

Corner Concerns.

(Intended for last week.)

The two road commissioners from Egremont and Normanby a short time ago examined the ground for the new sidewalk at Varnay, and promised the careful consideration of their respective councils. If the walk is not made before the muddy weather sets in it will show how much or rather how little thought they have for the suffering citizens.

Some authorities have said that if all the over time wasted in courting was put to some good use there would be a sufficient saving to build all the railways in Canada. Varnay goes it one better in declaring that two of their young men in one day wasted enough to build their new sidewalk and were told not so come back again.

Miss Sara Tucker is spending a few months in Durham with the Misses Hughes learning the mysteries of dressmaking.

It was a pleasant job settling up matters at the Green Grove Beef Ring on Thursday night. The butcher reported the cattle the best bunch he had yet dressed and the patrons gave him, Mr. Turnbull, a very hearty vote of thanks for the satisfactory way in which he performed his part of the work, and as a further evidence of appreciation they re-engaged him for next season. The other officers were re-elected and all went home satisfied.

Our Sunday School concert will be held on Tuesday evening, Nov. 1st. An excellent program is being prepared and a good tea will be served, all for 15c. and 10c. for the little folks.

Since the Moore steam thresher came to the southern part of our division the boys have been spending a very pleasant time. They dance all night, attend the machine during the day and snooze in the cow stable at noon hour.

The sad news of the death of Mr. Joseph Sharpe last week was a surprise to all the country round. Although it was known that he had been failing for the past year it was not expected that the end would come so soon. He first saw the light of day sixty-eight years ago in the Co. Cavan, Ireland, and at ten years of age immigrated with his parents to Canada, and shortly afterwards settled on lot 22, concession 2 in the township of Egremont.

At the age of twenty-three he was married to Martha Pollock and afterwards purchased the second lot from the township on the third concession of Glenelg where they have since resided. Ten children resulted from the union none of whom still live to share with the mother the loss of a fond parent and husband. The sons are Benjamin and George in Manitoba and John at home. The daughters are Mrs. Jas. McGirr, Mrs. Wm. Vollett, and Mrs. John Ross, of Assiniboia, and Martha at home of his brothers and sisters, twelve in all, only David residing in Durham, now remains.

For some years past deceased had interested himself in trying to improve the breeding of farm stock and was thus brought into business relationship with the community who found him upright and honest in his dealings. He was a life-long Conservative in politics. His remains were laid to rest Thursday afternoon in Trinity Church Cemetery whither they were followed by a large concourse of sorrowing friends and relatives, the Rev. Mr. Colling officiating in the services at the house and grave.

Flesherton.

(Intended for last week.)

After more than a year confinement at home your correspondent ventured a drive around town on Saturday last and greatly enjoyed the outing in the delightful sunshine of that day. It pleased us to see that substantial improvements had been made on some of the streets and that the usual tidy appearance of the place was being kept up.

Among improvements made to property this season we observe the following:—The Flesherton Hotel now named the Munshaw House, has undergone interior improvements to the extent of nearly $2000, which makes it quite modern and one of the most comfortable hotels in the county. The new steam heating plant was completed last week and works to perfection; Wm. Clayton's brick block woodwork repainted; Baptist parsonage repainted and a new fence on the church grounds; the eggery, new coat of roughcast and repainted; M.K. Richardson's residence re-painted with improvements done to veranda; Mrs. Moorehouse's residence, modern window placed in front and interior improvement being done; Alex. Stewart's residence and fence, with adjoining shop, re-painted; M. Richardson's residence, occupied by Mr. Wardrobe, re-painted; D. McLeod's residence raised on new stone walls and made ready for brick veneer; Mr. Alexander's residence roughcast and re-painted; the Presbyterian manse, interior improved; J. Blackburn's residence re-painted; W. L. Wright's store, interior improved; T. A. Blakley's residence, modern window in front with interior improvements; Mrs. Parker's residence, interior improved; Medical Hall, greatly improved in the interior.

