MR. LAUDER BUCHAN had his thumb smashed in the cogwheel of a planer he was running in the furniture factory, on Saturday last. He will be off work a week or so as a result of the accident.

WORD has reached Mrs. Glass here that her son Percy, who is engaged in the printing office of Hon. Frank Oliver, of Edmonton, is now in the hospital suffering from typhoid. The authorities from the hospital send a letter of assurance that he will be well cared for.

DAN McDUGALL, Bentinck's veteran tax collector, called on The Post yesterday for his stock of notices and receipts for use during his collecting campaign this fall. Twenty-nine years ago he started out on his first collecting tour in Bentinck and has kept it up annually ever since without a break. Few men can boast of such long and satisfactory service as Mr. McDougall.—Hanover Post.

THE South Grey Teachers' Convention will be held here this week. Thursday will be a day of regular work in the school, and Friday is fixed for an excursion to the McDonald Institute at Guelph. This is a new departure which will be largely taken advantage of by the teachers. The return fare, good to return by any train Saturday, is only $1.15 and everybody who wishes to take advantage of the cheap rate has the privilege of doing so. The Association is in fact anxious to see a large turnout, and will likely be gratified with the results if the usual Teachers' Convention rain storm fails to make connection. See their ad. in another column.

ANOTHER woman of kindly personality who was a tower of strength to her husband in the embryo days of Bentinck township passed over to the great majority on Friday last in the person of Mary Boulden, beloved wife of James Boulden. She was 63 years, 8 months and 14 days old. Deceased was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Petty and was born in Yorkshire, England. She emigrated with her parents in the early fifties. In 1863 she wedded the man who now lives to mourn her loss, at Durham and the same day came out to Bentinck which has been their home ever since. Six daughters and one son blessed their union viz.—Mrs. Breen, Mrs. Master-son, Mrs. Notly and Mrs. Stickland, all of Toronto, and Sarah and Emma at home. The only son George is also on the homestead. The late Mrs. Boulden had only been ill for three weeks when the silent messenger came and her demise was a shock to all her loved ones. She was a victim of kidney trouble. The funeral took place from the family residence on lot 2, con. 9, Bentinck, on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock and was largely attended.—Hanover Post.

A SUNDAY School Entertainment will be given at Hutton Hill, Friday evening, Oct. 20th—A good program. Admission 10 cents.

DR. BROWN, Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat, will be at the Knapp House, Durham, on Saturday, October 14th, from 12 to 6 p. m. Eyes tested and glasses supplied.

THE Harvest Home Anniversary Entertainment at Varney was held in the Methodist church there on Monday night last. There was a crowded house in attendance, and Mr. Catton, who acted as chairman pronounced the order the best he ever saw at such a gathering. The program was good and well rendered in every particular.

TWO weeks ago we announced the serious condition of Wilfrid Calder who underwent an operation for appendicitis. His case was a very critical one from the first, and Dr. Groves, of Fergus, pronounced the chances ten to one against him. He seemed to improve slowly for a time, however, but other complications set in, and an abscess formed. The poor boy was constantly growing weaker, and succumbed under a second operation which was performed on Monday afternoon. Much sympathy is felt for Mr. and Mrs. Calder in the sore trial they are enforced to endure.

ON Monday afternoon about two o'clock Mr. Robert Renton, of Dro-more, dropped dead very suddenly when engaged in doing some stone work on the farm of the late James Andrews. He came out that day to assist his brother and was at work only an hour or so when death occurred. Deceased was fifty years of age, unmarried, and lived on the homestead. Besides his aged mother he leaves three brothers, James at home, John, a blacksmith in Dro-more, William, a mason in this town. We understand he has not been well for some time, and heart failure is the probable cause of his death.

