

Which one Was Right?

Four little girls, all in a row, Before the blackboard jetty;
One little word they had to write, They thought and thought with all their might;
Then R and I and T and E,
The first one spelled triumphantly, And "Good" the teacher said, said she,
To laughing little Letty.

The second looked, and frowned a bit Although she wasn't fretty, Should she begin with R? Instead She wrote a W at the head, And "Good" again the teacher said,
To happy little Letty.

Now to the third each little word Looked very small and pretty;
So WRIGHT,
A long, long word she wrote in glee,
And "Good" the teacher said, said
she,
To knowing little Netty.

Then, last of all, a little maid, With blue eyes soft and pretty,
Took off the W left the G.
And wrote it RIGHT,
And "Good" the teacher said, said
she,
To bonny little Betty.

Four little girls all wreathed in smiles,
They left the blackboard jetty;
For here's the funny thing I've heard About that very funny word—Though each one spelling, as you see, Was different from the other three,
Each wrote it RIGHT,
From Letty down to Betty!

—Youth's Companion.

The Luxury of a Shank.

A thrifty housewife the other day confided to a friend, new at the business, a few of her pet economies in the purchase of meat.

"You see," she exclaimed, "by the end of the month my finances are usually very run down—in very poor health indeed I find that a good beef shank is a friend in need. It is put on in cold water and allowed to simmer for hours, until the meat drops from the bone, then cooled and the meat cut up very small with a knife—the meat cutter is no use here.
If there is much liquid it must be reduced by boiling, strained, added to the meat and the whole very highly seasoned with salt, pepper, and a very little allspice and nutmeg, just a suspicion. Put the meat in moulds to be turned out when needed. If the family is small we have a hot stew the first day, and after a day's intermission the cold. The flavor can be varied by browning the meat first in the pot before adding the water. Take some marrow out of the bone to put in the bottom of the pot, brown the meat well with a minced onion, and then barely cover with water. The seasoning may be added after it has cooked a couple of hours, and I find that a bunch of summer savory tied in cheese cloth improves it. If the bones and all the scraps of gristle and fat are saved they can be simmered for hours the second day, and after straining and cooling you will have a pot of excellent jelly for stock and a bowl of clear fat from the top which will do for frying pastry or ginger cakes. So, you see, we get two dinners anyway, sometimes three, stock for future use and a big dish of scraps for the dog or chickens, all for 35c or 40c. A shank is the poor man's refuge and the rich man's delight—if his wife knows how it ought to be cooked."

A Tramp's Dream.

Last night I dreamed of a land so fair, Where the rivers run Pilsner Beer, Where fountains of Riekeys shot up in the air, And everything was queer.

Wide brooks of gin fizzed on every hand,
Great lakes of Cold Rhine wine, And pumps spouting cocktails to beat the band

For thirty ones standing in line, Crems de Menthe swamps of a beautiful green,
With islands of fine cracked ice, Such a sight was never before seen, Ah! but that dream was nice!

Mint Juleps in puddles filled the street The gutters were flowing with booze
In which tired hoboes soaked their feet

While enjoying a heavenly snooze.
Campanes flowed from fire plugs In bubbling streams with a hiss, And street cleaners drank it from deep stone jugs.

Ah! such a dream of bliss.
High balls galore rolled about on the ground,
And were chased by a thirsty crowd While the paralysed grafters hanging around

In drunken glee shouted around.
Oh! this bibulous dream was a happy dream,
The result of an all-night-bat, Where the wet things flowed in a bountiful stream When they carried me home on a slat.

A woman swindler is going about the country pretending to be a cannasser for a monthly paper which is giving a set of dishes with every $1.00 subscription. When she gets the money she gives receipts signed "U.
R. Dunagan." That's right. "You are done again," sure.

Exchange Echoes.

Tom McKechnie, the eight-year-old son of Mr. A. L. McKechnie of this town, met with a nasty accident on Monday while playing ball. He had a stick held between his teeth with the sharp end in his mouth, and in stooping down for the ball the opposite end of the stick struck the ground and drove the point through the soft palate in the roof of his mouth, inflicting a wound which required a few stitches from the doctor.

Mr. A. Wenger lost a very valuable mare this week and in a strange manner. The mare was one of a fine draught team used in teaming from the mill to the station and at night appeared in perfect health. In the morning she was unable to rise and upon examination by a veterinary it was found that her shoulder blades were broken. It is supposed that she took colic during the night and knocked herself against the stall.
The beast was valued at $200.—Chif-ford Express.

A number of shocking accidents took place in A. M. Robinson's butcher shop on Saturday night. Some time ago Mr. Robinson put a metallic ceiling in his shop and there were no bad after effects until Saturday night.
The electric light wires pass through the ceiling, but the insulation had become worn and thereby hangs a tale.
The metallic ceiling began stealing electricity from the wire, the meat hooks dug in and helped themselves, and even the refrigerator took aboard a little of what was going. For a time everything was charged—even the roasts that the cash customers carried out. Mr. Robinson and his assistant, T. J. Gallagher, got several shocks while taking meat from the hooks.—Alliston Herald.

