DURHAM CHRONICLE

W. IRWIN, Editor and Proprietor.

Durham, August 4, 1904.

The House of Refuge.

Mr. Fred Gee of Artemesia formerly a lieutenant in the British Army, afterwards a school teacher, and late a cripple from rheumatism is now an inmate in the House of Refuge at Markdale. He has been a liberal contributor to the columns of the Flesherton Advance, and the following article from his pen may be of interest to many of our readers:—It would have been a difficult matter to find a more depressed in spirit, or sad hearted person than the writer, when the hour arrived in which he was necessitated to take his departure from the neighborhood in which he had spent so many long years among so many friends, to spend the rest of his days in a House of Refuge. Low as were the spirits and as was the heart, yet it is not matter of wonder that only a few hours should suffice to dispel the gloom, to drive away the darkened cloud and restore the depressed one to his wonted state of cheerfulness. To find welcome in a bright comfortable and neatly furnished room with its two comfortable beds with snowy white furnishings; to be greeted with the kindly countenance and cheery words by the estimable matron as she deposits a pile of reading matter on the dressing table; to be served with a substantial and inviting dinner, and an hour later to receive a most cordial welcome from, and a pleasant conversation with the equally estimable governor was sufficient to raise the spirits of the most depressed, and any one who cannot be cheered by such reception must be irreconcilable. As the writer is unable to leave his room he cannot give in detail the working of the institution but being pleasantly situated with a fair view of his surroundings, he is favorably impressed that everything is complete and by far exceeding his expectations. The food is excellent, abundant, inviting, well and regularly served; the rooms are clean, comfortable and well ventilated as well as light and cheerful looking; the ablution rooms are complete, the inmates are required to take a bath every Saturday afternoon. Those who are unable to leave their rooms are provided with neat toilet service and dressing table their meals are brought to them the meals are served to the inmates in two separate dining rooms in the basement males and females by themselves. The medical gentleman in attendance is almost a daily visitor. His genial countenance is medicine itself. The electric light in the hallway have a pleasant effect after dark. We understand that each room will be provided with a lamp in the near future. Thursday in each week is visitor's day, when visitor's are courteously shown through the building, but we are inclined to think that a person would not be denied the privilege of seeing a friend on any other day—however on this point I am not positive, having made no inquiries. A large number of ladies visited us last Thursday and appeared to be favorably impressed with the institution. It is expected that arrangements will be made in the near future for holding divine service each Sabbath for the benefit of those who are unable to attend outside churches.

To provide this magnificent home for the poor has, unquestionably, been an expensive undertaking, but it reflects unspeakable credit on the county, and how grateful we should each feel that the days are past when the aged, respectable and homeless poor are thrust into a common jail to spend their last days on earth under the same roof with the criminals and murderers. Let us hope that the lorkup for refractory inmates which we understand, is built in connection with this institution, will never need to be put to worse use than the custody of spades hoes and garden rakes. Let us hope that all those whose misfortunes compel them to seek a home under this roof will feel it their bounded duty to comply with the rules of the house, and do all in their power to maintain in the future the credit of its inception. As school children, by attention and obedience, mat-rially assist their teacher, even so can the inmates of this house assist the governor and matron in making this institution not only a credit to the county, but a pattern for the province.

Mull Corners.

Fall wheat harvest is the order. The Misses Dora and Frankie Davidson of Durham accompanied by their friend Miss Sadie McDonald of Detroit visited friends here last week. Mr. R. A. McGillivray and wife of Hespeler, accompanied by his mother Mrs. John McGillivray of Guelph spent a week with old friends and acquaintances here. We are pleased to see them looking so well, and also pleased to hear of their prosperity in the Agricultural city. Mr. John McKecknie of Glenroaden spent Sunday evening with Mr. Arch. McCormack and family. Mr. Thomas Hill, who has been somewhat under the weather lately, is improving nicely. Mr. Alvie Caswell of Durham spent Sunday with his parents here. Mr. John McGillivray of Guelph spent a week's holiday with his friend Mr. Malcolm McLean of this place. Mrs. Weir (nee Miss Kate McLean) of Port Credit spent a few weeks holidays at the old home and with her many friends here. Mr. Malcolm McLean treated his friends with a party one evening last week. The evening was spent in games and other amusements. Several guests from Rochester were present. All went home in the Wee Sma' hours o' the mornin, having enjoyed themselves to their heart's content. Mr. Dice of Louise, who has been cutting shingles in Mr. Quin's mill here left for home last week. Mr. Archie McCormack sold a valuable mare to Mr. Chas. McKinnon who is taking a car load out West. Miss Minnie Sheurmann of Waterloo is home for her holidays. Miss Maggie Pust is renewing old acquaintances. Mr. Neil Stewart is helping Duncan Campbell for a few days with the haying and wheat. Quite a number are ploughing sod for fall wheat sowing. Several from these parts are contemplating on taking a trip out West. Miss Bella McLean has returned from Toronto, for a few weeks holidays.

