

DEATH OF JOHN WATERS.

Many sincerely regret the death of Mr. John Waters which took place on Thursday morning last between seven and eight o'clock. Deceased was troubled during the last few months with stomach disorders and although the aid of local physicians and specialists was obtained he did not improve and he was informed a few weeks ago that his case was hopeless. He was able to be around until the day before his death and was even feeling so well that he had talked of a fishing excursion a day or so before.

Deceased was born in the township of Melancthon and came to Dundalk eighteen years ago. He and Mr. D. McLean built the Queen's Hotel and ran it for two years as partners. Mr. McLean then pulled out, and he conducted the business himself for five years. He then moved to Mt. Forest and Durham in turn, being engaged in the hotel business in both places. Three years ago he returned to Dundalk and took a position with Mr. M. Bolger, of the Grand Central Hotel, and afterwards with Mr. W. J. Smyth, the present landlord. The funeral took place on Saturday last to the R. C. cemetery in Melancthon, a service being held in the church here, en route, Rev. Father Murphy officiating. The relatives left are the bereaved widow, Mrs. D. McLean his sister, and Messrs. David and Michael of Melancthon, and Lawrence, of Minnesota, his brothers. They have the sympathy of the community in their affliction.

Those from a distance attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Murchie, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. D. McLean, Misses McKinnon and Mary and Alice Finnerty, Orangeville; and Misses Cecelia and Nellie Finnerty, Owen Sound.—Dundalk Herald.

Found a Cure for Dyspepsia.

Mrs. S. Lindsay, of Fort William, Ontario Canada, who has suffered quite a number of years from dyspepsia and great pains in the stomach, was advised by her druggist to take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. She did so and says, "I find that they have done me a great deal of good. I have never had any suffering since I began using them." If troubled with dyspepsia or indigestion why not take these Tablets, get well and stay well? For sale by Parker's Drug Store.

The laxative effect of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets is so agreeable and so natural that you do not realize it is the effect of medicine. For sale at Parker's Drug Store.

A Michigan editor who got tired of welding the whitewash brush in the matter of obituaries, decided to reform and to tell the truth just for once. He commented as follows on the death of a well known citizen: "Died.—Aged 56 years, 6 months and 12 days. Deceased was a mild-mannered brute with a mouth for whiskey, and an eye for bootie. He owed us several dollars on the paper, a large meat bill, and you could hear him pray six blocks away. He died singing 'Jesus Paid It All,' and we think he was right, as he never paid anything himself. He was buried in an asbestos-lined casket, and his many friends threw palm leaf fans into the grave, as he may need them. His tombstone will be a resting place for hot owls."

