FRED W. KELSEY
 DURHAM, ONT.

The village of Chatsworth, incorporated about a year, is becoming noted for elopements, three having taken place from that place within a few months. Last summer the wife of Thos. Givens, of Taylor's planing mill, eloped with a neighbor. They now reside in Manitoba. About ten days ago the wife of a respectable Holland Centre man took her departure with a neighbor, who took train at Chatsworth. Last Saturday Thos. Givens, the victim of the first elopement, is said to have left by C. P. R. at Owen Sound, accompanied by Miss Margie Ard, of Hepworth, for the States.—Markdale Standard.

Rheumatic Pains Quickly Cured
 The excruciating pains characteristic of rheumatism and sciatica are quickly relieved by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm. The great pain relieving power of the liniment has been the surprise and delight of thousands of sufferers. The quick relief from pain which it affords is alone worth many times its cost. For sale at Parker's Drug Store.

FEEDING PROFITS

Quick returns and profits are what the farmer wants in feeding steers. These can be obtained in the steer that can be properly prepared for the market at an early age. One who does this is "A WISE FEEDER." In ordinary feeding the haste in getting on a full feed is often disastrous to large and early gains. The addition of Clydesdale Stock Food to the ordinary feed puts the stomach in such shape as to allow it to digest and assimilate a large quantity of food. It is the assimilation of this extra feed that makes the profit. A point overlooked by many feeders, is the condition of hide and hair. The soft, flexible skin, and velvety hair, is always associated by the experienced feeder with gaining capacity. It is a certain indication of an active digestion and assimilation of food. The outer skin has a direct relation to the stomach and intestines. Clydesdale Stock Food will give soft pliable skin and velvety hair. Mr. Walter Wesley of Pine Orchard, Ont., says: "Your Stock Food gives a smooth glossy coat, perfect digestion and extra gain. The over and above that gained from ordinary feeding, and at a profit. Clydesdale Stock Food can be purchased in your district from the following dealers:

- BARCLAY & BELL, Durham.
- TAYLOR & CO., Dromore.
- KIRCHNER & MAURER, Hanover.
- C. A. DRUMM, Holstein.
- RAHN BROS., Neustadt.
- KNOIT BROS., Markdale.
- THOS. MATHEWS & CO., Markdale.

The Average Man Doesn't Know The First Thing

about flour, but the woman who does the family baking—she is the one who appreciates Royal Household Flour—made by the new electrical process—because when she tries it with the simple "Royal Household" recipes she finds it makes better, sweeter, whiter, lighter Bread, Buns, Rolls, etc., and more crisp and delicious Pastry than she ever made before, and she is not afraid to say so.

South Range, Digby Co., N. S., November 22nd.
 "I want to tell you that Royal Household Flour is the best I ever used in all my life, and the only kind I will have as long as I can get it."
 (Signed.) MRS. ALEX. PORTER.
 To any woman sending in name and address to The Ogilvie Flour Mills Co., Limited, Montreal, and mentioning this paper, these recipes will be sent FREE.

On Thursday morning last, while Mrs. John Duffield, Normanby St., was preparing breakfast, she was startled by screams from upstairs. Rushing up she found the nightdress of her four year old son on fire. With commendable presence of mind she snatched up a garment and smothered out the flames, but not before the little fellow was severely burned. Under medical treatment he is recovering nicely. The lad had been playing with matches.—Confed.

"How long should a girl know a man before becoming engaged to him?"
 "Oh, long enough for him to propose."

Consolation.
 Her gentle ways, her brilliant air,
 The grace in her that so refines;
 Her lissome form, her shimmering hair—
 I've sung them all in glowing lines.
 And though the maiden answered no
 (As lovely maidens sometimes do)
 Have I not sold the lines and so
 Enjoyed them from a scud or two?

Weight of Water.
 Two hundred and twenty-four gallons of fresh water weigh a ton.

Unlucky Tuesday.
 There is a Spanish proverb that "on Tuesday one should never travel or marry," and this superstition is so ingrained that even in Madrid there are never any weddings on Tuesdays and trains are almost empty.

Book Cemetery.
 "A cemetery for books" is what a French writer calls the National Library in Paris, in which the history of France alone is represented by 300,000 volumes.

Pins.
 The first solid head pin, although made in England and its manufacture delayed until 1824, was the invention of an American, Lemuel W. Wright by name, and it was another ingenious American, Dr. John T. Howe of Connecticut, who some eight years later invented the first successful machine for completing solid headed pins by a single process.

