DURHAM CHRONICLE

W. I. RWIN, Editor and Proprietor.

Durham, July 7, 1904.

A SUCCESSFUL MEETING.

The annual Presbyterian meeting was held here on Tuesday and was largely attended by delegates from all parts of the Presbytery. The day was taken up largely with a number of discussions on various topics for the promotion of Christian work. Lunch was served on the church grounds in the evening, and shortly after eight o'clock a very interesting and profitable meeting was held in the church. Till the train arrived a good program was presented, in which Miss Jean Brown, Miss B. Crawford and Mrs. A. W. H. Lauder and Dr. Brown of Holstein sang each an excellent solo. A duet by Dr. Brown and Mr. Isaacs was a very fine number and Dr. Brown's rendering of the Holy City was a fitting finish to Rev. Mr. Glassford's address on the Holy Land. After the arrival of the night train Rev. Mr. Glassford of Guelph put in an appearance. He is just fresh home from Jerusalem where he attended the World's Sabbath School Convention, and the Holy Land was the topic assigned him. It was late when he got started and the subject was a big one—big enough for a whole day's talk, and from the fullness of the Reverend gentleman's knowledge we have no doubt he could have kept up the interest for a long period of time. There were eight hundred and seventeen delegates in the company and a ship's crew of three hundred and sixty-five hands. The vessel was one of the German Lloyd Line, and was six hundred feet long by sixty-four feet wide. To get the vessel for that particular trip was not an easy matter, as the transfer of a single vessel from the regular route will affect materially the season's running schedule. Before securing the vessel bonds to the amount of $400,000 had to be given as one of the initial steps of the contract. The accommodations and fare provided were first class in every particular. Five meals a day were given on board, though Mr. Glassford intimated that the passengers claimed they got ten meals, "five down and five up." The whole trip was graphically described in language that the attentive listener could hardly fail to appreciate with a large feeling of realization. Many funny ship-board scenes were witnessed during that trip and as many were home sick, not sea sick, shortly after leaving New York, the description of the "homesick" phase of the voyage was a source of much merriment to the large audience.

One young couple, Jack and his bride took in the trip to the Holy Land on their honeymoon, but one night Jack got very "homesick" and as he looked down towards the bottom of the ocean for land with his mouth open, Mary who was so homesick that she couldn't walk, called out feebly to Jack to ascertain if the moon were up. Jack gave as his answer that he had enough to get up without getting the moon up too.

A lady with a sense of humor was very homesick, and assured one of the Ministers, that since we have heaven within ourselves she would soon see it. A number of incidents of this sort gave spice to the address, and we sincerely pity any person so lacking in humor as not to be able to appreciate a story well told.

The first place they stopped was at the Island of Madeira, where the crew disembarked and spent twenty-four hours. Many interesting descriptions were given of this part of the trip, but we haven't time nor space to enumerate all. Calls were also made at Gibraltar, Morocco, Athens and other places rendered peculiarly interesting by their connection with Biblical records.

Some time was spent in referring to the degraded and dilapidated state of Constantinople, the Capital City of the Turkish Empire. The filth and squalor were indescribable, the women were housed in, and never permitted to go on the streets with uncovered faces. Modern conveniences such as telephone and electric lighting were totally wanting, and it was not safe to go out after night.

Portions of the trip were made over land on donkeys and no such thing as side-saddles being available the women as well as the men had to straddle the animals, but they soon got accustomed to this sort of travel, and the novelty of the situation was soon worn off, though much amusement was experienced at the onset.

The entrance to Jerusalem was a fine picture clothed in expressive terms that can hardly be forgotten.

Though the address was highly humorous and highly descriptive many fine oratorical digressions were made which show beyond a doubt the lofty sincere and devoted character of Mr. Glassford as a Christian minister whom we hope to hear again on the same subject in the not distant future.

Flesherton.

William Parker, whom we reported last week in the Toronto hospital to be operated on for intestinal trouble, which proved to be malignant cancer, passed away on Thursday morning last. On Friday the remains were brought to his late home on the west back line from where the funeral took place on Saturday to the Flesherton cemetery. The funeral cortege was a very lengthy one and was not only a token of esteem for the deceased but a mark of the sincere sympathy felt in the community for the sorrowing widow and her two children—John aged 16 and Eva aged 14 years—in their sudden bereavement. The funeral was under the auspices of the I. O. F. Society here which turned out in large numbers to pay the last office of respect to the departed brother whose death was the first to record in the history of Court Flesherton organized 12 years ago. The impressive burial service of the Order was conducted by Dr. J. P. Ottewill assisted by Rev. Iverson Wilson. On the casket lay a beautiful pillow from the Court bearing the appropriate motto "Our Brother." Artemesia council is session on Saturday adjourned to attend the funeral. A memorial service was held in the Methodist church on Sunday morning when the pastor preached an appropriate sermon from Gen. 5: 21, "And Enoch walked with God; and he was not; for God took him." The deceased had been for several years a faithful and highly esteemed member of the church. Mr. Parker was born in Yorkshire, England, in the year 1847. In 1881 he came to Canada and lived at Brampton till 1883 when he came to Artemesia and bought the fine farm on which he has since lived. In 1887 he was married to Miss Ellen Moore, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Moore of this place, who with the surviving children feel keenly the loss of an affectionate husband and father.

