Bran waste is one great difference between good and poor flours.

The food part of flour is "protein." Protein makes bone, muscle and brain.—There is no protein in bran.—bran is the outside part, the husk or "bark" of the wheat.—bran is the part of the wheat which is absolutely without food-value to the human system.—bran represents part of the difference between Royal Household Flour and whole-wheat flour or cheap, inferior flours that are poorly milled and not thoroughly purified.

No other flour in this country is so thoroughly and completely separated from the waste as is "Royal Household," because no other mills are so well equipped or exclusively devoted to the production of scientifically pure flour as Royal Household mills.

AS USUAL.

A fond mother sent her small boy into the country and after a week of anxiety received the following letter: "I got here all right, and I forgot to write before. It is a very nice place to have fun. A fellow and I went out in a boat, and the boat tipped over and a man got me out and I was so full of water that I didn't know anything for a long while. "The other boy has to be buried when they find him. His mother came from her home and she cried all the time. A horse kicked me over, and I have got to have some money to pay the doctor for mending my head. It was broken a bit. "We are going to set an old barn on fire to-night, and I am not your son if I don't have some real fun. I lost my watch and I am real sorry. I shall bring home some snakes and a toad, and I shall bring home a tame crow if I can get 'em in my trunk."

WHEN YOU GROW OLD.

The body needs patching—wasted tissues must be rebuilt, played-out organs restored—blood needs extra nourishment. Elderly people need Ferrozone—need it because it vitalizes and rejuvenates as no other remedy can. Ferrozone builds up the kind of strength that makes one feel good—keeps back decay of the old age and makes you look young and handsome again. Forget nervousness, exhaustion, renew your vital energy, again re-enter the life of youth. Your remedy is Ferrozone, only fifty cents per box, at all dealers.

TOOK ANOTHER DRIVE.

If Master Willie McMillan, the seven-year-old son of Councillor A. McMillan, does not meet with a serious accident one of these days it will not be because he did not tempt the fates. Not content with his exploit of driving a team of horses and a lumber wagon to Leith a couple of weeks ago he undertook a similar performance on Monday with a horse and buggy belonging to Mr. John H. Scott of Derby. The little lad secured the outfit in the First Methodist church sheds and started off for Leith shortly before six o'clock. He was caught in the heavy downpour of rain and thoroughly drenched before reaching Leith. Mr. Gibson, the young man who recognized him on the former occasion, persuaded him to return home which he did in safety. A small tear in the buggy top which the youthful driver says was caused by an upset in turning around was all the damage done. The horse is a spirited animal and does not take kindly to the whip, marks of which are plainly visible across its back. How the youngster managed to cover the distance without a mishap is a greater wonder than even his former exploit.—O. S. Times.

BOB BEST'S DOG-GONE YARN.

One evening last week while waiting for the night train the Bus man told the following yarn:— "I was down in Orono this summer and while there visited a cousin of Mr. Thos. Lowe's, the genial proprietor of the Revere House. They had a calf to take to market which had been purchased by a town butcher, but everybody being busy it was decided to send "Collie," a very intelligent beast owned on the farm, with it. The calf and dog were started off but after going a short distance the former laid down and refused to go on. All the dog's persuasion was of no use, so he started back home in hot haste, went down cellar, swished his tail through a pan of milk and started back for the calf. When he got to where the calf was resting he stuck his tail in its mouth and in that way got it safely to the butchers. If you don't believe me ask Tom Lowe." Next.— Reflector.

"There is one editor in Heaven, says an exchange, "though how he got there Lord only knows, but it is supposed that he rode in on the blind baggage or got a pass. When they found him they tried to turn him out but he refused to go. They hunted all over heaven for a lawyer to serve him ejectment papers, but they could not find one, so the editor held the fort and is there to day.

"You have served your country nobly, said the Mikado. "Anything you ask will be granted." "I have but three requests," answered the Japanese naval hero: "don't erect a triumphal arch, don't present me with a house, and don't let the girls kiss me."—Washington Star.

"Betty, why do you sit up at this hour of the night darning your stockings?" said her mother sharply; "don't you know it's twelve o'clock?" "Oh, yes," laughed Betty, "but it's never too late to mend!"