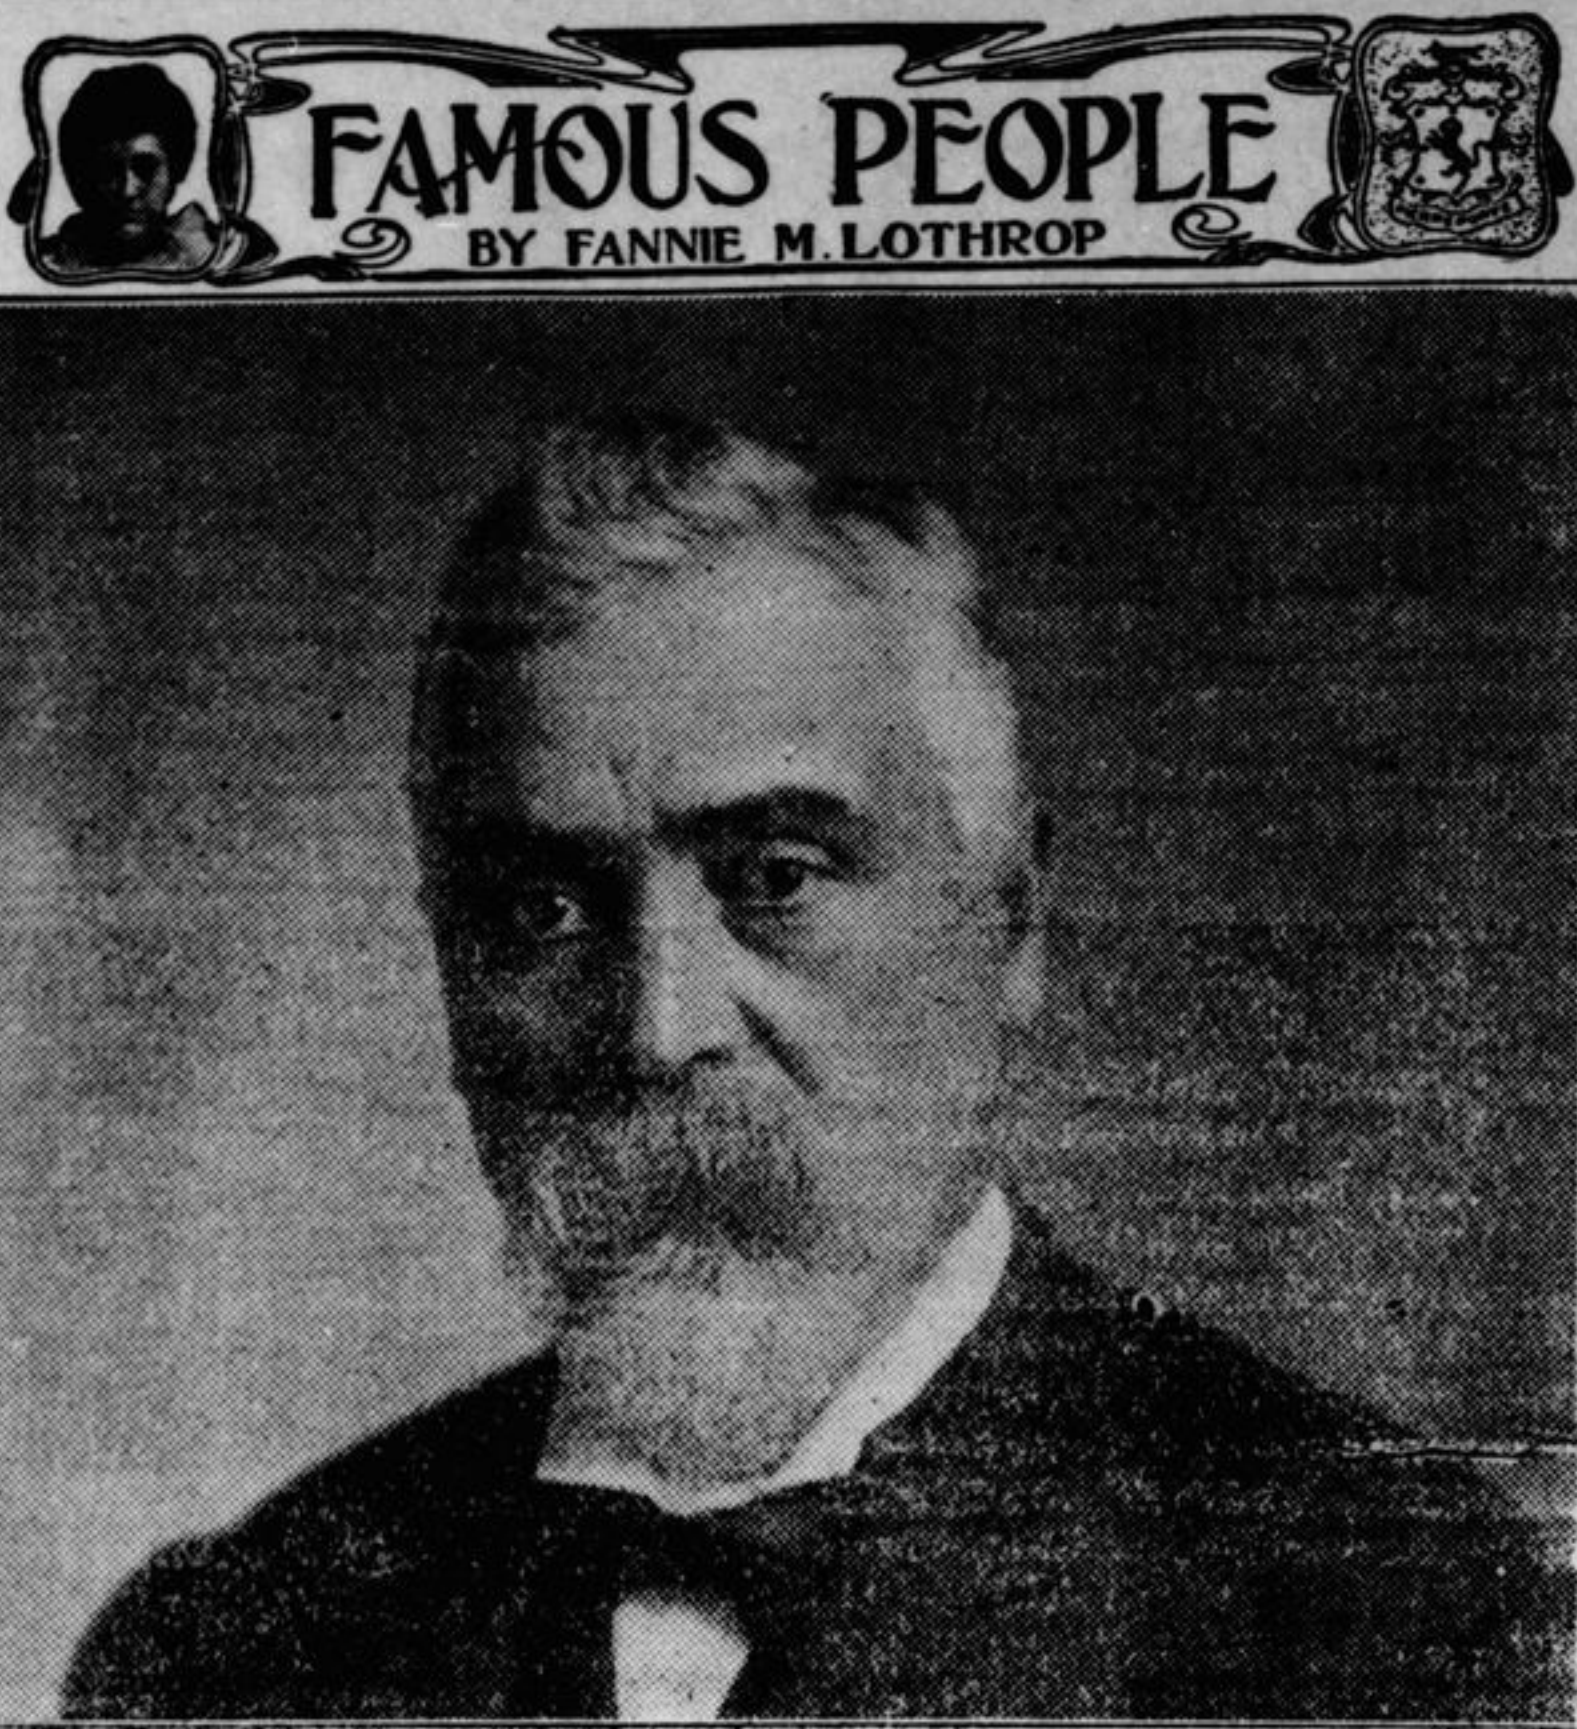

Just What Everyone Should Do.

