DURHAM CHRONICLE

W. IRWIN, Editor and Proprietor.

Durham, Sept. 8, 1904.

THE MAN ON THE STREET

"A chief among ye takin' notes, An' faith he'll print it."—BURNS.

Advertising in the Chronicle brings great results, but not always to the Chronicle. Last week a farmer advertised some cattle that strayed on to his premises, and before the ad. was set up the owner claimed the cattle and the farmer had the ad. withdrawn. As we did nothing with it up to that time we gave him back his dollar and we were out of it, altogether because we wouldn't lie and say we had the ad. ready for the press. It isn't a good principle to take money for nothing. At least it isn't a principle that will continue to pay the taker. Barnum may have said to advertise whether you have the goods or not, but if he did say it, we don't think he was right in his remark. The man who advertises ought to have the goods and the goods ought to be just as he represents them. The public may stand fooling for a long time, but the world isn't slow in spotting the man whose word is one worth fifty cents in the dollar.

Whenever you see a man totting off to church on Sunday morning parading a Bible under his arm as big as a bunch of shingles, it's always well to watch him during the week. Ten to one that sixty-four per cent. of those chaps are as slippery as a soap factory for the six business days of the week. There are men to be found not far from Durham who openly attend every means of grace, and you got to watch them with a shot gun to keep them out of your melon patch when they're going home from church on Sunday night.

LABOR DAY IN DURHAM.

Labor Day was celebrated in Durham this year with a programme of sports in the Agricultural Park. It was expected that a big crowd would be on hand, but the weather was not any too promising, light showers falling during the night. However, the day turned out bright, and a goodly number wended their way to the grounds to take in all that was going. The Band marched from the town square and played a number of pieces during the afternoon. Some took delight in watching the different games being played, while others were satisfied by rolling stones down the hill, receiving in return pleasant smiles from all whom they managed to strike.

On the top of the hill a Quoit contest was the first scene that was of interest after passing through the gates. Upper and Lower town were the combatants. Three sets were played and after an hour's play Lower Town succeeded in pulling out a victory by the close margin of two goals to one.

The next attraction was the Lacrosse match between the Mintos and Hiawathas, two local organizations. The play lasted about half an hour, the Hiawathas winning by 2 goals to 1.

A game of Cricket between the Grits and Tories was played. The Grits went to bat first and were so long in getting their 64 runs when all were out that time was up and the Tories, as usual, were again cheated out of their rights. The Grits have promised to give the Tories their innings on Thanksgiving Day. But if the elections are on it will be pretty hard to get the Grits together. They won't want to take chances in two games and go down to defeat.

Perhaps the most interesting bit of amusement was the Base Ball game between picked sides. The game was very evenly contested, the score being a tie—5 to 5.

The closing scene was a Foot Ball match between the two stalwart teams of Varney and Holstein for a purse of $15 which resulted in a victory for Varney. The score was 1 to 0. Both teams put up a good game and received hearty applause from the crowd of spectators.

The Promenade Concert in the Rink came off as advertised but was poorly attended. Mrs. Newton was the accompanist for the evening. Miss Jean Brown and Mr. Jack Drysdale contributed vocal numbers which were well received. The McClocklin Bros., although little fellows, can now entertain big crowds. They are sweet singers and take their parts like little gentlemen. Others also assisted in the programme. Editor Ramage was the chairman.

A new milliner was placed at Eckenwiller & Co's establishment on Saturday, and it was quite amusing to hear the excuses made by gentlemen declining an introduction. Some are so shy, you know. But when it was realized that the new milliner is a most charming make up in wax and accessories, why she is admired by every passer-by.—Clifford Exp.

Women's Institute.

Notice.—The following announcement has been received by the secretary of S. G. W. I from the Superintendent.

"I am glad to be able to announce that the Honorable Minister of Agriculture has instructed me to provide a tent on the Exhibition grounds in this city (Toronto) during the time of the Fair for the accommodation of members of Women's Institutes. There will be a lecture and a demonstration along some line of cooking or preserving each afternoon commencing Friday Sept. 2nd, and continuing to the close of the Fair, and all women will be made welcome at these sessions.

The demonstrations will commence at 2:30 p. m. and will be followed by a short address on Institute methods etc. There will be a lady in charge of this tent at all times, and she will be prepared to answer questions and give information—regarding Women's Institute work. You and all members are cordially invited to make this tent, which will be placed near the Women's Building, your headquarters while on the Exhibition grounds.

Please make this known as far as possible among your members. Wishing your Institute every success, I am

Very truly yours,
(Signed) Geo. A. Putnam, Superintendent.

There is an agitation in progress toward having the rural schools open after the summer vacation on the same date as the schools in towns and villages. There is no particular reason why this should not be the rule. The youngsters on the farm generally find something to do during the holidays—picking berries, running errands, hoeing turnips, raking hay and otherwise making themselves useful. This is especially the case now when hired help is so scarce. The rural school teacher also usually finds some useful outdoor employment, which is quite as beneficial as camping out or loafing, and in addition to imbibing ozone his pockets imbibe a few dollars to help out a meagre salary. When the rural schools reopen after their brief holidays, most of the scholars are kept at home until the busy season is over, and the teacher faces mostly an array of empty benches for the first few weeks. If the town teachers and pupils require the long vacations to recuperate their wasted energies so also do those in the rural districts.—Warton Canadian.

HITS AND MISSES.

The cup that cheers the honey bee is the buttercup.

Charity with a string to it uncovers a multitude of sins.

Many who think they will be chosen aren't even called.

Some men remind one of a bird's-eye view of the real thing.

A man never gets full until he is too far gone to get home sober.

If a woman refuses to tell her age give her time—for time will tell.

There is no fool like the one with a bald pate and moth-eaten whiskers.

If a man could get credit for his good intentions money would be no object.

In the Owen Sound-Seaforth la crosse match played in Stratford last week the "Times" says that some one remarked that the Owen Sound team was Irish, which caused "Con." Marrin to sing:

O, Patrick dear, O, did you hear,
The news that's goin' round
That Patrick changed his name to Mike,
Then moved to Owen Sound.

It's a shame that men are not as smart at 45 as they thought they were at 25.

A girl's dearest girl friend is apt to be one she has known less than two weeks.

Too many business women are interested only in the business of their neighbors.

It sometimes happens that a woman never forgives a man for letting her marry him.

It is better to be able to hold the tongue in one language than it is to speak sever.

Women seldom save up money for a rainy day, because they can't get out to blow it when it rains.

A fellow never finds out the true worth of his wife until she gets sick and he has to cook his own meals.

The Small-Pox Question

Any intelligent physician will admit that you don't catch small-pox because someone else has it, but because your condition favors it. Low vitality always encourages sickness, and at this season especially, everyone should take Ferrozone, which destroys disease germs and makes the system so strong and healthy that sickness can't exist. Ferrozone is a vitalizing tonic that makes rich, red blood build up the nerves, cures nervousness and drives away tired languid feelings. To get strong and keep strong use Ferrozone; it assures health and costs but 50c. at all druggists.

Buy From Home Merchants.

There is no excuse for dealing away from home. Money should be spent in the locality in which it is made, otherwise the growth and success of districts is impaired. The conduct of those people who buy on credit in town and outside for cash cannot be too strongly condemned. The merchants know what they have to contend with in outside competition and subsequently mark things down to the lowest possible prices so that if they cannot obtain cash or its equivalent in value, they suffer loss. Assist the merchants so far as lies in your power to take advantage of every trade discount by giving him the cash with which to do so and you will find that every effort put forth in this way will rebound to your interests.—Monetary Times.