During the evening session of the Teacher's Convention in the town hall at Drayton, last Thursday, an incident occurred which might have resulted in a horrible fatality. Acetylene gas is the lighting facility used there and when the programme was nearly over, some radical disarrangement happened to the generator causing a noise throughout the building similar to the rattle of hail-stones on a tin roof. Considerable excitement was aroused which was brought to a climax when an individual at the rear of the hall shouted fire! In an instant the 400 people was on their feet making for the only exit. Fortunately the power was turned off at this stage, and the general alarm subsided.—Mt. Forest Rep.

The fiendish spleen of the fire devil again visited our town Tuesday morning shortly after midnight, and for the sixth successive time the lustful desire for a prey in the form of equine flesh and its humble shelter has been again satiated. The fire was located in Jas. Troy's livery stable by Mr. Jerry Tangney, who immediately gave the alarm. When the firemen arrived upon the scene, flames were spouting through the roof, thus indicating the interior was entirely ablaze, but by the good work of the brigade and there being no wind the fire was kept in control and the adjacent frame buildings were uninjured. The loss sustained by Mr. Troy is a severe one as his means of support and sustenance lay in the hired service of his three horses and buggies, all of which were destroyed in the burned stable. His entire property was devoid of any insurance whatever. There is no knowledge as to the origin of the fire. The stable of Jas. Spicer was burned on Tuesday, exactly three weeks previous.—Mt. Forest Rep.

Forbes McCaldar a pioneer settler of Elderslie Tp. died of blood poisoning at the home of Hector Bell, 4th con. on Sunday and was buried at St.
Andrew's cemetery on Monday. He went to Port Elgin on his usual trip for a supply of fish and while engaged in his business received a scratch in one of his hands from a nail. Blood poisoning set in and when a physician was called in a few days afterwards, Mr. McCaldar was told he would not get better. Deceased was well-known in Elderslie and Chesley.
He lived for several years near Gillies Hill where he conducted a butcher shop and sold meat in Paisley and Chesley. He afterwards moved to Paisley and kept a butcher shop in that village for about 20 years.
About 5 years ago he quit the butchering business and peddled fish through this locality. Deceased was a bachelor.—Chesley Enterprise.

Saturday in each month. Hours—1-6 p.m.

Late Assistant Roy, London Ophthalmic Hos.,

Specialist: Eye, Ear, Throat and Nose EXCLUSIVELY
Will be at the Middaugh House 1st Wednesday of each month, from 12 to 4 p. m.

On Tuesday morning of last week the village awoke and found itself in-veloped in the unsavory misty mytery and scandal of an elopement, the principals in which are a married woman and her star boarder, Mrs.
Thos. Givens and Fred. Meavis. It happened that for about two years the home of Mr. Thos. Givens, an industrious sober man, a good mechanic earning good wages as a carpenter in Mr. J. Taylor's sash and door factory and a good provider in his home, has been made uncomfortable for him by the lavish attentions of his wife upon Fred. Meavis, a teamster, who boarded at the Givens' home. Some months ago so the story goes, Mr. Givens became so exasperated at the lewd conduct of his wife and Meavis that he ordered the latter from his house, and later was foolish enough to permit him to return owing to Mrs. Givens' threats to leave the house if Meavis was not brought back, and since Meavis was reinstated the conduct between him and the unworthy wife has been more shameless and brazen than before.
For some time Meavis has been talking of going to one of the Dakotas and on Monday of the week before he left ostensibly for Dakota, but only purchased his railway ticket to Cardwell Junction and from that time the disconsolate husband can find no trace of his wife's favorite. On Monday of last week Mrs. Givens went to Owen Sound by the noon train, ostensibly to visit a dentist taking with her upwards of $40 and from that time Mr. Givens can get no trace of his faithless spouse further than that she passed through here on the 4 p. m. train going south on Monday.
When she did not return home on Monday afternoon Mr. Givens drove to Owen Sound in the evening and not finding her there it at once dawned upon his vision that she had gone to join Meavis. On Tuesday morning he took the train to Toronto where he failed to find trace of them and says that he put the matter in the hands of a detective, whom he furnished with photographs of the elopers.—Chatsworth Banner.

Weak Stomach And Kidneys.

Toned Up and Made Healthy and Strong by the Great Tonic

Ferrozone.

"For ten years I suffered acutely from stomach trouble," writes Mr.
Maxwell Thompson, of Toledo, "I always had a headache and dull feeling after meals. My appetite was poor, and I didn't relish my food.
It was all due to a weak, defective stomach. I read about Ferrozone, and ordered six boxes from my druggist. It was no time at all before I felt much better, and when all the Ferrozone was used I really took a new lease of my life. I am stronger brighter, and feel more like work than before trying Ferrozone. It is a splendid tonic, the best I ever used."

