Not His Own Boss.

"It's ridiculous for a young man to get married as soon as he comes of age," said the elderly bachelor. "Think so, do you?" said Henpeck languidly. "Of course. Why he's scarcely old enough to be his own boss." "Well, he isn't if he gets married."

Exchange Echoes.

Some five years ago an Owen Sound man named Hugh Stewart and his family moved out to Seattle, Washington State. Fortune did not favor the Stewart's in their new home and they decided to move back to their former home. In April last they started the long journey in six waggon and the other day arrived in Windsor on their way to Owen Sound. Mr. Stewart says that many families in Washington are leaving their land there and moving into the Canadian North-west - Ayton Advance.

On Saturday last while assisting Mr. Andrew Miller, con. 11, Arran, at his threshing, Mr. C. Alliss, Sr., fell from one of the sills of the barn, a distance of about 19 feet receiving injuries that will lay him up for several weeks. Threshing had stopped at the call for dinner, and Mr. Alliss attempted taking a short cut to get to the first floor in the barn, instead of waiting to go down by the ladder. He failed in his calculation and dropped to the floor lighting on his feet. His ankles and legs were badly injured. - Tara Leader.

On Thursday evening at 7.45 a C. P. R. westbound freight, while running at high speed, ran into a herd of cattle at a road crossing eight miles west of Harrison, near Fordville, killing and throwing them in all directions. The engine was turned into the ditch. Driver MacInnes was badly cut about the head and otherwise injured, and fireman Newman had his left leg broken at the ankle. The cars were piled upon the track, and the night express lay at Harrison until the auxiliary got the track cleared by morning, the passengers being cared for at the hotels by the company. - Mt. Forest Confederates.

John Heard of this place sued Fred Deagle of the Electric light plant for $50, alleged damage to shade trees fronting his property east of the village. The case was tried at the Division Court last week. Deagle trimmed certain trees when erecting his line nearly two years ago. Himself and two witnesses swore that the late J. H. Heard was present and superintended some of the work, and held that it was with his consent that it was done. Judge Morrison in pronouncing judgment said he thought the late J. H. Heard had supposed Mr. Deagle had a legal right to trim the trees without consent and awarded the plaintiff $65 and costs. The case was brought by plaintiff as executor of the estate of J. H. Heard deceased; he is now the owner of the property which was willed to him - Flesherton Advance.

Rev. Mr. Mavety, Methodist minister, of Kemptonville, writes to the press regarding the "Home Paper" thus: - "I have been led to wonder how a family can afford to do without this weekly visitor. We may dispense with many things and not suffer much loss but the home greatly needs the local news which can be gathered from no other source. Let none say 'I cannot afford it' when it comes at less than two cents per week. To brighten the home we need this weekly guest. Next to the Bible, in my judgment, is the newspaper in the home. Let none say 'I cannot afford it' for you cannot afford to do without these. Many may say 'I have no time to read the paper.' I think we succeed better when we take the time. We need these papers for our own personal benefit, for the profit of the home and for the good of our country.

Mr. A. J. Frost had a narrow escape from instant death on Monday afternoon at the Grey and Bruce Cement Co's mill, where he is chemist. Mr. Frost was on a platform above one of the slurry tanks, and was in conversation with Mr. Lynn, manager of the works. Between them was a shaft revolving at the rate of 180 revolutions a minute, connecting with the slurry mixer. Mr. Frost leaned over the shaft to hear what Mr. Lynn was saying. The plank on which he was standing was slippery with wet marl, and he lost his footing and fell forward on the shaft. His clothes caught and he was whirled round at the rate of three times a second, until he was finally freed by Mr. Lynn. He had three ribs broken, and was badly bruised about the head and arms. He was conveyed to his home on Jackson street and is under the care of Dr. T. H. Middlebro, who reported this morning that he is recovering rapidly and will be out in a week or so. Mr. Frost may consider himself fortunate as few men who mix up with a shaft get off so easy. - Owen Sound Sun.