Mr. J. T. Barber of Irwinville, Ga., always keeps a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera, and Diarrhoea Remedy at hand ready for instant use. Attacks of colic, cholera morbus and diarrhoea come on so suddenly that there is no time to hunt a doctor or go to the store for medicine. Mr. Barber says: "I have tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera, and Diarrhoea Remedy which is one of the best medicines I ever saw. I keep a bottle of it in my room as I have had several attacks of colic and it has proved to be the best medicine I ever edus." Sold at Parker's Drug Store.

A Chatsworth young man went to church with his best girl not long ago, says the News. Both were quite good looking and modest and when the collection was being taken the young man explored his pockets and whispered to the young lady, "I haven't a cent. I changed my pants." In the meantime this young lady had been searching her pockets, and finding nothing, blushed rosy red and stammered, "I'm in the same predicament."

Cuban Diarrhoea.

U. S. soldiers who served in Cuba during the Spanish war know what this disease is, and that ordinary remedies have little more effect than so much water. Cuban diarrhoea is almost as severe and dangerous as a mild attack of cholera. There is one remedy, however, that can always be depended upon as will be seen by the following certificate from Mrs. Minnie Jacobs of Houston, Texas: "I hereby certify that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy cured my husband of a severe attack of Cuban diarrhoea, which he brought home from Cuba. We had several doctors but they did him no good. One bottle of this remedy cured him as our neighbors will testify. I thank God for so valuable a medicine." For sale at Parker's Drug Store.

SIR HIRAM MAXIM The Inventor of the Automatic Gun

The man who has invented more deadly instruments of war than any other inventor in the world's history is Sir Hiram S. Maxim, an American, who left his native country about twenty years ago in a burst of indignation at the lack of recognition of his genius shown by this government at Washington. Lord Salisbury said of him: "He has prevented more men from dying of old age than any other man who ever lived."

This mechanical genius who has added to the horrors of war was the son of a wood turner in Maine, where he was born in 1840. He "began life," he says, "with a common school education and a jack knife." He showed more skill in handling the knife than the education, and the mechanical turn of his mind soon becoming evident, he was apprenticed when he was fourteen to a carriage builder. After four years of this service he studied metal working and before he was twenty-one was foreman in a machine shop preparatory to a better position in the extensive works of his uncle.

In 1873 he took up the problem of his famous automatic gun, which was not perfected until eleven years later. The inspiration of this invention of destruction came from the kick of an old musket he was using; it was so severe a kick that it threw him over and bruised his cheek. When the stars that he then saw faded away, it occurred to his bright mind that the energy of the recoil might be caught and utilized to reload the rifle, and the result of his experiments was the Maxim automatic machine gun, a death-dealing affair that murders humanity in war at the rate of three thousand shots a minute. This is but one of his many improvements in ordnance and explosives. In 1877 his attention was turned to electricity, and some of the earliest electric lights in America were invented by him.

In 1883 he took up his permanent residence in England, and became a British subject and was knighted by Queen Victoria four years ago. The latest invention of Sir Hiram, who, it is said, has never failed to solve any problem he has attempted, is an airship that really does fly—so many of the recent airships, though beautiful in theory, have failed in this one particular. The persistence of Sir Hiram is shown by his carrying the flying machine problem through thirteen years of his busy life, during a large part of which time he has been a member of the firm of Vickers' Sons & Maxim, which employs 14,000 men.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering in through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Sold by Druggists. Price 75c. per bottle. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

A Million Dollars Squandered.

It was estimated this sum was wasted last year by people trying to find a cure for catarrh. Foolish sufferers to experiment when it's so well known that "Catarrhzone" is the only remedy that cures permanently. Other remedies only relieve, but Catarrhzone cures and prevents the disease from ever returning. "I had catarrh in its worst form," writes G. F. Fadden, of Royan, Que., "I was so bad that ordinary medicine didn't even relieve; but Catarrhzone cured perfectly." No chance of disappointment with Catarrhzone—its certain as death to cure your catarrh—just try it.

MULL CORNERS.

The Aberdeen correspondent seems to be under the impression that we have disappeared. We will just inform him that we thought the Aberdeen boys were carrying the news down that way, but now that the attraction has left we will have to get down to business again.

