FEEDING PROFITS

Quick returns and profits are what the farmer wants in feeding steers. These can be obtained in the steer that can be properly prepared for the market at an early age. One who does this is "A WISE FEEDER." In ordinary feeding the haste in getting on a full feed is often disastrous to large and early gains. The addition of Clydesdale Stock Food to the ordinary feed puts the stomach in such shape as to allow it to digest and assimilate a large quantity of food. It is the assimilation of this extra feed that makes the profit. The soft, flexible by many feeders, is the condition of hide and hair. A point overlooked and assimilation of food. The outer skin has a direct relation to the stomach and intestines. Clydesdale Stock Food will give as soft pliable skin and velvety hair. Mr. Walter Wesley of Cape Vincent, Ont., says: "Your Stock Food gives a smooth glossy coat, perfect digestion and extra gain over and above that gained from ordinary feeding, and at a profit." The extra fine finish and early maturity got by feeding Clydesdale Stock Food enabled a man to get top market prices. Your money will be cheerfully refunded by our dealer if you cannot feed it at a profit. Clydesdale Stock Food can be purchased in your district from the following dealers:

The Production and Care of Milk in Winter.

Canadian dairymen appear to have lessened their efforts in the production of winter milk; consequently we have a shortage and a period of high prices. Not many are in a position to avail themselves of the good prices now offered for dairy products of all kinds, and especially for fine butter.

ESSENTIALS FOR ECONOMICAL PRODUCTION
(1) Fresh cows. It is unsatisfactory trying to produce milk with a herd of cows most of which have been milking during the past summer. At least one-half the cows should freshen between the first of November and the last day of February.

(2) A moderately warm, clean, light, well-ventilated stable is a great aid in the economical production of winter milk. Cold and badly ventilated stables mean added cost for feed.

(3) Cheap, succulent feed is needed. This is best got by providing corn silage, mangels, clover hay, and suitable meal. A very good ration for a cow giving 40 pounds of milk daily or making 1 1/2 to 2 pounds of butter per day is 30 to 40 pounds corn silage, 30 pounds mangels 8 to 10 pounds clover hay, 4 pounds bran, 3 pounds ground oats, and 1 pound oil cake. If possible cut the hay, pulp the roots, and mix the bulky feed together for a few hours before feeding. Add the meal to the bulky part at the time of feeding. The foregoing amounts may be divided into two portions and one half be given to each cow, night and morning. The cows should be fed regularly and each animal should be under close observation by the feeder in order to note her appetite, response in milk flow, and other conditions. If the feeder finds that the cow can profitably consume more than eight pounds of meal daily, then extra meal may be given. Careful feeders who weigh the milk from each cow will soon learn the limit of profitable feeding for each animal.

CARE OF THE MILK.

If the cow be kept clean and the milk be drawn in a clean manner into a clean pail by a clean person and be removed shortly after straining from the barn, there is no reason why winter milk should have a "cowy odour." This "cowy odour" is usually caused by filth which drops into the milk during the milking, or is absorbed by the milk from the foul air in the stable.

Milk should be removed from the stable before it cools to the temperature of the stable air; otherwise it will absorb taints rapidly.

After straining the milk does not usually require any special cooling other than that which takes place from the cold air, if it be stirred occasionally to prevent the cream rising and to insure uniform cooling throughout the whole mass of milk.

It is also necessary to prevent the milk freezing in order to obtain the best results.

If sent to a winter creamery, it should be delivered at least three times a week. If manufactured on the farm, it should be made into butter as soon as possible after it is drawn from the cow. The longer that milk is kept before being made into butter, the poorer will be the product.

She—And the reason you were so late getting home, you were struck by a trolley car? "Yes, (hic) that's it, dear." "Were you frightened?" "No, (hic) didn't even (hic) take my breath away." "No; I notice that!"

I'd Rather Be a Boy.

I never want to be grown up,
I'd rather be a boy;
So I can keep my goat and pup
And be my daddy's joy.
Most grown-up women folks are cranks
And say that boys annoy.
And men cut up such awful pranks—
I'd rather be a boy.

My dad declares that he can't skate,
And ma can't fly a kite;
And sister Ellen sits up late,
With Will Brown every night;
And brother Joe, he's got it too,
He's sweet no Kate LeRoy.
It makes me tired to hear 'em talk—
I'd rather be a boy.

Tim Hall kinsing more ragtime songs
Than any kid in town,
An' every time we give a show
He makes a rattlin' clown;
An' him an' me together
Kin lick big Sam McCoy,
So what's the use to be a man?
I'd rather be a boy.

I'm awful glad I ain't a girl,
'Cause girls don't have no fun;
They can't go swimmin' in the creek,
Play ball nor shoot a gun;
They can't sneak into the circus tent—
That's what us kids enjoy;
I'm awful glad I ain't a girl—
I'd rather be a boy.

Dad says some day I'll be a man
And then I won't dare shirk;
Ma says I'm eating white bread now,
But soon I'll have to work;
The preacher says my time will come
To seek some man's employ;
But I'll try hard not to grow old—
I'd rather be a boy.

HOW TO CURE TOOTHACHE.

Any aching tooth can be relieved instantly with Nerviline. Fill the cavity with batting dipped in Nerviline and rub the gums with Nerviline also. If the face is swollen and sore bathe the painful parts with Nerviline and cover with a flannel. This can't fail because Nerviline kills the pain outright and prevents it from returning. Stronger, quicker, more satisfactory than any other liniment, Polson's Nerviline has been the largest seller in nearly fifty years; try it yourself.

Hanged in a Stable.

