MR. JAS. EDEN returned Thursday, after spending the past seven months in Regina, Moosejaw, Wolsley and other places. He likes the country well and there's a strong probability that Varney will lose him some fine morning next March.

MISS GUNN, teacher of music, here, was not a little surprised lately on receiving a letter of enquiry regarding her method, from Mr. Edwards, of Portland, Oregon. He saw her card in THE CHRONICLE, hence the enquiry. Again we say, it pays to advertise.

WE regret to chronicle the death of Mrs. Fluker, mother of Mr. Thomas Fluker, section boss on the G. T. R. The old lady was eighty five years of age, and in her usual health, though complaining a little at times. On Sunday morning last she remained in bed, where she was served her breakfast by Mrs. Fluker, after which she went to sleep. Shortly after, the son went to her room and was astonished to find that she was dead. Interment took place Tuesday in Palmerston, the remains leaving here by the afternoon train.

WE seldom feel that we can give a conscientious recommendation to travelling shows, but the Patten and Perry Company who played here on Saturday night is really an exception to the general rule. They appear to be ladies and gentlemen, they have an excellent band, a fine orchestra, and never before in the town was a better exhibition of athletics and tumbling presented to an audience. It is hard to conceive of any one doing better work on the slack wire, than the professor in this company. The "show itself" "Jerry from Kerry" is an amusing thing from first to last, and wholly void of anything verging on vulgarity. This is the second time the Company appeared here and the Hall on this occasion was crowded to the door, with a delighted audience.

THE evening of the election saw an interested crowd assembled in the Town Hall to wait the results which were coming in over the wires. The place was packed, but there wasn't much wild enthusiasm over the announcement of the returns. It was after twelve o'clock before Mr. MacFarlane closed his bulletin with a courteous "good night," a signal for us to go home and get to bed, but it was only intended for the Tories to depart as Mr. Miller, the new member just then made his appearance amid vociferous cheers from his supporters. He made a brief address, thanking the electors for their support, complimented the Review for services rendered, and even went so far as to intimate that THE CHRONICLE had accorded him fair treatment during the campaign. His father, Mr. R. B. Miller, who was present, was next called on and made a forcible address expressive of his gratitude for the return of his son, and enthusiastically lauded the Laurier Government. During the evening spirited songs were sung by Wm. Ramage, Mr. Telford, Mr. Drysdale and Mr. Mathers. The Grits enjoyed the entertainment immensely.

THERE is a movement on foot now to make extensions of the Cream Separator Factory, so as to manufacture agricultural and dairy utensils on a much larger scale. In the course of a week or so we'll be able to make definite announcements regarding the proposed changes.

LAST week Bro. Ramage gave us an awful trimming, but nobody pays any attention to what he says and we'll wait till we have a little more time, when we'll light into him with both feet. In the meantime it would be to the interest of his family to have his life insured. Great snakes! won't we skin him?

FROM the large amount of coal now being delivered by Mr. Black, we imagine the danger of freezing will not be so great as it was last winter. A great many of our citizens have decided in their own mind that coal is cheaper than wood at the prices we had to pay for the past year or so. Getting the necessary outfit is the greatest drawback to the universal adoption of coal as a fuel.

ON Wednesday of last week Mr. J. H. Brown received a telegram announcing the death of his sister, Mrs. Wm. McLachlan, at Port Elgin and immediately left for the funeral which was to take place the next day. Deceased was sixty years of age and as she had been in poor health for some time her death was not unexpected. Besides her husband she leaves one daughter, Mrs. Upshall, of Pincher Creek Alberta, who was present during her mother's last illness and burial having come east about four or five weeks ago. Mrs. McLachlan (nee Esther Brown) grew up in this town and was well known and much respected here as well as in her home at Port Elgin. A brother in Winnipeg, a sister Mrs. Platt, also in Winnipeg, a sister Mrs. Crittenden Dauphin Manitoba, a sister Mrs. Falkner of High River Alberta and a brother John H. of Durham are surviving members of the family.

THE Liberal success in the late Federal election by which the province of Quebec captured forty-four out of fifty-five seats led to a dissolution of the Quebec provincial government, and an immediate call for a new election. The day after the Dominion elections the house was dissolved, when the 18th of this month was fixed as nomination day and the 25th as polling day, the object evidently being to get a snap verdict for the Liberal party while political excitement is high and the Liberal party is likely to sweep the country in the interests of the Parent government. The conservatives of the province have entered their protest against this high handed and unconstitutional action of the Quebec government and have issued their manifesto against this act of the administration, and declared they will place no candidates in the field, believing that their refusal to countenance such conduct will be the quickest and surest remedy for the evil. In 1900 a similar outrage was committed, and the opposition at that time believe they did wrong by entering the contest. The country is in a sad condition when the Federal and Provincial governments thus unite to defeat justice and the people of their honest rights.