On Saturday last there appeared before Magistrate VanDusen here Messrs. Donald McLean, Alex. McDonald, Norman Campbell and A. McArthur charged by Mr. John McArthur, of Priceville, with disorderly conduct at Priceville on the day of Artemesia fall fair. The evidence produced was sufficient to convict all and fines were imposed as follows: D. McLean $5.00 and costs, and the other three $2.00 each and costs.

Boyd, Hickling and Co., had delivered to them last week from the Lake of the Woods Milling Company a carload of Manitoba wheat flour.

Dr. Murray had a highly prized young dog poisoned last week. It is supposed he got bait laid by some one for vermin.

Born—On Friday last at the home of Mrs. Hickling's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Thistlewaite, this place, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. W. Hickling of Toronto.

The evangelistic meetings grew in interest and attendance last week till Thursday evening when the closing service was held, Mr. Little having to leave on Friday for Parry Sound where he continues his special work. The collections and thank offering, which goes to the Synod Evangelistic Fund, amounted to $46.50.

Rev. Mr. Wilson preached an anniversary sermon to the Methodists of Iustisorg on Sunday morning, his pulpit here being supplied by Mr. M. K. Richardson, Revs. Wilson and Wass were speakers at the anniversary entertainment there on Monday evening, and the Methodist church choir entertained also. Rev. S. I. Wilson, Mr. M. K. ### Aberdeen.

It becomes our painful duty to record the death of a well-known and highly respected young man, in the person of Hugh H. McLean. Deceased was born in Bentinck, where he lived until he was about the age 18 or 19 then he served his apprenticeship as harness-maker with Mr. Thos. Smith, of Durham; he then went to Priceville for a while, and from there to Winnipeg, to seek his fortune in the West, where he remained till the time of his death. He was taken with Typhoid to which disease he finally succumbed at the age of thirty-two. The remains were brought home by his brother Duncan. Interment took place Oct. 16th in the Rocky Cemetery. The remains were followed to its last resting-place by a large concourse of friends. The family have the sympathy of this community in their bereavement.

Mr. David Hopkins has rented his farm to Ed. Crozier.

Miss Davidson has tendered her resignation as teacher in S. S. No. 10 Bentinck. We are sorry to lose such an efficient teacher, but our loss shall be other's gain.

Sam looks happy these days since it was announced in the household that it was a little girl.

Bob Grierson is raising a dust in our midst. It is the winding up of the threshing.

Slight Sprains Grow Worse

Unless promptly treated. The great strength of Nerviline enables it to quickly cure all manner of sprains and strains. "I sprained my wrist," writes Leonard E. Milford of Rockland, "while working in the mill but had to lay off, it became so painful and swelled. I rubbed my wrist thoroughly with Nerviline twice a day and put on a bandage. The pain soon went away and frequent rubbing with Nerviline soon cured. Nerviline is undoubtedly an excellent liniment and the best pain reliever I ever used." Nerviline certainly is extra good. Price 25c.

In The Hymn Book.

"There is no reason why young persons should not cultivate each other's acquaintance from behind Hymn Books."—The Rev. M. B. Williams.

"On Jordan's stormy banks," she sang; He cast a wistful eye. Her voice in joyous accents rang, He heaved a longing sigh. Her face was beautiful to see Beneath her bonnet's brim; He thought of her alone, but she Thought of the hymn and him.

"From Greenland's icy mountains"—this She sang and slightly frowned; His meaning glance had seemed amiss In sorrow he was drowned; But then "to India's coral strand," The syllables she formed With all the grace at her command, And then his heart was warmed.

Poor man! he had no book from which To sing, and so the maid Discreetly then began to hitch The volume to his aid. He thanked her with another glance And then took up the tune; Her eyes from hymn to him would dance— They were acquainted soon.

"O, day of joy!" Her voice was sweet As notes from dulcimers; Their fingers then began to meet And his hand closed on hers. Full soon they walked down the aisle The church was hushed and dim— Hers was a bride's delightful smile, Thanks to the hymn and him.
