AUCTION SALE.—On Saturday April 1st, Mr. E. H. Kinnee will sell by Public Auction the articles mentioned elsewhere, a full list of which appears. John Clark, Auctioneer.

AT the fire here on Thursday night, a spade belonging to Ye Editor was loaned for the occasion. A young scamp in town, thinking he had more right to it than we had, took possession, but we found out who he was in a day or so after, and now we're after his scalp. There are too many youthful thieves allowed off too easy.

WE notice there were several errors in last week's paper, but there's no use now in making apologies. Our paper is an all-home print, and it takes a lot of work to get it in shape every week.

A FEW weeks ago, the ratepayers of Allan's School, Egremont, decided to repair the old building in preference to building a new one. From after consideration, we understand they have ruled their decision, and are again talking of erecting a new school.

RAILWAY accidents in this country are becoming fearfully common. Scarcely a week passes without some fearful calamity, or an account of the loss of lives. The whole railway system seems to be carelessly managed.

On Saturday last, Mrs. John Clark undressed her baby, a little thing about a year and a half old, to give it a bath. On doing so, she saw a thread on the child's side, and attempted to remove it, when, to her astonishment, she found the thread attached to something under the skin, and at once suspected there was a needle there.

MR. JOHN AYLING of Mimico has purchased the plant of the Durham brick yard from W. Black, and will begin operations at once. We hope to see Mr. Ayling make a good class of brick, and have a successful business. We need a brickyard here, and we hope the attempt will be a success.

How much shoe leather have you worn out looking for a stray cow that could easily be found by putting a fifty cent ad. in THE CHRONICLE? A dollar saved is as good as a dollar earned, and the man who spends a week of valuable time in hunting for an article he could find by a small investment in his local paper, has a poor idea of economy.

WE acknowledge receipt of a copy of the Wetaskiwin Times of March 16th. It was sent us by P. H. Thibault, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. D. McDonald, of this town. That the winter is well spent, may be learned from the following paragraph:—"A very brilliant prairie fire was seen several nights of last week, south of town. What's wrong with Northern Alberta winters, when prairie fires will rage?" In the same issue we notice that space is taken up by the school children for weekly contributions, which the editor says are inserted just as the pupil produces them, without alteration by either teacher or editor.

On Saturday last, Mrs. John Clark undressed her baby, a little thing about a year and a half old, to give it a bath. On doing so, she saw a thread on the child's side, and attempted to remove it, when, to her astonishment, she found the thread attached to something under the skin, and at once suspected there was a needle there. Dr. Gun was called, and decided the child would have to be chloroformed to get the object removed. Dr. Macdonald assisted in the operation, which proved that a good sized sewing needle had penetrated the side, and had gone in about a quarter of an inch more than its full length. The chloroform didn't even sicken the child, who was quite bright in a couple of hours after the removal of the needle. Mrs. Clark tells us that she thinks the needle was working its way in for three or four days, as she missed one she was using a few days before. It was fortunate the discovery was made so soon, and Mr. and Mrs. Clark are exceedingly thankful.

McMILLAN.—In Durham, on Monday April 27th, to Mr. and Mrs. A. McMillan, a daughter.

DIVISION COURT.

Division Court was held here on Wednesday of last week, Judge Morrison presiding.

The following cases of local interest were disposed of:

Hamilton vs School Board.—This arose out of an account put in by the plaintiff for $20 for services as caretaker, during the absence of Mr. McCracken who was at that time caretaker. The School Board objected on the ground that charges were too high but placed the money into Court. Judgment for defendant, without costs. Dunn for plaintiff, J. P. Telford for defendant.

Koch vs Geddes.—An action against the Executor of the late Wm. Bell of Dromore. Dismissed.

Koch vs Geddes.—Defendant sued Executor of the late Wm. Bell for certain services for which no bargain had evidently been made. Amount sued for was $30. Judgment for plaintiff, with costs. Dunn for plaintiff, J. P. Telford for defendant.

Calder vs Smith.—W. Calder sued C. Smith for $100. Smith objected to certain portions of the account, and had all his claims allowed. Judgment for plaintiff for $98.14. Dunn for plaintiff, Telford for defendant.

Mr. Angus McKelvie, Mayor of New Leskiard, was in town over Sunday visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. McKelvie. About twelve or thirteen years ago, he left here and settled in his present home, which was then only a hamlet. Now the place has a population of over 1800, and this year the residents are building an eight room school. The crop that never fails is evidently highly prosperous in this part of New Ontario, especially so when twelve years make an eight room school a necessity.

Mr. Jas. Carson took the train Saturday morning for Holstein, on his way to make an arrest in Normanby, about five miles from the station. The roads here were too bad to drive and the big chief preferred walking the latter half of the road.