Mr. Robt. Thompson hanged himself in his father's stable on the mountainside, near Collingwood, on Saturday last. Last summer one of the young man's legs was amputated as a result of an accident in Charlton's mill, and for a long time his life was despaired of. He survived the misfortune, however, but fearing he would eventually become mentally deranged he fretted continually. He felt that he was "only in the way," notwithstanding the kindness of his father and family. He was thirty five years of age and much respected in the locality. The funeral took place on Monday.—Clarksburg Reporter.

Should Boys be Whipped?

A Public school teacher gives the following experience: "This theory of governing children by appealing to their reason isn't all it's made out to be. I teach in a primary class, and it's my conviction that a youngster actually needs a good spanking once in a while for his health. It does cheer up a child as nothing else will. Here is an instance:

"One of my boys had skipped his classes, deceived his mother, been found out, and caused much unhappiness all around. I took him aside and we had a heart to heart talk. Johnny sat still, looking at me intently, and seeming to be deeply impressed. I thought I was making great headway and that my little sermon was surely penetrating Johnny's brain. I never saw a child who seemed so absorbed, even fascinated, by my line of argument.

"But you never can tell. Just as I had reached the climax in my appeal to his better self, a light of discovery broke over Johnny.

SUICIDE IN MORNINGTON TOWN SHIP.

(LISTOWEL BANNER.)

Arthur Dowd, a farmer of Mornington township, about forty years of age, unmarried, committed suicide yesterday morning. He went out to the barn to do the chores in the morning and not returning at the usual time, his sister who kept house for him, became alarmed and went out to see what was wrong and found him dead, his body hanging from a beam in the barn. Word was at once sent to Listowel summoning medical aid but he was quite beyond succor.

Deceased was one of those who suffered heavy loss from the cyclone in Mornington in the summer of 1903 and he afterwards sold his place and bought a fifty-acre farm. He never seemed to be very well satisfied with the deals he made and this with the loss from the storm is supposed to have made him despondent. He was a man well liked by his neighbors and much sympathy is felt for his friends in their affliction.

An old lady who died at Montreal at the age of 104 years had smoked habitually since she was nine years old. This recalls an Englishman's comment on the demise of an aged total abstainer: "They may stand it for years, but it is bound to fetch them at last."

LOUISE BOX SOCIAL.

The faithful labors of the committee, other members of the section, Miss M. Hutton and her scholars, terminated on the evening of the 24th, when they presented the programme to a large and attentive audience.

The hall was handsomely decorated with evergreens and the national colors. The arch across the front of the platform and the three wreaths at the rear encircling the pairs of flags were greatly admired.

Each and every selection of the evening's entertainment was excellently rendered. Mr. J. S. Wilson, president of the undertaking, acted as chairman and at 8.15 p. m., he assumed the duties of that position which he most ably filled. His pleasing manner and cordial greeting convinced all that the social would be an entire success and after a brief address the first number was announced.

A song of welcome was sung by teacher and pupils. When the curtain was again drawn, three small boys, attired to represent toadstools gave an amusing recitation.

Miss Emma Campbell, the Louise elocutionist, gave, in her pathetic tones, a poem which stirred the emotions of the interested listeners. Miss L. Hutton, the Crawford teacher, also a selection entitled "The Courtship." This was Miss Hutton's first appearance on the platform in West Bantock and in response to the hearty applause she rendered another comic recitation.

The "Medley" by the four boys and four girls was extremely laughable. They demonstrated to their parents and friends that they were of the right sort of material to accomplish whatever they undertook and in spite of the fact that this side of their education had been considerably neglected during the past, the careful training which they received enabled them to do themselves and their teacher credit.

The two plays enacted by the young people were highly appreciated. "A Mislead Proposal" set forth the troubles of a wealthy lord during his courtship and was deliciously funny. The trials were caused by the brother of the beloved lady and three mischievous maidens. The performers were Mr. Geo. McCaslon, Miss E. Prat, Miss E. Campbell, Mr. W. Cross, Miss A. Owens and Miss M. Hutton.

The other was, "Wooing under difficulties." The characters were Mr. A. Hastie, Miss C. McCaslon, Mr. J. Kranter, Mr. B. Leeson, Miss E. Kranter, Mr. A. Green and Miss M. Hutton. It is a difficult comedy, being a regular theatrical performance and those taking part in the same must have not only extraordinary talent but a large share of perseverance to have so mastered every detail.

Mr. Milhausen, of Elmwood, with his deep musical voice sang two solos, "The Blue Bell" and "I'm Wearing my Heart Away for You." The committee wishes to thank Mr. Milhausen for his assistance. He has favored our village before and is here, as everywhere else, a great favorite.

As the programme was sufficiently lengthy the mixed quartette gave only one closing song. Miss E. Cronin was the accompanist for the evening.

We will now mention the most important part in which Mr. Lorenz of Elmwood acted as auctioneer, taking his place on the platform. He was greeted by enthusiastic cheers from his numerous friends in this community, who were delighted he consented to take charge of the disposal of the dainty parcels. The committee is very grateful to Mr. Lorenz for undertaking that, the most difficult portion of the evening's entertainment. But words are inadequate to describe his manner of performing these duties. One must hear to appreciate. His wit, good nature and patience under all circumstances could not be surpassed. The boxes were quickly sold due to the wise supervision of Mr. Lorenz and the liberality of the people.

The proceeds amounted to $35.10, and that amount is to be devoted to improvement of the school.

THE LATEST.

How old is Ann? This puzzle is now out of date, and the question is "How old is Mary?" who was Ann's sister. The combined ages of Mary and Ann is 14 years, and Mary is twice as old as Ann was when Mary was half as old as Ann will be when Ann is three times as old as Mary was when Mary was three times as old as Ann. How old is Mary?
