GOOD POSITIONS.

The Mount Forest Business College

Has placed all its graduates in good positions and has several good positions in view. Its courses are the most up-to-date and the best that can be obtained in Canada or the United States, and, as its examination papers are read by a board of examiners specially appointed, its diplomas are an excellent recommendation in both these countries.

Good positions present themselves to every person, and young people with a business training are always in demand. We are now prepared to receive any young ladies and gentlemen who wish to accept good positions in April and May. All our students are taught separately at their own desks, and do their work independent of one another. In their work, they receive special attention in such subjects as are difficult to them, and are enabled to accomplish considerable in a short time. They may also, begin the course at any time.

Corner Concerns.

The homes of Messrs. Robt. Mead and Chas. Grey have both been brightened by the presence of bright little baby girls that came Sunday, the 15th. All are doing well.

Mr. Wm. Mathews lost a good mare a week ago by its mate in the next stall backing up and kicking it on the hind leg and breaking it.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. McLaughlan, of Owen Sound, visited at the home of Mr. Jas. Allan last Friday.

Mr. Wm. Sirrs purchased a fine team of three-year old Clyde horses from Wm. Scarf of Bentinck for the handsome sum of $300.

The young people of the neighborhood are anticipating a very pleasant time at the home of Mr. Wm. Allan this Thursday night by way of a social gathering.

We are sorry to report Mr. Henry Dennett unable to move around on account of inflammatory rheumatism.

Mr. Forsythe, who was an industrious and prosperous farmer six days in the week and a worker for the Lord the seventh when he lived in this part twenty years ago, is now over on a visit from Manitoba and preached to many of his old admiring friends in Varney church on Sunday night, as well as speaking to the Orange brethren on Friday night.

A social gathering in the home of C. C. Allan on Friday night gave the best of enjoyment to about one hundred invited guests. The best of music was supplied by skilled artists and dancing was the leading enjoyment while some in the dining room enjoyed games of skill and chance, and some of the Methodist persuasion or at least of Wesley's leanings were very happy in the parlor. The gathering naturally, did not disperse until well up in the morning.

Mr. Ben Crittenden's Sale exceeded even his brightest anticipations of his most hopeful moments by about one hundred dollars. The day was fine and the crowd large. He is firmly converted to the belief of putting a list of the articles in the CHRONICLE which is eagerly looked for by everybody. He also believes that Auctioneer MacKay can take every dollar's worth out of any article there is in it.

Last Wednesday was an ideal wedding day, consequently the happy company who assembled at Trinity church, Durham, to have the rights solemnized looked their very best as they entered the church. The happy couple was Mr. John W. Jenkins, of B. C. and Miss Kate Lawrence, seventh daughter of Mr. Samuel Lawrence, of Glenelg, and the honored couple to the affair was Miss Ellen Lawrence sister of the bride, and Mr. Wes Arnott. The Rev. Ryan tied securely the happy knot. When the company arrived home an excellent wedding supper and many well wishing intimate friends awaited them. The bride was very neatly dressed in a grey traveling suit with white picture hat and looked her very best, and the way her friends appreciated her was testified by the handsome presents they gave especially the very valuable ones by nearest friends. The groom is always cheerful but on this occasion was most happy, and having so good a situation as fireman on the B. R., life to them will have the appearance of peace and plenty, and good wishes from all their friends go with them. The company enjoyed themselves to their heart's content and returned home in the morning. The happy couple start on their journey to B. C. in a few days.

We understand that Mr. George Chapman is going to start farming on the Bradley farm. He is young, handsome, sober and industrious, and will do his part well. We don't exactly know what he is going to do for a house keeper, but could make a kind of a rough guess.

A week ago Thursday night Mr. B. Crittenden had no thought of greater pleasure for that evening than reading THE CHRONICLE nor his good wife a thought of any recreation beside repairing the children's stockings and it was in that attitude the neighbor found them when they went to bid them a formal good bye. The house was soon filled to its utmost, and Mr. James Allan appointed chairman when James Mack and Joseph Lennox acting for the company read an address and presented them with a purse to remind them that no good act is entirely lost even in this cold and careless world. Mr. Crittenden was so overcome by the surprise and expression of good will that he asked the chairman to reply for him which he did in a neat little speech. A programme was then given of speeches by Messrs. Allan, Sirrs, Mack and others, while singing and recitations were nicely rendered by many. The rest of the evening was spent in games and dancing and all enjoyed themselves to their hearts content.

Last Wednesday the home of Mr. Wm. McFadden was in gala dress, the occasion being the marriage of his daughter Ella to Mr. Wm. Wilson of Boothville. At five o'clock about ninety invited guests filled the parlor and every other position in the vicinity of it from whence a good view of the bay window in which the ceremony was to be performed could be had. Miss Etie McFadden played the wedding march as the contracting parties took their place, the bride leaning on the arm of her father. The Rev. Rural Dean Ryan tied the knot and pronounced them man and wife. The bride was becomingly dressed in a suit of brown ladies cloth trimmed with brown velvet, and blue silk blouse trimmed with white silk lace and chiffon with silk lace yoke, and looked the picture of health and happiness. The bride's maid was Miss Martha McFadden sister of the bride, who was dressed in blue silk blouse trimmed with white silk lace, and a brown skirt. Mr. Jas. Wilson gracefully filled the position of best man. The groom looked handsome and the happiest man in the crowd. And in responding to a toast proposed to the bride Inspector Campbell whose family have known her most intimately pronounced him the luckiest man in the world. The wedding supper was an excellent one, in every detail was evidence of skill in the art of house keeping. The presents to the bride were handsome and useful and only in a few cases duplicated. The company enjoyed themselves with music, games and dancing until time for dispersing. As well as congratulations at the close of the ceremony the happy couple have the best wishes of all who know them for a happy life in their snug home.

Our budget is unusually lengthy this time, and we will have to conclude for this week although the fact of the matter is some of our young ladies should have had a calling down at least some of those who are getting queezy ideas into their heads
