Those desiring the prescription, which will cost them nothing and may prove a blessing, will please address Rev. EDWARDA. WILSON, Brooklyn, Naw York In fact, while the fire was in progress a stranger was seen in the vicinity, and he was at once spotted out as the incidendiary. He was not apprehended, however, and those who had come out to view the fire, soon lost sight of him, Next morning, however, as Constable Russel was walking down street, he saw a stranger acting in so peculiar a manner, that he concluded to interview him, and find out who he was, and what he was doing here. He consequently approached the stranger and asked him his name. The answer was "My name is Thompson, and I am the fellow who set the barn on fire last night!" Russel at once placed him under arrest, and he lay in jail until Friday, when he was given his preliminary trial. He told Russel he came from Tiverton, that he was born in Dakota, and that for the last two years he had been living in Toronto. He said that he went into the barn for a rest, that he had lit his pipe, and maid like each other and want and smoked until he had failen to marry, they will do so.