An English and an American were discussing the relative importance of their business. "Why said the Englishman, "in my firm the clerks use 3000 gallons of ink a year." "Oh, that's nothing!" retorted the American. "We saved that much ink in a year by ordering our clerks not to dot their i's."

Now that Russia will not issue a new loan, the world's money-markets can prepare for the time Gaynor and Greene finance the payment of their lawyer's bills.

PUNCTUALITY.

Coming on time denotes alertness and interest in business. Coming late denotes laziness, dissipation perhaps, at any rate, it shows a certain amount of lack of interest. Tardiness may seem a small thing to the employee, but it is one of the things which are held in detestation by most employers. Five minutes lost by one employee means an hour lost on twelve employees who are five minutes late in starting, and this amounts to quite startling proportions in the course of a year; and it is just such little leakages of time and materials which sometimes determine the profit or loss for the year. Punctuality is a good habit to cultivate. The employee who comes in late is not in the path of advancement. In fact, it makes for the other direction. Come early even if the "boss" isn't around. It is more productive of mental satisfaction, and, besides that, if you wait every morning until the streets are thoroughly aired before opening the store, someone may be kind enough to put the proprietor wise, and some fine morning he may get down before you.

WALKED INTO THEIR ARMS.

E. Dull, sheriff of Monroe, Mich. and O. T. Montgomery, deputy warden of the Reformatory at Ionia, Mich., struck a snap on Sunday. They came over here after a man named George S. Smith and while sitting down at the Royal, he walked into their arms. He was in the poultry business at Ionia and for some years did a thriving business. He used to get out at night and "raise" chickens to have them fresh for his customers next day. The authorities over there did not appreciate this public benefactor and arrested him and sent him to the Reformatory for from one to five years according to his behavior. He stayed there for three months and skipped, coming to Kincardine. At Goderich, he wrote to a lady friend at Ionia and asked for a reply to Kincardine not later than the 6th, as he was going West. They found this out and came here with the result just mentioned. Smith did not appear much concerned over the way his plans were spoiled. He spent a night in the lockup and next day returned to the Reformatory. On his person were found letters in which he was given quotations by Toronto merchants for chickens, so that he evidently still contemplated the chicken business. Smith worked in the Rightmyer salt block for a year and a half in the seventies.

RUNAWAY FATALITY.

Another sad and fatal runaway accident was added to the long list of tragic events that have occurred in this vicinity within the past few weeks and occurred on Monday forenoon in Derby township. The victim was Wesley Bowman, a young man belonging to a highly respected family of that township and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Bowman of the tenth concession. The accident was the result of an attempt to break in a two-year-old colt which was hitched to a two-wheeled road cart and was being driven for the first time. In company with his sister, Miss Ethel Bowman, they had only gone a short distance from home when the colt became fractious and got beyond control. Miss Bowman was thrown out and escaped serious injury, but her brother's foot became fastened in the brace of the cross bar and he fell back with his body between the wheel and the seat of the cart, while his head was dragged along on the gravel road. The horse turned into the driveway of the Archer farm, which adjoins that of the Bowman's, and Mr. George Archer, who witnessed the tragedy, succeeded in extricating him from the rig. He was carried into the house and physicians from Owen Sound and Tara were hastily summoned. Owing to the serious nature of the injuries, which consisted of a badly lacerated scalp, a number of cuts and bruises and a fractured skull, it was deemed advisable to take him at once to the Owen Sound hospital. An operation was performed, but all to no purpose. He never regained consciousness, but passed away shortly after nine o'clock the same evening. The remains were taken to his late home in Derby. The colt continued its wild race down the road until it met one of the Creamery Wagons driven by Mr. Jessie McInnis, when it turned off the road and fell in a heap in a fence corner, where it was afterwards found in an uninjured condition. The funeral took place to the Tara Cemetery Rev. Mr. Hall of Allenford, conducted the services, assisted by Rev. Peter McNabb of Kilsyth. The pall-bearers were Messrs. Philip Javins, John Robertson, T. Taylor, H. Javins, James Robertson and Bert Rowman. The funeral was one of the largest ever seen in that section, over eighty vehicles being in line as the procession left the house, sixty-five following the remains to the cemetery.—O. S. Times.
