MARRIED

MCCOSKERY—BURNETT—At the residence of the bride's mother, by Rev. Wm. Farquharson, Wednesday, Nov. 30th, Donald McCoskery of Toronto, to Miss Elizabeth Burnett.

LARGE—WILLIAMS—At the home of the bride's parents, by Rev. Mr. Newton, on Wednesday, Nov. 3rd, Wm. Large, of Toronto, to Miss Ida Williams.

Corner Concerns.

Mr. S. Ritchie had a handsome new organ placed in his home last week, by agent McFadden of your town.

Mr. James Hopkins purchased Jas. Mane's fine farm last week for $6,000 which increases his estate to 300 acres. Mr. Mane is negotiating for a farm near Hagersville.

Jim Eden seems to be spreading the North-West fever very fast amongst his neighbors as some are trying to dispose of their farms with the intentions of going West.

Some of those who grew sugar beets for the Berlin factory found it a little difficult to obtain cars for shipment, just at the desired time. This however, is a matter that growers should attend to in time next year.

Some of our young people took in the Pie and Box social at No. 59, and report it a lively affair. Some of the boxes went as high as $9.50 apiece. Seventy three dollars in all was realized.

The old custom of cattle droving was resorted to last week to the extent of three droves of from forty to seventy head each were bound for the lower settlements, for winter feeding and the greater part of them had been purchased by Mr. L. Robertson from the farmers of this vicinity. We did not inquire whether it was cheapness or swiftness of transportation that caused them to foot it through instead of going in the more modern style by train.

Mr. P. Patterson had the misfortune to have his thumb and index finger of the right hand badly cut by a fellow workman at McLean's bush the week before last, and although he is still carrying them in a sling they are healing nicely. Mr. R. N. Wilder got a similar cut on one thumb which required a few stitches last week.

Sore Throat and Coughs

Disgusting Remarks of Rev. Sam Jones.

A correspondent writes to the Mail and Empire concerning some of the indecent statements of Rev. Sam Jones in Massey Hall last Sunday. One of Sam's chaste remarks was, "Nobody but dirty, lousy devils will go into a saloon." One of his beautiful figures of speech was, "You might as well put a corpse into an ice-box and expect it to sweat." Of the disgusting preacher the correspondent says: "There is many a man goes into a saloon to take a glass of liquor who is neither a drunkard nor a 'lousy devil,' and I think it is an insult to our Canadian manhood to have these bragging, canting, sensational Americans coming over here, under the cloak of religion, to cast such dirty remarks in our teeth. God knows, we have enough of that class here, without importing them. Moreover, there is little credit due the Canadian Temperance League for hiring such individuals to come here to preach the gospel of temperance in such a manner."
