Ayer's

Why is it that Ayer's Hair Vigor does so many remarkable things? Because it is a hair food. It feeds the hair, puts new life into it. The hair cannot keep from growing. And gradually all the dark, rich color of early life comes back to gray hair.

Hair Vigor

"When I first used Ayer's Hair Vigor my hair was about all gray. But now it is a nice rich black, and as thick as I could wish."

Twenty-two years ago Mr. M. J. Davis purchased a set of harness from Mr. Thomas Smith, the pioneer harness maker of your town. They stood the test of several winters' timbering, many seasons of working and the brunt of all kinds of farm work; but are beginning to wear out, so M. J. has got another set from the old firm and thinks they will do till the last furrow is turned. It speaks volumes for maker and care taker.

John Hunt came out from town on Saturday to visit at E. W.'s. and among the old n-ighbors.

Barn-raising are rare this year, so all our neighborhood are going out to that of Henry Williams on Wednesday. Harry has ever been a ready and willing helper himself.

The balmy sunshine, the mantling green on field and forest, the mystery of moon lit night and the liac laden air all combine to make life worth living these days. 'Tis some atonement for winter's woes.

The man and the wayside hog — He'd be angry if you called him careles. a. d. he'd be hopping mad if you called him a mean stingy, cuss, yet, he will turn his "unringed," sod-up setting, o-th provoking old sow out on the King's highway with the first peep of a dandelion and feel complacent that his farm has so nicely got rid of a nuisance. He is not a race specimen, either. His name is Legion. His tidy neighbor who loves a bit of green at his farm gate, utters many an execration; but he "doesn't like to say anything" a- the owner is a hanged good neighbor and an obliging fellow. Still he would hold him in higher esteem if a half dozen brass rings adorned the landscape, destroying snout "The div il's in the pigs anyway!"

Archie McNab has purchased a fine top buggy and is likely to take a matrimonial notion.

Margaret Ryan came home from Queen City last week.

Victoria Day was celebrated quietly in our village. During the evening tea was served in the hall under the auspices of the Public Library after which a very suitable program was rendered, chiefly by talent from our neighboring town Mt. Forest. The evening's entertainment was concluded by a very nice display of fireworks under the directory of Dr. Brown. The proceeds of the event amounted to $71 25, which we are pleased to say, clears our library of all debt.

We regret to inform our numerous readers that the residence of Geo. Pollock, who resides about three miles north of the village, was completely destroyed by fire about noon on the 25th inst. Mrs. Pollock was absent but George was at home and before they were aware of it the fire had gained such headway that nothing could be done. A good deal of the furniture etc. down stairs was got out, but his loss is heavy.

That sheep worrying still goes on, and no one seems to know whose dogs are to blame Duncan McQuarrie had two sheep killed.

Rev. Aitchison paid this corner of his vineyard a pastoral visit last week. He is always a welcome visitor, as he is a man of good sound sense, and is growing more popular with his flock every day.

People are busily engaged getting their roots in.

Abundance of rain and warm sunshine, promises to give fair crops yet.

Sheep shearing is the order of the day with some.

Sparling and Kennee's teams are at present, drawing lumber lath and shingle, from Potter's mill to Durham.

We understand that the road grader is about to begin operations again. We hope they visit Mull Corner, as some of the roads here are badly in need of repair.
