JONES'S RECITATION.

"Ladies and gentlemen," he begun "I'm going to give you a recitation. It's—it's called 'The Schooner Horatius.' No I mean 'The Village Rock.' No, that isn't it. It's 'How the Blacksmith Kept the Bridge I mean it's—a thing by Longfellow, you know; that is, I think it was Tennyson!"

"The Boy Stood on the Burning Deck," whispered Blake, loud enough for him to hear.

"Yes, that's it," went on Jones. Then he fixed his eyes on a point in the roof and blurted out in jerks and starts, as the odd lines came before him, the following effusion:

The boy stood on the burning deck,
He—he stood upon his head,
Because his arms and legs were off,
So he waved his arms and said—
My name is Norval. On the Gram-pain Hills

The village smithy stands;
The smith, a mighty man, was—was wrecked!

On the pitiless Goodwin Sands.
And by him sported on the green
His little grandchild Wilhelmine;
The doctors had given him up, sir,
The darling of our crew!

And—and the cheek of Argyll grew deadly pale,
And we rushed for the signal rockets
"Let's fire them quick," we cried,
And the good Abbot of Aberbrothock plunged headlong into the tide.
Then who will stand on either hand
and keep the bridge with em?
On board the schooner Hesperus that sails the wintry sea,
I, with two more to help me, will hold the foe in play.
For I am to be Queen of the May,
mother; I'm to be Queen of the May."

When it was all over, and the roars of laughter had subsided, Jones rushed off the stage and hid himself for the rest of the evening. And the memory of his famous recitation is still an evergreen one in the annals of the school.—Tit-Bits.

"Not If It Cost Ten Dollars"

A bottle would I be without Polson's Nerviline. Writes J. A. Ruth, a farmer living near Trenton, Ont. Nerviline is the best household liniment I know. We use it for stomach troubles, indigestion, headache and summer complaint. I know of nothing better to take in hot water to break up a cold, or to rub on for rheumatism or neuralgia. Every farmer should keep a few bottles of Nerviline handy and have smaller doctor bills. Large bottles 25c. at druggists.

I Am Thinking of My Mother.

(BY DAVID M. HIRD.)
I am thinking of my mother,
And again I am a child,
As memory brings before me
The sunshine of her smile;
And the soft melodious echoes
Of her sweet, angelic voice
Still linger all around me.
And hold me to rejoice;
And often in my visions,
I see her form afar,
Her loved eye brightly gleaming
From some included star.

I am thinking of my mother,
And, through the careless throng
Whose only god is pleasure,
May sing their siren song,
Yet my mother's gentle teachings,
Which my childhood's bosom bore,
On my heart are still engraven,
Though she is now no more;
And my very thought grows brighter
As an infant's sinless brow,
As a whispering spirit tells me
She is gazing on me now.

I am thinking of my mother,
And every thought doth reel
Like a cool refreshing wave,
Through the desert of my soul;
And the memories that they bring me
Of the bright and happy past,
Steal many a drop of sorrow
That in my cup is cast;
And hope with gentle accents,
Speaks softly in my ear,
That with God and the angels
I shall see my mother dear.

SHOT HIS SISTER.

Harriston, May 17.—Fultons Mills a small hamlet a few miles north of Harriston is in deep grief to-night, the cause being a shooting accident, which has robbed Thomas Burton, of his fourteen-year-old daughter, Pearl. Her brother Sam playfully it is said, picked up a loaded rifle and shot her in the mouth at close range. She died instantly. The Coroner has been notified by Chief Constable E. Johnston, of the case, and it is likely an inquest will be held. The young man who did the shooting is aged 16. He claims that he knew the rifle was loaded, and had forgotten. Immediately after the accident he became distracted with grief, and frantically upbraided himself. The loss of their bright daughter is a severe blow to the parents who are lifelong residents here. There are fears that the brother who did the shooting is irresponsible.

The Dominion Fair at Winnipeg.

Advance sheets of the Winnipeg Fair prize list for 1904 show that the prizes offered for the principal classes of live stock are about as follows:—Shorthorns $2565, Herefords $1125, Polled Angus and Galloways about $600 each, Aryshires Holsteins and Jerseys about $500 each. Clydesdales, $993, Shires $456, draft and general purpose horses $350, and $450 each, light harness horses and thoroughbreds nearly $500 each, hunters and saddle horses $700 and $800, ponies $190, Speed classes $18,000. Sheep—the different breeds will average about $175 each. Swine—Yorkshires, Tamworths and Berkshires $300 each, the American breeds also offered in the bacon classes. Prizes of $100, $60 and $40 are offered for carload lots of cattle. Arrangements have been made so that freight rates from Ontario and the East will be paid on all exhibits that are returned to the original point of shipment.

