A Market For Territorial Horses

Last year an attempt was made to organize an annual Territorial auction sale of horses along the lines of purebred cattle sale held annually at Calgary, which has proven so successful. After consulting the majority of the larger breeders throughout the Territories, it was found that some objection existed to putting their horses up to public sale. The opinion seemed to prevail that while selling purebred cattle by public sale might be entirely feasible, owing to the fact that an inspection of the animal coupled with the reading of the pedigree in the published catalogue would generally convey all the information the average buyer would require, the case is entirely different with horses. The amount of labor that has been devoted to handling and educating a horse is an important item and can best be explained by the owner himself. Certainly an auctioneer could not within reasonable limited time do justice to the subject as convincingly as the owner himself could. Other objections exist against the auction sale system for horses on a large scale at the present time which it is not necessary to go fully into.

It is, however conceded on all sides that the breeding of horses ought to be one of the leading industries of the Territories, and also that the difficulty in obtaining a satisfactory cash market, at least for the lighter classes of horses, is one of the most serious obstacles under which the industry is at present laboring. Under the circumstances the directors of the Territorial Horse Breeder's Association, at a meeting recently held, had another plan under consideration which it is believed will fully meet the case. Arrangements have been completed for the holding at Calgary, in the third week of March, 1905 a three day's "Horse Fair" under the auspices of the association and the Dominion and Territorial Department of Agriculture. The event will be thoroughly advertised in Eastern Canada, Manitoba and the Territories, and not the slightest difficulty is anticipated in gathering buyers enough to absorb all the horses entered for the fair. Over one hundred horses are already in sight, and every effort will be made to have at least three hundred on the grounds.

The object of the fair is to bring buyers and sellers together, and all deals will be made privately in the same manner as at all the large live stock centres in the United States. Outside buyers are generally deterred from purchasing in the West owing to a lack of knowledge of the country and the time, trouble and expense involved in visiting individual ranches to make up this difficulty effectively and is, therefore, bound to be a success.

LIVE STOCK TRADE WITH ARGENTINA. Some information regarding the possibility of developing a trade in live stock with Argentina is given by Mr. W. S. Spark, the well-known English horseman, in a letter to Mr. F. W. Hudson, live stock Commissioner. Soon after his arrival in that country Mr. Spark wrote, "I find all cattle landed here must, besides the certificate of breeding, have a certificate (or rather the shipper must produce it) from the Minister of Agriculture, or his deputy, of the country from which they are sent, to declare that there has been no infectious disease in that country for six months previous to shipping. If the said document is not produced the cattle are not allowed to land. In any case all cattle must be kept in quarantine for 40 days, after which they are slaughtered and the owner has to bear the entire loss. Notwithstanding all this trouble, it will pay breeders to send really good pure-bred Short-horn bulls and heifers here to sell. You can't sell grade cattle at any price.

In a later letter Mr. Spark says: "The more I see of this country the more convinced I am that the Canadians can do a very large trade here in live stock, and agricultural machinery, neither of which there is any duty on here. I enclose you an account of a sale of imported bulls which took place last week, which shows that the twelve animals offered brought $79,900 or an average of nearly $6,660 each. These prices are in Argentine dollars, equal to 44 cents, Canadian money. I have at the average eight similar sales and the average prices paid have been 1400 Canadian dollars each. The bulls sold, I am told by good judges who have been to Toronto show, would not be good enough to win there. The only time to call here is in September (the best month) October and November so they would have to be shipped in June and July from Canada. You really should attend next year's exhibition at Buenos Aires in September, which will be international. I hope Canada will make an exhibit, for if she did all the stock could be sold at the exhibition at very remunerative prices.

Your very truly, W. A. CLEMONS, Publication Clerk. Spent Over $2,000 Doctoring. Mr. Joseph Pominville, of Stillwater, Minn., after having spent $2,000 with the best doctors for stomach trouble, without relief, was advised to try a box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. He did so, and is a well man to-day. For sale by H. Parker.—1.

MRS. FANNY E. MINOT.

President of the National Woman's Relief Corps. Mrs. Fanny E. Minot, president of the National Woman's Relief Corps, is an unassuming little woman with a quiet, retiring manner, and to talk with her one would scarcely realize the strength of character and determination hidden beneath so tranquil an exterior. She is a woman who has always manifested a lively interest in all those movements of the century which have brought her sex into prominence. Her leadership has always been due to the fact that others have recognized her exceptional endowments rather than to any personal desire or move for preferment.

Mrs. Minot is a native of Barnstead, N. H. She is a charter member of Sturtevant corps No. 24 of Concord, was its first treasurer, and has also served as corps president and in subordinate positions. She is well known throughout the national organization as a most earnest worker.

Born Sept. 29, 1848, Mrs. Minot is a descendant of John Pickering, who came from England and settled in Portsmouth, N. H., about 1633. She was educated in the schools of Concord, and after graduating from the high school attended Wheaton seminary, Norton, Mass., where she graduated in 1867 as valedictorian of her class. In 1874 she married James Minot, a banker, a veteran of the One Hundred and Fortieth New York Volunteers and a past commander of New Hampshire.

Mrs. Minot is connected with several other patriotic, benevolent and missionary societies. She is president of the New Hampshire Female Institution and Home Missionary union, which was organized in 1804, and treasurer of the Concord Female Charitable society and the Woman's club. She is also a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution.—Boston Traveller.

Woman's Awkwardness. The reaper, the bent figure of a woman gathering an armful of ripened grain to her bosom and slowly hacking its roots with her sickle, is the epitome of primitive labor—tedious, groping, tugging toil. Observe the limited range of her movements and how awkwardly they are directed toward herself. Woman by nature acts centrifrically, and by such movements alone she slowly executed her tasks as the first totter. Woman is by nature still primitive, and where not expressly trained to the contrary works as she always has—centrifrically.