Death came suddenly to the home of Mr. George Wardrobe of this place on Friday last when Alonzo, aged 13 years and the youngest member of the household was called away after but a few hours' illness with an affection of the brain. In the morning he complained of feeling unwell and soon after lapsed into a comatose state in which despite the doctor's efforts he remained till evening when he expired. Internment took place here on Sunday afternoon Rev. Mr. Wilson officiating at the house and grave. Alonzo was a boy of kind disposition and marked for his good behaviour among his companions. His brothers Arthur, of Toronto, and Alfred, of Cargill, were home to attend the funeral.

Another death which came with shocking suddenness occurred at the home of Mr. Alex. Stewart, Sr., this place, on Sunday afternoon when his niece, Miss Annie Muir, who has been living with him for some time, passed away after a few days' illness with appendicitis and heart weakness. One week before she was in her usual health and in her accustomed place in the Presbyterian church where she regularly worshipped. The deceased who was a highly esteemed lady, was the eldest daughter of the late Peter Muir, Esq., near Ceylon, and sister of Mr. Alex. Muir, reeve of Artemesia. Her remains were taken on Sunday evening to the residence of her brother Peter on the old homestead from where the funeral takes place to-day (Tuesday) to the Priceville cemetery. A wide circle of friends sympathize with the sorrowing family.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Clark, of this place, have the sympathy of their friends in their season of mourning caused by the death of their infant daughter on Saturday last. Internment took place at Meaford Road cemetery on Monday.

The anniversary services in the Presbyterian church on Sabbath last were quite successful. The thoughtful and pleasingly delivered sermons preached by Rev. J. L. Small, B. A., of Auburn, were much enjoyed by large congregations. Service was withdrawn in the Methodist church in the evening when the pastor and many of his people fraternized with the Presbyterians. On Monday evening an entertainment was given under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society. Refreshments were served after which Rev. Mr. Small delivered his interesting lecture on Church Etiquette which was embellished with appropriate recitations pleasingly and effectively rendered. Mr. Small possesses a fine voice and has superior elocutionary talents. The musical part of the program was well sustained by Mr. and Mrs. Sheppard and the choir of the church. The pastor Rev. L. W. Thom, presided.

We notice the Farmers Advocate of June 29th favoured its readers with an excellent portrait of Miss Maudie Henderson little daughter of Mr. R. N. Henderson, formerly of this place and her big dog Captain of which she wrote so interestingly to the Toronto News a few months ago. Maudie's letter appeared also. Mr. and Mrs. Henderson are now residents of Winnipeg, Mr. H. having some time ago accepted a position there with the Mutual Life Assurance Company.

The marriage in Toronto last week of two young people formerly of this place will be a bit of news interesting to some of our readers. The two made one were Mr. John Kingston and Miss Ettie Stocks, daughter of Mrs. John Nuhn of this place. John has a good position and we hear is doing well in the Queen city.

Messrs. R. J. Sproule, of this place James McAneand of Euphrasia, and Chas. Pye, of Clarksburg, arbitrators in the case of Mrs. Isaac vs. Artemesia, are sitting here to-day (Monday) and the case will likely occupy tomorrow also. Mrs. Isaac claims damages for alleged injuries by an upset on the road some months ago.

THE FIRE INQUEST.

We intimated last week that an enquiry was talked of to investigate the cause of the burning of the Middaugh House stables and other contiguous property, and accordingly County Crown Attorney Armstrong of Owen Sound was communicated with and appeared here on Tuesday afternoon. A Jury was empanelled and considerable evidence taken, but none of it was of such nature as to connect the fire with any individual. It was shown that the stable in which the fire originated was a sort of general resort for any one who wished to enter and that some had been there the day previous to the fire. A number of stories had been going the rounds since the time of the fire but when the evidence came to be taken there was an absence of anything to substantiate the rumors. One of the witnesses is reported to have told two responsible townsmen that on a certain morning he saw an Indian-listed Durhamite take a bottle of whiskey out of one of the hotel stoves at five o'clock in the morning, but in his evidence he claimed to know nothing about it. The young man accused of getting the liquor in this strange way denied all knowledge of the matter. The authorities in bringing on the inquest had little idea that evidence would be adduced to fix the origin of the crime, which is not generally believed to be of malicious origin, but the result of carelessness arising from drink. No one doubts this to be the cause of the fire but the guilty one is not known. The following are the jurors who sat on the inquest:—John McKechnie, foreman; Alex. Russel, John Hunter, C. L. Grant, P. Siegner, W. H. Bean, T. G. Holt, R. Cochrane, A. Gordon, S. Scott, John Livingston, Jas. Ireland.

The verdict reads as follows:—

Durham, July 5th, 1904.

We, your jury empanelled to enquire into the cause of the fire of the Middaugh House stables on the morning of June the 29th, 1904, find that the fire was caused by the criminal carelessness on the part of some party or parties unknown who were in the habit of frequenting the McIntyre stables.

We would recommend the council take such action as they deem necessary in order to compel the better maintenance of law and order on the public streets of the town.