THURSDAY morning last was a rather unlucky one for Mr. John Harvey, of this place. John is employed by C. Smith & Sons, and has charge of the cupola in the moulding room. The fan, which is about fourteen feet from the ground, needed repairing in some way and Mr. Harvey procured a ladder in order to ascend to the platform on which it is situated. When within one rung of the top, the ladder, a jointed one, came in two, precipitating him to the ground. Though not seriously injured Mr. Harvey was compelled to "lay off" a few days with a sore arm and shoulder caused from falling on some flasks which happened to be immediately underneath him.

THE Fall Fairs are about closed up for 1905. Much as one may desire to see many of these local concerns discontinued they have their uses. Many of them seem to show but little interest in agricultural, horticultural or domestic advancement, but where the community can be so educated on the importance of a wholesome rivalry even the little country fair is entitled to its place. Egremont has every year a purely local show, shorn entirely of all costly and questionable attractions, and yet few townships can put up as good an exhibit of what farmers and their wives and daughters produce in their homes. Indeed there are many of opinion, and we believe justly so, that the Egremont fair outstrips many of its near county competitors. It is even considered by some to be ahead of the South Grey Fair, held annually in this town. It may indeed be so, and if so, it would be contrary to our principles to make any sort of denial. Under such circumstances, and in the face of such comparison it becomes the duty of the South Grey management to make a more strenuous effort to build up the character of the show, and exhibitors too should aim to outclass any township competitors. The solution of the problem of "How to Improve our Country Show" is not our purpose at this particular time, but the management has a whole year ahead to think out something of value.

ON Thursday, Oct. 6th the S. G. Women's Institute held a lively and instructive meeting at the home of Mrs. J. McGillivray. The attendance was smaller than usual, but all took part in discussing the subjects "Knitting and Sewing." Next meeting will be held at Mrs. Wm. Matthews', Glen-elig, on the first Thursday in November, topic "Curing Meat" and "Christmas Preparations."

ABOUT eleven o'clock on Monday night a light was seen in the implement ware-rooms of Mr. Dan Campbell, and investigation proved the place on fire. How the fire originated is unknown, but happily the loss was small, the fire being promptly extinguished by a few pails of water. Jimmy Lavelle happened to be passing and gave the alarm, and then lost no time in sounding the fire bell. It was very fortunate to get the blaze subdued as everything was so dry there's no telling where a fire might end if once under way.

THE Harvest Home Anniversary Services of Ebenezer and Allan Park, will be held in Ebenezer Church next Sunday and Monday, Oct. 15th and 16th. Rev. G. I. Stevenson will preach at 2:30 and 7 p. m. Special music. An entertainment will be given on Monday evening consisting of vocal and instrumental music, recitations, dialogues, speeches, etc. The Methodist church choir and Male Quartette, of Durham, and others will ably supply us with music. Rev. Farquharson Rev. W. L. Newton, Mr. Allan, Mr. Campbell, of Durham, and H. H. Miller M. P., of Hanover, are expected. A very enjoyable and helpful time is expected. Everybody come. Adults 15 cents, children 10 cents.

ARTEMESIA FAIR.

The Artemesia Fair was held last Friday and like all the other fairs of the season so far they were favored with good weather. The attendance was large and the exhibits up to the standard of former years.

The display of roots and vegetables was ahead of anything we saw this year, and they were there in abundance. The fruit exhibit was not very large but there were some excellent samples. Grains also were of good quality, and shown in considerable variety.

There was a large exhibit of butter of excellent quality in boxes, crocks and tinnets.

Mrs. Neil McKinnon was the happy winner of first prize for home made bread as well as the winner of Mr. H. H. Miller's special prize. Mrs. McKinnon has long been noted for her superior ability as a bread maker, and from actual test of the article itself we can readily believe the prize was justly awarded.

Hector McDonald filled the air with rich musical strains from his magnificent new pipes. Mr. Ross, of Acton, was also a player.

The little kilted girls from Acton were much admired for their dancing, but unfortunately the platform was so low that only few could see them. This was remedied, however, later on.

There was some spirited driving by Miss McArthur and Miss

The horses, sheep, cattle and swine were strongly in evidence and considered good by the general public. We had little opportunity to know what the government judge thought of the show generally.