Among those who took in the Guelph excursion were: Mr. and Mrs. S. Patherbough, Messrs. Hugh McCormack, Neil McLean and Hugh McDonald. Our teacher also took in the trip and all thoroughly enjoyed it.

Misses Sarah and Mary Caswell have gone to Durham to learn dress making.

One of our Corner young ladies had a quilting bee last week. Wonder what that means?

Mr. Donald McQuarrie is under the weather at present. Hope soon to hear of his speedy recovery.

We noticed some of the school boys up in high trees this week, and on enquiry found examination was on and they were trying to avoid it.

By all appearance there will be no scarcity of fruit this year.

Mr. Rob Ewen has erected a new gate post. Get a mate Bob.

Darkies' Corners.

Quite a number of people from this part took in the excursion to the Model Farm on the 10th and enjoyed themselves although it did rain.

Miss Amy Atkinson is holidaying at the parental home at present.

Mr. Thomas Harrison, of Glenmont, is spending a few days of the company of M. J. Staples.

Mr. Thomas Timmins visited at Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hewitt's a week ago Sunday. Call again, Tom.

Several of the people of this part went over to McGillivray's bridge, Lime Kiln Valley, last Sunday afternoon to witness the rites of baptism performed by the Rev. Mr. Newton at that place. Eight young people were immerse.

The Corner Gander imagines we tried to scare him from the field and nearly fainted. We are glad he did not for we would miss him very much; however, we had no intention of doing so. He thinks we are fierce, but we assure him that such is not the case for we are quite harmless, except when called upon to act in our own defence.

John McGirr is away to Niagara with the ued coats to practice annual drill.

The Aberdeen Ostrich must have been making 200-300 eyes recently else when looking at a distance his sight must not have been very clear, or he would surely be able to note the difference between a gander and a crow.

SAYS THAT WHISKEY DID IT.

There is something in the result of the great naval battle in the straits of Korea that goes beyond the scope of enquiry of the naval experts. Superior strategy, swifter ships, truer firing and greater daring—these are only the superficial explanations of Admiral Togo's victory. They are manifestations rather than the cause of the proud ascendancy of Japan.

The result of the battle is, in reality, the triumph of sober Japan over whiskey-soaked Russia. It is the greatest temperance lecture ever delivered to the world, to nations, and to individuals as well.

What was proved on the wreck-strewn straits of Korea had already been proved in the destruction of the Port Arthur squadron in the running fight with the Vladivostok cruisers, in the reduction of an almost impregnable fortress in the land operations in Manchuria. It was in each case Japan against Russia, but it was more. It was temperance against debauchery.

Japan's achievements on land and sea were not directed by men who had spent their days and nights in idleness and dissipation. They were the product of lives of strong, steadfast, sober endeavor, the very opposite of what their enemy had been.

The lesson of war is not for Russia alone. It is for every individual who seeks stability and advancement. Great Britain's greatest danger today is that intemperance and progress do not go together. They are, as Sir Frederick Treves said the other day, hopelessly antagonistic. This eminent authority made the statement that alcoholic drink, even in small quantities, absorbs human energy and minimizes the effort of the individual. Russia has learned this truth, but at a terrible cost. Let Great Britain profit by that lesson before it is too late.

Are Good Looks Valuable?

The Christian Guardian recently refused to give space in its columns to a letter from Mr. H. H. Miller, M. P., for South Grey, giving the reasons which led him to support the educational clauses of the Autonomy Bill. "He must excuse us," said the Guardian, "from inserting a letter explaining why he thinks the educational clauses of the bill should be supported because his reasons for not supporting the measure are of interest to his own constituency rather than to the Methodist public generally."

Five Years Dyspepsia Cured.

"No one knows what I suffered from stomach trouble and dyspepsia," writes Mr. A. B. Agnew of Bridge-water. "For the last five years I have been unable to digest and assimilate food.
