Jess Edwards joins in the chorus.
Mr. and Mrs. John O. Greenwood from Zion was in the burg on Sunday.
Mr. Henry Eckhardt and sister from Spring Bank were guests of William Beaton on Sabbath last.
Messrs. Angus McVicar and Duncan McRae of Pomona visited the McLellan family on Sunday.
Pastor Newton dined with John G. Beaton and family on Sunday.
Sunday School will open at the Centre church next Sunday. Donald McCormick, Superintendent; Arch. Beaton, assistant. A full staff of teachers will be present and the children will be taught with care.
Hugh Edwards sold his big bay horse to his neighbor John McGillivray, while Mr. McGillivray sold one to Mr. Queen of Bentinck.
The heavy crack of thunder on Friday was the cause of Duncan McArthur's team running away with the plough. Hughie hung on till the lines gave away. However, no serious damage occurred.
George Binnie had the misfortune to lose a valuable horse last week. Dan. McInnis of Bunessan also lost one.
Arch. McLellan is working in Gambol at present. Arch. likes the Gambol people fine, but he says the little Black flies some days are—
Agent Arch. B. McArthur has made many sales of different implements and separators in our burg lately.
Mrs. John McGillivray is not improving in health very fast. We hope she may yet recover.
Mrs. George Binnie was quite unwell last week. Pleased to learn she is some better.
Archie Beaton is going to get a telephone.
Hughie is attending to business better now, and the girl that was so lonely is in excellent spirits now.
Fish stories and other events held over.
We are all well as usual, Mr. Editor, wishing you to enjoy yourself in a similar manner.
MRS. CULP.

GREATLY ALARMED.

By a Persistent Cough, but Permanently Cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.
Mr. H. P. Burbage, a student in law, in Greenville, S. C., had been troubled four or five years with a continuous cough which he says "greatly alarmed me, causing me to fear that I was in the first stage of consumption." Mr Burbage, having seen Chamberlain's cough remedy advertised concluded to try it. Now read what he says of it: "I soon felt a remarkable change and after using two bottles of the twenty-five cent size, was permanently cured." Sold by H. Parber. Warranted every bottle.—2

INCOME OF THE FAMILY CUT OFF.

Appeal from Friends on Behalf of a Poor Consumptive.
The following letter from an eastern town, addressed to the Secretary of the National Sanitarium Association, Toronto, explains itself.—"What steps require to be taken to place a consumptive patient in the Free Consumption Hospital? We have a poor man here who has consumption. He has a wife and family of five children. He has been sick and off work for four months already. The only source of income of the family has been cut off. I think the father would be better if he had the proper care, but here in the midst of his family it is impossible to give him proper treatment. If we can place him in the Consumption Hospital for care and treatment, then the people here can manage to look after the family until he is restored to health. He is able to go around, but is very weak."
We publish this letter to illustrate how great is the need for the Free Hospital for Poor Consumptives, established by the National Sanitarium Association at Muskoka. Just one year ago the first patient—a woman from Napanea—was admitted into the hospital, and since then 163 patients have found a home within its walls. A great number of these are wholly unable to pay anything towards their maintenance, whilst the average from those who pay is less than one-half the cost of maintenance.
There is no endowment, and the Trustees depend solely in the making up of the large deficit each month on the contributions of kind friends. With the increasing numbers seeking admission to the hospital, should the subscriptions continue to run short, as they have been doing for the past three months, the Trustees will have no recourse open to them but to close some of the wards.
Sir Wm. B. Meredith, Kt., Vice-President of the Association, and Mr. W. J. Gage, Chairman of the Executive Committee, will receive subscriptions for this much needed work.

Webster and Jenny Lind.