THE Local Legislature is likely to be dissolved this week and an election will be held between now and Christmas. It is said that Premier Ross will go to the country on the Prohibition ticket, and notwithstanding his past record of unsincerity, a great many of the temperance people will again be duped. The old Quaker is reported to have said "If a man cheat thee once it is his fault, but if he cheat thee a second time it is thy fault." Ross has evidently begun to look upon the temperance people as a mere pack of fools whom he can always play to for a catch vote. He has cheated them every time and he'll try it again.

Dornoch.

Stout and Lanky had a scrap And hit each other tap for tap, Till stout got in some special blows And knocked the skin of Lanky's nose This nettled Lanky and he led A vicious blow for Stoutie's head, But Stoutie was to quick for him And sent a hard right to the chin: Lanky winced and made a spurt, A scrimmage followed, and his shirt Was torn completely off his back, And then he got another smack Which, landing on his solar plexus Like the kick of mule from Texas Sent him down with groanings loud Amidst the laughter of the crowd. He soon regained his feet once more, And then good gracious! how he swore What he would do when next they met But Stoutie told him not to fret That if he would so much as list His skinny carcass he would twist Till he would have Neuresthesia And Toxin in the chyme And his sympathetic ganglion Would be working overtime These warring words made Lanky stare The wrangling ended then and there And should they in the future clash We all will go and bet our cash. (on Stoutie.)

Spring Bank.

(Intended for last Week.)

After being unheard from for some time we again arise from our silence and give a few of the happenings of our quiet little burg.

Last week found most of our farmers actively engaged at root harvesting. The crop is an excellent one.

Mr and Mrs Jas. Main left on Friday last on a driving tour to visit friends near Hamilton. Mr. Will Beaton and sister of Glenelg Centre are looking after the duties of the farm during their absence.

Mr and Mrs Wm. Watson spent the fore part of the week with Allan Park friends.

Mr Will Davis of Glenelg Centre spent Sunday in this neighborhood. C. Moore has, we understand purchased the farm formerly owned by him for the sum of $3,000.

The Lawrence Hall Union S. S. was brought to a close on Sunday last, after another very successful season's work. They intend having a concert in the near future.

(This Week's Budget)

Mr. A. J. Whitmore has returned from the West looking hale and hearty.

Mr. George Myers disposed of a horse to Mr. C. McKinnon for a good sum lately.

Mr. Joseph Lawrence sold a team of horses to Mr. George Myers for the magnificent sum of $360.

Gordon Wilson is engaged with Samuel Scott for a term.

W. Fooks, of Paoton, spent Sunday with the Eckhardt family.

Mr. John Eckhardt spent the fore part of the week with friends near Aytou.

Mr. and Mrs. George Myers treated the young people of the neighborhood to a party on Wednesday night last.

The Pie and Box Social given by L. O. L. No. 1192 on Tuesday night was an out and out success. The excellent roads and beautiful night brought together one of the largest gatherings that ever entered the doors of Lawrence's Hall. The chair was occupied by Mr. Wm. Ritchie who kept the crowd in good humor during the evening while the boxes were knocked down by Mr. James Staples who makes a capital auctioneer. Some of the boxes ran up to $2.25. The purchaser secured his partners and did ample justice to the contents. The program was long and well chosen, consisting of instrumental music, songs, recitations, dialogues etc. The committee is to be specially congratulated on having secured the services of the Boothville orchestra which furnished well rendered music throughout the evening. The following also took an active part and each won hearty encores: Song by the Misses Brown, of Henry's Corners, Recitation by Pearl Hopkins, Song by Mrs. S. J. Watson and sister, Miss Irvine, of Holstein, Recitation by Alice Irvine. Song by the Misses Wilson, of Boothville, Recitation by Reuben Watson, Recitation by G. A. Watson. Perhaps the chief feature of the evening was a couple of dialogues entitled "The Wrong Box" and "End in a Restaurant", both of which were well carried out, each character playing his part well. It was an evening profitably and enjoyably spent by all and one seldom equalled.

The net proceeds of the evening which amounted to $45 will go towards the erection of a new Hall which they purpose building in the near future.
