DURHAM CHRONICLE

W. IRWIN, Editor and Proprietor.

Durham, July 14, 1904.

Mull Corners.

Haying has commenced this week. Quite a number from around here have disposed of their fat cattle for good figures.

The trustees are having some repairs done at the school here by building a butment to support a bulging wall.

We would like to know who the young man was who used the girl's belt to tie up a broken shaft on the 1st of July when returning from the Scotch games.

William Quinn is doing nicely and is able to be out again.

Several parties are anxious to know who the couple were who were trying to impart warmth to a huge boulder on the roadside, last Sunday evening. They were heard repeating love ditties to each other while seated on its cold surface. Never mind, Jim, we won't give you away.

The garden parties talked of here have fallen through on account of haying.

Miss Tena McCormack spent a few days last week with Mrs. Dan McDonald. We understand she was doing some sewing.

Mr. Chas. Dowding, of Markdale, spent Saturday and Sunday with relatives here.

Mrs. Pasmore, of Toronto, is at present visiting her aunt, Mrs. Arch. McCormack.

Robert Ewen has patented a new gate which works on the safe principle. You are required to know the combination before you can open it.

Mr. Quinn has disposed of all the shingles he had on hand. This speaks well for our shingle mill here.

Thanks to Foresters.

Durham, 24th June, 1904. The oldest Forester of Court Durham No. 111 I. O. F.

I would say with gratitude and thanks that by the mercy of Almighty God, my life has been prolonged to the 70th landmark, the allotted span.

A pleasing feature of having attained the 70th anniversary, is the fact that I am a member of the I. O. F. connected with Court Durham No. 111.

I am as such pleased and gratified to learn from Bro. Mr. Wm. Johnston that he has a cheque of $100.00 for me, the first gift of my yearly annuity demanded by my certificate. Said amount will be paid yearly by this noble order to all veterans after attaining the three score and ten mark.

I am highly pleased and gratified with the promptness displayed by the I. O. F. in recognizing my claim and would advise all outsiders with confidence to unite themselves with this noble, benevolent society, the I. O. F., and if convenient for them to come within the illustrious circle of No. 111 Court Durham, which is not surpassed by any Court in the wide world for kindness, sympathy, benevolence and love for that great brotherhood of the human family.

Traverston.

Haying is on! The crop is a good average.

Mrs. David McFarlane and Miss Jessie, of Caledon came up on Wednesday of last week returning next day after visiting the old Edward's home.

Mrs. Thos. Flynn and baby girl arrived at the Robson home on Saturday from Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Firth, with bouncing baby Davis, visited Mrs. Firth's parents the first of the week.

The Council Fathers had a big day's work on Saturday. It was after 8 p. m. when they adjourned.

Mrs. John Love of Laurston and her father were over to Zion on Sunday.

Mrs. Milburn and Mrs. Geo. Furneaux, visited their mother, Mrs. Peart the first of the week.

We are in receipt of a copy of the "Evening News" of the American Soo in which appears a complimentary paragraph to Mr. Geo. Lamb, announcing the fact that he and his son are going into the grocery business and also have an extensive feed store. We wish them every success.

Will Jack had a quartette bee last Friday and put a new roof on his back kitchen.

Mr. Sam Bains had a fine barn 52x62 erected last week. Will Jack and Will Bell were captains; but the laddie from Zion was too much for the bachelor chappie over at the Lake.

Mr. James Murphy is having a stone foundation built under his barn. Zion's picnic on Thursday of last week surpassed any ever held by the school in number present, in the quantity of ice-cream devoured and in the amount of money realized.

The day was delightful, the night more so. The eatables were plentiful and pronounced first-class. Mrs. T. Jack made a happy hit in brewing the tea—her first public effort. The ice-cream corner did a rushing trade. Sarah Jack knew how to make the large stuff. They realized over $12 from that source. Two gramophones kept the little folk entertained till programme time. When they acquitted themselves well. The church was crowded at the concert at night.

Rev. T. Colling occupying the chair. Miss A. Blair had trained the little folk in song and they did remarkably well. Misses Stella Jack, A. Jardine Olive Cook, Mary McNally and F. Hunt gave able assistance. The recitations were specially good. Miss May Robson excelling any thing she has ever done heretofore. "I shall never forget them oxen." will be a clause ever remembered. The dialogues were bright, but the last one for realistic work couldn't be better.

Messrs. John Cook and Ewart and Misses Maud Boggs, Vickie Elder, K. Ewart and Mrs. John Cook of Berkeley sang five selections and won warm plaudits. Miss May McClocklin of Durham made the old organ produce melody playing the accompaniment for them. The day's proceeds amounted to $32.

Safe In Scotland

TO EDITOR OF DURHAM CHRONICLE: After a lovely passage across the Atlantic we arrived at Glasgow on Sunday 20th July. We had a heavy fog coming down the St. Lawrence, but our passage was pleasant. Every evening we had divine service and good singing; one evening the service was conducted in Gaelic. We were comfortably attended to and got four meals a day. The scenery between Ireland and Scotland is grand. At Glasgow we all parted company to enjoy our long looked for holiday in the land of the heather.

GEO. TURNBULL.

The following address was presented to Capt. Arden and his staff by the passengers:—

We the undersigned 2nd cabin passengers on board the S. S. Corinthian from Montreal to Liverpool and Glasgow, desire to express our hearty appreciation of the excellent manner in which Mr. Arden and his able staff of assistants have performed their duties during the whole of the voyage. Stewards and stewardesses have vied with each other in ministering to the comfort of all the passengers, while the sick received such special care as greatly relieved their troubles, and made the voyage as pleasant as possible. Therefore do we all feel deeply grateful and take this opportunity of expressing our gratitude for kindness and attention shown.

Signed: REV. ANGUS MCKAY, GEORGE TURNBULL, (Mrs.) M. MACNAUGHTON.

MALTOVIM
"The D. & L." MALT EXTRACT
A Nutritious Fluid Food.
25c-PINT BOTTLE-25c.

This preparation offers in a palatable, practically nonalcoholic form, the bitter aromatic constituents of the best Bavarian Hops, and is highly renowned for their tonic, appetizing qualities, and the highly nutritious extractive matter derived from choice Malted Barley.

The Effects of Maltovim are immediately evidenced by increased secretion of gastric juice, healthy appetite, and a feeling of vim and bodily energy, replacing the sense of depression characteristic of a low state of the general health.

For Children during the years of rapid growth Maltovim given daily with meals supplies the system with all the elements necessary to produce flesh and strength.

Convalescents from fevers and wasting diseases, and all those afflicted with malnutrition, dyspepsia and kindred ailments, will obtain in Maltovim a food and tonic which through its active principle diastase aids greatly in the assimilation of carbonaceous foods, removes stomachic catarrhal affections, and generally hastens complete restoration to health.

Business Men worn from the day's work will find a wineglassful of cooled Maltovim, taken at meal time a most grateful appetizer, affording, without the undesirable effects of alcoholic beverages, a refreshing digestive stimulation, beneficial to both body and mind.