The following quaint story of Daniel Webster and Jenny Lind is told in "Washington, the Capital City."
It chanced that on the day of Jenny Lind's appearance several members of the cabinet and senate were the guests at dinner of the Russian minister, and the concert was half over when Webster and the other members of the party entered the hall. When the applause with which they were received had subsided the second part of the concert was opened by the gifted Swede with "Hail, Columbia!"
Deeply moved by the patriotic air, Webster at the close of the first verse rose and added his rich, sonorous voice to the chorus. His wife, who sat behind him, pulled at his coat tail to make him stop singing, but at the close of each verse the volunteer basso joined in, and none could tell whether Lind, Webster or the audience was most delighted.
As the last notes of the song died away Webster, hat in hand, made a profound bow to the singer. Jenny Lind, blushing at the honor, courtesied, while the audience applauded to the echo. Webster, not to be outdone in politeness, bowed again. Again Lind courtesied, the house applauded, and this was repeated nine times.

The Meaning of Mess.
The use of the word mess for dining room is a remnant of a custom quite common in Anglo-Norman times. Mess, from the French mets (meat or a dish of food) and the Latin mensa (a table), was the meat prepared in common (compare the collegiate word "commons") for four persons sitting at a separate table. Guests at dinners and other ceremonial occasions were divided for general convenience into such groups.
From this the word came to be used as equivalent to four in other matters. Shakespeare speaks of Henry's four sons as a mess, "Where are you?" mess of sons? and in "Love's Labor's Lost" we find, "I confess that you three fools lacked me to make up the mess."
From the fact that soldiers and sailors are always catered for in companies, according to rank, the survival of the word among them is quite natural. The same practice is still maintained in the London Inns of court.

The Lemon as Medicine.
The value of lemons in the treatment of both rheumatism and consumption is now known to be very great. The treatment is to begin with one or two a day and gradually increase the number. In one case of rheumatism twenty-five lemons a day were the dose for a time. As a preventive of illness, however, a half a lemon a day is all that should be taken—that is, if taken every day year in and year out. A half a lemon in a cup of hot water taken an hour before breakfast (without any sugar) will annihilate the darkest of dark brown tastes in one's mouth. If you make a practice of eating more butter and sugar than is good for you take lemon and hot water every morning.

Life and the Sun.
All the energy of life is derived ultimately from the sun. A little of this comes indirectly through lightning which in passing through the air forms ammonia and oxides of nitrogen. These being carried by rain into the ground, are the constant source of nitrogen for vegetable and indirectly for animal life. A much larger quantity of energy is well known to be taken direct from the sunshine by plants and used in their anabolic processes. This energy is appropriated by animals in their food, and whether in the vegetable or in the animal it assists in any alternations of the system before it is completely dispersed.

Food and Nervous Troubles.
I have the privilege of knowing many eminent men in the medical profession, and their advice in nine cases out of ten is to eat and take as much nourishment as possible. Numbers of cases of nervous breakdown are entirely cured by what your correspondents would call "overeating." In all nervous disorders, from which so many suffer in this age of keen competition, the chief remedy is eating more than is seemingly required.—London Telegraph.

Excursionists For Revenue.
Some years ago a British warship visited St. Kilda in exceptionally calm weather. As the natives of the place had never seen a steamer, the captain good naturedly offered to take them for an hour's cruise, which was readily accepted by a great many. On their return the captain, seeing them all standing in rows on the quarter deck, asked the cause. He was at once informed that they were waiting to be paid.

The Secret Elopement.
He—We had best elope about 2 in the morning. I will bring my motor to the next corner, and—
She—Oh, couldn't you make it a little earlier, dear? Pa and ma do so want to see us off, and I don't like to keep them up so late.

New Definition of Principle.
"I fought the case not because I cannot pay, but on principle," explained a defendant in the Southwark county court recently. "Yes, I know," said Judge Addison wearily. "In these courts principle is another word for temper."

Didn't Take the Hint.
Nora—Oh, towd that installment mon that he naden't call so often.
Missus—Did he take the hint?
"No, mum; he took the plonny."