Vickers.

Miss Mary Vickers spent a few days with Allan Park friends last week. Mrs. Robt. Dargavel of Dornoch and her daughter Mrs. Picard of Boston, visited the Hunt family recently. Mrs. George Bailey has gone to Hepworth to see her mother who is seriously ill. Mrs. Mills and family are spending their holidays at the homestead. Mr. Black of Elmwood, visited at Mr. W. A. Livingston's. Mr. A. W. Hunt sold a valuable horse for a handsome sum. Miss Maud Cuff is home from Toronto for her holidays. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lindsay and family spent Sunday in Glenelg. Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Herb Livingston a son.

Varney.

Mrs. McCalmon and Master Earle, of Holstein, are guests of her son Will this week. Mr. David Gilmore, of Hampden, visited at C. Gadd's last week. Varney Football team played the Durham boys at the Garden Party at Mr. Aldred's winning 2 to 0, and at the Baptist Garden Party here they made it 3 to 0. Miss McNeice is at Banessan spending a few days with her friend Miss Riely who is very sick at present.

Old Folks Can't Stand.

Harsh purging medicine, but invariably find Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut the mildest cure for constipation and sick headache. No griping pains, sure cure, price 25c. Use only Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

H. W. MOCKLER DEAD.

We regret very much to chronicle the death of Mr. H. W. Mockler, so well and favorably known in this town and vicinity for over forty years. After a somewhat prolonged illness death claimed its victim on Sunday night last. As he had been brighter than usual during the evening the family had no idea the end would come so soon, and the announcement was a surprise to the community as well as a shock to the immediate relatives.

Deceased was born Feby. 23rd, 1848, in Ipswich, England, and came to this country with his parents when an infant, settling for a short time at Weston and Fergus before removing to this town when the subject of this sketch was about seven years of age. At the age of fourteen years Mr. Mockler lost his father, and for some time after that he was engaged as clerk with the late J. H. Hunter. Subsequently about twenty-two or twenty-three years ago he entered business for himself up town, when he established an enviable reputation for honesty and fair dealing. Later on he moved down town to the stand he occupied till the time of his death. About two years ago he gave up actual mercantile work and the business has since been conducted by his son.

Though born in England his father was born in the South of Ireland, and we believe there were very few who knew the nationality of the deceased gentleman who gave himself very little concern about the land of his birth. In religion he was a firm adherent of the Episcopal Church. In politics he was Conservative being at one time president of the Association here. In the public life of the town he took an active interest and served as Mayor for several terms. He was also a past master of the Masonic Society under whose auspices he was buried Tuesday at Trinity Church Cemetery, Rev. Mr. Ryan officiating at the house and grave.

He leaves to mourn his death two sisters, one son, one daughter and a devoted wife, all of whom reside in this town and are much respected by the whole community.

THE CEMENT MILL.

Very little, of late, has been said in the local press about our cement industry, and in order to give information to readers who may be interested in the success of the enterprise we made it our business to interview Superintendent Farr, for some particulars regarding the working and output for the month July. We were very graciously received and the genial superintendent was quite willing to answer all our questions. During the month just ended there were 27000 barrels of clinkers burned, and the product disposed of. The total output is already contracted for, for the month of August, and large orders are already in for September delivery. The mill is working first class in every detail and a very proper working adjustment has been made so that a large amount will be saved during the present year in the reduction made at the beginning of the season in the number of laborers employed. Should nothing happen now and the mill go on as it has been so far this year there is every prospect for a capital showing at the next annual meeting.

We didn't venture to question Mr. Farr about the chances of a dividend, knowing that the initial stage, and indeed the whole of the first year had incurred considerable liability, but the information was volunteered that the mill was working well, sales were good, the debt was being gradually wiped out, and the institution will soon be placed on fair footing to earn something for the stockholders.

We feel now that in Superintendent Farr and Secretary Ehrhardt we have two good men, who are doing their best for the interests of the company and the stockholders, and since everything is now going well we, with many other stockholders, trust the mill will be let alone, and no time or money spent for attempted improvement. From the dredge to the shipping room the mill is A. 1. as any one who views the vast concern will readily admit.

Cholera Infantum.

This has long been regarded as one of the most dangerous and fatal diseases to which infants are subject. It can be cured, however, when properly treated. All that is necessary is to give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and castor oil, as directed with each bottle and a cure is certain. For sale by H. Parker.—1

THE most terrific thunder storm of the season passed over here on Wednesday night of last week. It was fierce for a time, but no damage is reported from town or vicinity other than the inquiries to the electric light plant and telephone Co. About a month ago there were twenty-four local phones injured, and this time the damage is said to be considerable. At time of writing Monday morning the phones are all right again, but the electric light plant is still out of business.