Auction sale system spreading. The auction system of marketing live stock advocated by Live Stock Commissioner, Ottawa, seems to be gaining ground steadily and surely. This month at Calgary nearly four hundred head of purebred cattle have gone under the hammer at the sale conducted by the Territorial Breeders' Associations, and several district sales are being established in Ontario. The Scugog Agricultural Society and the Port Perry Board of Trade are now arranging for an important sale to be held at Port Perry on June 16th 1904. These sales will be held at intervals, and if sufficient encouragement is extended to them, they will probably be held monthly to sell by auction of all kinds of farm animals, including stockers, fat stock, dairy cows, pigs, etc. Several very prominent breeders of purebred stock are consigning excellent animals to the first sale, and persons desiring to contribute either purebreds, stockers, milch cows or pigs may obtain particulars from the Secretary, Mr. J. H. Brown, Port Perry. A number of buyers from Toronto Stock Yards will be on hand. This will be a great convenience to the farmers and stock raisers of the district, bringing the buyers and sellers together for disposing of surplus stock. In England and Scotland nearly all stock is sold in this way in the market towns on stated days, which proves a great advantage to the seller and convenience to the buyer.

Making the fair educational. Three years ago when Mr. F. W. Hudson, Live Stock Commissioner, pointed out to the annual meeting of the Association of Fairs and Exhibitions the utter inefficiency of many of the agricultural societies of Ontario, and unfolded a systematic plan of improvement, he was looked upon by many of the delegates as a dangerous iconoclast. The fact that fairs which received government grants were intended to be educational seemed to be almost forgotten, and the proposal to arrange the fairs in convenient circuits and send them expert judges who would give educational addresses in theiring was considered impracticable by many. Still the project was taken up in an experimental way and the results have been so satisfactory that this year it is expected that about 170 agricultural societies in Ontario will arrange with the provincial Department of Agriculture for the services of expert judges. Last year 152 societies in that province were supplied with judges, while the other provinces and the Territories many of the fairs had expert judges furnished by the local and Dominion Departments of Agriculture.

The fruit crop. The replies to inquiries by the Fruit Division at Ottawa concerning the injuries done by frost and mice indicate that the loss from these causes this year will be very serious indeed. The injuries from mice will amount to 25 per cent of all nursery stock and young trees under four years of age in Ontario and Quebec. The Maritime Provinces suffered to much less extent. British Columbia escaped almost entirely. Little or no precaution was taken anywhere to prevent the ravages of mice.

The damage by frost, though exceedingly serious in Ontario and Quebec, will not affect to any great extent the amount of fruit put on the market this year, except in the case of plums and peaches. Apples and pears were seriously injured along the northern border of the fruit belt. The Baldwin, Greening, Ontario, Spy and Blenheim have been killed in places where they are usually considered hardy. Top-grafting only very slightly increases the hardiness of the variety. None of the large apple-producing sections were seriously injured.

The Flemish Beauty Pears again proved one of the hardiest of good varieties. In both apple and pear orchards the trees suffered much less from frost and more from mice when grown in sod or cover crop.

Plums were killed in some of the heavy plum-producing sections, and in all probability the buds are so seriously injured everywhere as to render a heavy crop this year improbable. The reports from the Essex peach district show a damage approaching that of 1899; 50 per cent of the trees will be killed outright. The Niagara district is not so severely injured. The Crawford type proved particularly tender.

Cherries are also injured severely in bud. Small fruits escaped with less injury.

Pussy's Class.

"Now children" said Puss, as she shook her head, "It is time your morning lesson was said."

So the kittens drew near with footsteps slow,
And sat down before her all in a row,
"Attention, class!" said the cat mamma,
"And tell me quick where your noses are!"

At this all the kittens sniffed the air,
As if it were filled with a perfume rare,
"Now what do you say when you want a drink?"

The kittens waited a moment to think
And then the answer came clear and loud—
You ought to have heard how those kittens meow'd!

"Very well. 'Tis the same with a sharper tone,
When you want a fish or a bit of bone
Now what do you say when children are good?"

And the kittens purred as soft as they could,
"And what do you do when children are bad?"

When they tease and pull?" Each kitty looked sad,
"Poo!" said their mother, "That isn't enough;
You must use your claws when children are rough."

"And where are your claws? No, no, my dear,
As she took up a paw. "See They're hidden here."

Then all the kittens crowded about,
To see their sharp little claws brought out.

They felt quite sure they never should need
To use such a weapon—oh no, indeed!
But their wise mamma gave a pussy's "pshaw!"

And boxed their ears with her softest paw,
"Now 'sptas' as hard as you can," she said;

But every kitten hung its head,
"Sptas!" I say," cried the mother cat;

But they said, "O mamma, we can't do that."
"Then go and play," said the fond mamma;

"What sweet little idiots kittens are!
Ah well! I was once the same, I suppose."

And she looked very wise and rubbed her nose.

The Kincardine Review says: The big egg competition has been decided by Referee Madden. Mr. Mitchell offered a prize of $1 for the biggest egg brought into his store during April. The prize was won by Miss Montgomery of con. 11, Huron, who brought in an egg measuring 6x3 3/4 and weighing four ounces. The next largest was brought in by Mrs. Geo. Ray, of Lurgan. It was 5 1/2 x 3 and weighed 3 3/4 ounces. There were 16 eggs in the race altogether. [The egg we got from John Kinnee weighed between five and six ounces, thus beating the Kincardine eggs by an ounce and a half at least.—Ed.]