The Kittery Navy Yard.
 The first navy yard on the shores of Portsmouth (N. H.) harbor was commenced on Badgers Island in 1775. The present site was purchased in 1800 by the United States government.

Oranges For Invalids.
 The following method of preparing oranges will often tempt an invalid's taste: Take a pint of orange juice and a quarter of a cup of sugar; moisten a tablespoonful of arrowroot with cold water; put the orange juice and sugar over the fire and when scalding hot add the arrowroot and stir it until it is clear and thick. This should be served ice cold.

A Soft Saw.
 With a piece of string and a little sand and grease some Hindoo convicts sawed through an iron bar two inches in diameter in five hours and escaped from jail.

Every Animal Likes Bananas.
 The leaves of the banana are tender, and the strong winds of the tropics—the hurricanes—soon tear the leaves in strips, thereby adding to their grace and beauty. The banana is a fruit that beast and bird, as well as man, are fond of, and the owner, when he lives in a sparsely settled country, must need protect his plantation by a fence of some thorn plant.

Spitzbergen.
 Spitzbergen is one of the few countries as yet unclaimed by any nation. Any one may dig the coal found in the cliffs there.

Japanese Lacquer.
 Japanese lacquer is obtained from the urushi or varnish tree, which is of fine proportions when full grown. An incision is made through the bark, and it yields a rich, milky, glutinous juice, from which the Japanese make their celebrated varnish.

Lee's Military Genius.
 One day during the war between the states General Lee sent for General Gordon and said to him: "Take these regiments"—mentioning some—"and go to Spottsylvania. Be there tomorrow morning."

In surprise, General Gordon asked why troops were needed at that particular spot.
 "Because," replied General Lee, "Grant will be there."
 Nothing had been heard of Grant's movements for a long time, but General Gordon supposed General Lee had had some dispatches which had informed him of Grant's nearness. He asked if this was so.

"No," said Lee, "but Grant ought to be there, and he will be." Lee was a great general himself and knew what a great general should do. He had studied out Grant's plans from the place where he last heard of him and decided where he would next make his appearance.
 General Gordon went to Spottsylvania. Grant was there, and one of the fiercest battles of the war was fought.

The Buffalo Wallows.
 A curiosity of the plains is the buffalo wallows. There has not been a buffalo in them for years, but they are the same today as they were generations or even centuries ago. They are no longer frequented by cattle, of course, and therefore not freshly worn, but they remain to this day barren and black amid the vast plain of living green. In the spring they stand full of water until the advancing summer sun evaporates it, and then they are barren and black again. They are perfect circles, some large as a circus ring, and their basins are packed firm and hard by the tread and roll of many generations of the bison. Another recollection here of this extinct race is the buffalo birds, which abound in great numbers. Their function now, as in the time of the bison, is to pick insects from the backs of the cattle which feed on the plains. Sometimes twenty or more feed on a steer's back, while the steer calmly and with evident pleasure munches buffalo grass.

It Was All Good.
 Mr. Jones was very fond of a kind of boiled pudding his wife made, so, says London Answers, when she had gone away for an afternoon and evening she promised that she would leave one of the favored puddings in the saucepan for his evening meal.
 "Well," she said on her return, "and how did the pudding go down?"
 "Soo-preme!" said Tom, smacking his lips at the recollection. "Twas as good a pudding as you have ever made."
 "That's good," was the gratified response of Mrs. Jones. "I'm glad you enjoyed it. What did you do with the cloth?"
 For a moment Mr. Jones solemnly surveyed her.
 "What?" he said. "Did it have a cloth on?"

An instance of the durability of spider web is found at the Allegheny observatory, where the same set of lines in the micrometer of the transit instrument has been in use since 1859.

Fruitful Uganda.
 An explorer states that almost everything planted would grow in Uganda.

A Soldier's Condolence.
 When Prince Louis Napoleon met his untimely fate in Zululand Marshal MacMahon hastened to condole with his royal mother: "I am very happy, madam, at the circumstances that have arisen which give me the occasion to condole with you. Your son died a soldier, and you ought to be glad."

Lard and Tar.
 Fresh lard will remove tar from either hand or clothing. Wash with soap and water afterward.

The Roman Nose and Crime.
 It is very interesting that the arched, or Roman, nose should have been found remarkably frequent among murderers. A peculiar illustration of the supposed relation of this organ to character is found in Arabia, where horses with arched noses are not admitted to the breeding stables lest they transmit an evil temper to their offspring.