A general meeting of the Directors of the Electric Railway Company, was held in Walkerton, on Tuesday of this week. There was a good attendance, directors being present from Flesherton, Durham, Lucknow, Toronto, Meaford and other points. The Walkerton section was well represented. Mr. May reported having entered into a contract with a company to construct at least ten miles of the road, north or west of Flesherton, by the first of July 1905. For that purpose, it was necessary that a sufficient number of the present Directors should resign, so that the new company could put enough of their own men on Board to have a majority which they deemed necessary, as they were putting their money into the undertaking. They have subscribed one hundred thousand dollars of which ten thousand are paid up. Mr. May gave a bond, conditioned for the carrying out of this agreement, and several of the Directors then resigned, as they desired only to have the work go on, and had no personal interest to serve. The bond was given to Messrs M. McNarma, David Robertson, and R. J. Sproule, of Flesherton, as trustees for the old Board. The Charter also reverts to the old company in the event of the work not going on as agreed. The meeting then adjourned to meet in Toronto, to-day Thursday, when the new company take possession and make their arrangements for building the road. A surveying party with a staff of engineers, will start from Toronto on the fifteenth inst., to go over the whole route, and make a new plan and profile. - Bruce Herald.

As close a call as one would care to have come this way came to Mr. W. T. Kennedy, the well known dairyman and his wife and the latter's sister, Miss Kreutzkamp on Sunday evening. The party were driving in from visiting relatives in Sullivan by the Desboro line when they were overtaken by the terrific thunderstorm which passed over that section shortly after seven o'clock. A flash of lightning darted down and struck the earth with a terrific report scarcely fifty feet in front of them. Though the horse was startled it did not make any effort to run away. The flash was so close that the eyes of Mr. Kennedy and Miss Kreutzkamp felt as though they had been torn from their sockets. Mrs. Kennedy who was screened from the light by her husband, did not feel the same sensation but all three were victims of the nerve racking bolt. Notwithstanding the painful effects of the flesh it was decided to drive through to town. Entering lamp-light left a hazy sight and a stinging sensation. On Monday light brought with it more or less pain and Dr. Burt was consulted. That no permanent injury had occurred was his diagnosis of the case and recovery has been rapid. A curious fact is that the horse which Mr. Kennedy was driving was quite blind on Monday, but is showing evidence of recovery. - Owen Sound Times.

There is a band of old metal gatherers—who incidentally trade horses as a side line—camped outside the town, and the way they are doing up those seeking a "deal" is remarkable. One instance is reported of a "clever" man in town who is supposed to know all about a horse and everything else on the face of the earth. He had a broncho which did not suit him very well—it had a habit of stopping on the road for an hour at a time to view the landscape or in other cases of wanting to quickly go somewhere whether Mr. Man wished to go or not. It simply did as it liked, such as breaking a set of harness or playfully kicking a buggy to pieces for pure amusement. Its owner could not see the joke, so he coaxed the dear broncho out to the camp "just to have a look around you know." A trade was soon arranged our clever chap giving considerable boot. Next day, however, found him back at the camp as he feared his latest purchase would die on his hands—it looked so weary and sad. After much talking—in which vacacity was forgotten—Mr. Man secured with the aid of more money a piece of horse-dish that in his estimation was perfection. Strange to say, however, it has the same bad habits that the first animal had. Its too good to be true but it was the original broncho back again—died, tail docked, mane trimmed, etc., but the same old broncho with the same old tricks. It just cost our friend $30 to find out that he doesn't know it all and that there is wisdom in the saying that you can't beat a man at his own game.

Proper Treatment for a Sprained Ankle

As a rule a man will feel well satisfied if he can hobble around on crutches two or three weeks after spraining his ankle, and it is usually two or three months before he has fully recovered. This is an unnecessary loss of time, for in many cases in which Chamberlain's Pain Balm has been promptly and freely applied a complete cure has been effected in one week's time, and in some cases within three days.