The flower show was rather light. The ladies' work good, but some of it appeared as though it had visited many a show in years gone by.

Honored by Her Pupils.

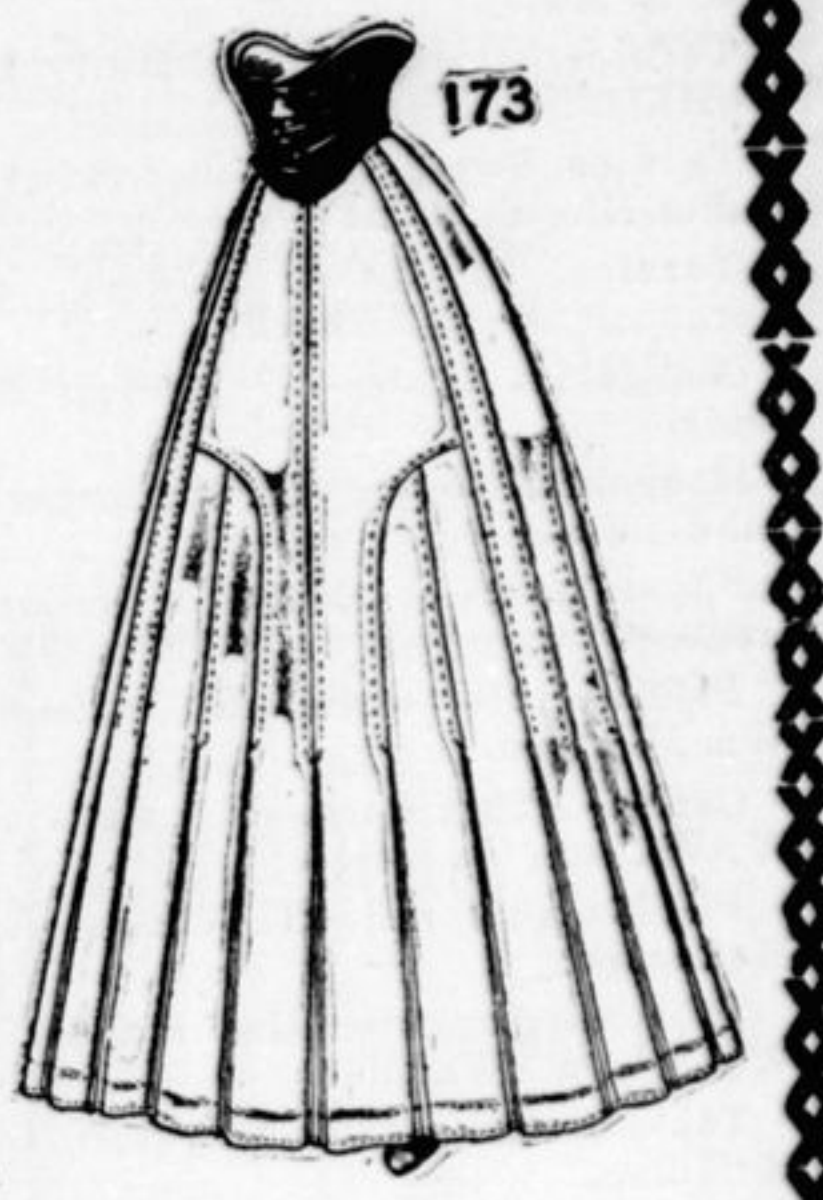

It was with great regret that the pupils and friends of S. S. No. 3, Bentinck, learned that their teacher, Miss Beulah Colling, intended severing her connection with the school to take an honorary course in the Victoria University in Toronto. To show their appreciation of her efficient work and long suffering, a number of the pupils gathered at her home and presented her with a handsome lady's travelling companion and also a fountain pen, which were to be a remembrance of the time spent among them. They regretted that her term had been so short, but wished her much success in her future studies. Miss Colling feeling deeply touched accepted the gift as a remembrance and wished the pupils a very successful future.—Com.