Contrast the fine, far reaching swing of him as he throws. For untold generations man scorned all effort beyond war and chase, leaving him to toil, untaught and clumsily, but with infinite patience. The field of work was long in her keeping, but she failed to advance its methods, inventing and contriving not.

It is to this day easy to see the helplessness of woman before a task the slightest if she has not been taught the trick of it. She does not seem to learn here by observation.—Twentieth Century Home. Uses of Precipitated Chalk. Precipitated chalk can be used daily with or without castile soap for cleansing the teeth. It would be well for those possessing sensitive teeth if after eating acid fruits or salads they should rub precipitated chalk around the necks of the teeth and between them on the retiring. A little chalk used when the teeth are brushed during the day is also excellent for soft and chalky teeth. Precipitated chalk is also a cosmetic. It can be used in the evening or daytime for whitening the skin in the place of ordinary powders, which are extremely deleterious. A lump dissolved in a little water, to which a drop of glycerin or sweet oil is added if desired, can be applied to the face and neck with a soft cloth. Either before or after it is dry, gently wipe off the visible powder with a piece of flannel. It is absolutely harmless, but will dry the skin unless some good cream food is used at night to repair the drying tendency of the chalk. If applied wet at night, softened with water, on pimples or inflamed blotches, by morning the inflammation will be much lessened.—American Queen.

Falling in Love. Don't think you are in love with a man because he is in love with you, says Dorothy Dix. This is a peculiarly dangerous and insidious error, because it is so easy to fall into. You are bound to have a tenderness for those that are fond of you. It shows so much good taste and good feeling and appreciation that you can't help liking them for it. It is hard to be firm with them, and it hurts you to hurt them. It is infinitely appealing to a woman to know that she is making a man unhappy, and when she sees the look of dumb pain in his face that exactly as if she had hit a baby in the face with her fist. She simply lacks the courage to repeat the offense, and by and by she comes to believe that her pity for him and her sympathy for him is love. It isn't, though, and some day, after she is married to him and wakes up to the fact that he wouldn't have died for her even if she hadn't married him she knows in all its bitterness that she has sold her birthright for a mess of pottage.

Beauties Must Sleep. Women who sleep a great deal and comfortably, who are addicted to naps and regard nine hours of wholesome rest as absolutely requisite to their physical well being are the women who defy the frosting hand of time. These are the women whose wrinkles are few and far between and whose eyes remain the brightest and cheeks the rosiest for the longest period after the bloom of youth has fled. No less notable a beauty than Diane de Poitiers, who retained her irresistible loveliness until her seventieth year, recognized the value of sleep as a preventive of wrinkles. Indeed, so fearful was she of losing a moment of perfect rest that, mistrusting the beds of her friends, she carried her own, with its splendid fittings, on all her journeys.

A Parable of Today. A woman lost two little charms, the joint gift of God and a good man. She hunted long for them. She searched in parlor, in ballroom and in theater. She crowded men where they earned their bread and hunted there for her lost jewels. She did things that made the world take a quick little breath and then called her a "good fellow." But she found them not. Weary and worn, she went back to the beginning, and there, in kitchen and nursery, she found the two "white stones," and written on one was "happiness" and on the other "love."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Women and Law. Mrs. Mary Wood Swift, president of the American Council of Women, says there is one thing that is very important for all women who are left with property to do, and that is to acquire some knowledge of law. There is never a woman left with money that she hark is not on the watch to get it away from her. Women are stripped of their means every day because of their ignorance of law and business conditions. They have got to realize that practical knowledge is necessary in this day and age.

To Develop the Neck. To improve and develop the neck massage nightly with warm cocoa butter and practice the following exercises: Bend the head slowly forward, then back; repeat eight times. Bend from side to side until the head touches the shoulders. Make a complete circle with the head and neck, bending forward, right, back and left. These same exercises will help reduce a double chin by toning up the muscles of the neck.

Helping the Teeth. A dentist says that the more teeth are used legitimately the better for them; that perfect mastication on both sides of the mouth prevent receding gums and tends to ward off decay. Those who chew on one side have poor teeth on the disused side, and the fact of chewing every mouthful very fine is one of the most sensible fashions humanity has ever taken up.

For the Kitchens. Convenient for use in a kitchen where economy of space is necessary, is a useful combination ironing table. It is made of white pine and at first glance looks like a kitchen settle, but the back turns over to make a plain ironing table, or, if turned sideways on an arm of the settle, it makes a good ironing board for skirts and shirts.

Be Amiable. If you want your husband to love you to his life's end, if you want him to turn to you as his best friend, if you want to keep him your devoted lover, if you want to make him a thoroughly happy man, be amiable, even if it is rather an effort and does not come to you by nature.—Woman's Life.

Beds and Alcoves. Never put a bed in an alcove. The air is apt to become stagnant there. Have it right in the room and do not push it too close to the wall. Then the air that comes in from the window has a chance to circulate around the bed.

Once in ten days thoroughly wash the carpet broom with hot soapsuds, shake till nearly dry and hang where the straw will dry quickly. Not only will the broom last longer, but it will clean carpets better.

It is claimed that deep breathing decreases the size of the abdomen and also rounds out the fattened chest. Always try this exercise in a well ventilated room. Have all plumbing painted well with white enamel, not only for sanitary reasons, but to lighten the work of the housekeeper. A pleasant household deodorizer is made by pouring spirits of lavender over lumps of bicarbonate of soda.