"Between bad kidneys and a weak stomach," writes D. Whitmore of Belmont, "I reduced to a skeleton this spring. A friend strongly advised Ferrozone, so I commenced to use it. Ferrozone soon cured my stomach trouble, and made my kidneys perfectly healthy. I have since gained twenty pounds in weight, and enjoy the best of health. I believe Ferrozone saved my life, and I gratefully recommend it."

Why stay sick when Ferrozone can cure you? Don't be foolish any longer. Get some Ferrozone to-day and take it regularly. Ferrozone assures health and cost 50c. for three weeks treatment. Six boxes for $2.- 50 from The Ferrozone Company, Kingston Ont.

Crawford.

(Intended for last week.)

The weather has changed again and the past few days have been anything but springlike.

Mrs. H. McDonald of Durham visited Mrs. Hobbkirk for a few days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Clark visited at Mr. Ed. Boyce's on Sunday.

Mr. Robert Twamley had the misfortune to lose one of his fine young horses during the recent warm weather. He also lost one of his fine colts this spring.

What might have proved a serious accident happened to Sandy Campbell while on his way home from Elpwood on Friday evening. He was driving a spirited young horse which became frightened at something on the road and without the slightest warning it bounded over a high rail fence into the field and then back onto the road again. Fortunately for Mr. Campbell it was a road cart and not a buggy he was driving. The cart was knocked into splinters but both driver and horse escaped without serious injury.

John Scheuermann intend raising his barn about the 24th.

Nancy Boyde left for Shallow Lake on Friday.

Mr. Cahoon of Walkerton visited at Mr. Disheans for a few days and while there he and Anthony did some missionary work on the 12th.

Messrs. Dan and S. Havermehl, accompanied by their sister spent Sunday with Henry Boyce.

Mr. Echer will exchange pulpits with Rev. Latimer of Hepworth.

We have heard it whispered around that our teacher is training the pupils for a picnic. The people of the section should go to the front and help on the good cause.

Now that the farmers are letting out their sheep, trouble is beginning Richard Boyce had a number of fine animals worried to death last week and Messrs Twamley, Livingstone and McKechnie had some worried almost to death. We think that if people can not keep their dogs at home, those that suffer from them should make a bee and rid the community of a common nuisance.

Mr. and Mrs. Mighton of Walkerton have moved onto G. Fischer's farm.
We welcome them to our midst.

Misses. Hatton and Boyde, of Louise were the guests of Nancy Boyde over Sunday.

Misses. Jessie and Bertie Honess, left for Listowel, on Wednesday.

A Study of Old Age.

Reveals the fact that the blood is usually thin and lacking in the strengthening properties of young folk's blood. If you want to fill your blood with the fire of youth, build up your strength, restore your nerves, just use Ferrozone. It's the most potent tonic known and will renew the flickering flame of an aged life by imparting nourishment to enfeebled organs. Ferrozone fortifies weak systems, feeds the blood, brain and nerves with new life. Try Ferrozone Price 50c. per box.

"I like your preachin," said a tall, gaunt native who had heard Bishop Potter one night in a small Adirondack town near which he had his summer camp; "I alluz l'arn somthin' new from ye. I rid ten miles to night to hear ye, an' as usual, I heard somthin' that I never knowed afore." "Well, I'm glad of that," said the bishop, shaking the outstretched hand, "and what was it you learned to-night?" "Why bishop, I found out for the first time in my life that Sodom and Gomorrah wuzn't twins."

What is Catarrh?

It is an inflammation of the mucous lining of the throat, bronchial tubes and nasal passages excited by germs that can only be destroyed by fragrant healing Catarrhzone which is breathed direct to the seat of the disease, and has never yet failed to cure. Pleasant to use, absolutely certain to cure Catarrhzone always gives satisfaction. "I suffered from nasal Catarrh so badly that I could not breathe through my nostrils, writes, G. K. Wilnot of Meriden.
I used Catarrhzone for a few minutes and was relieved. It cured in a short time." No other remedy just like Catarrhzone.—It's the best. Two months' treatment $1.00; trial size 25c.

There are lots of fakes in the world but you never realize how true is Barnum's sayings "the people like to be humbugged," till you see the people crowd around to hand over their good money. Fakirs can pull money out of people who generally have a grip on it like a three-pronged tooth. Why? Dear knows to explain it is like trying to explain Eve ate the apple, and why Adam didn't take the blame for it after Eve did eat it. But if you are bound to be a fakir, don't try to work the game at home. Get out where people don't know you. Don't stay long in a place.
Add 99 per cent bluff to your 1 per cent of ability, and pretend to be a big fellow, and you'll be all right.
Tack a few initials onto your name, and pretend to be a graduate of anything you like (so long as it's far enough away) and people will look on you with an awe which wouldn't materialize worth a cent if you were a native and had really won your honors.
