FIGHTING GARDEN INSECTS

By the Distribution of Rubbish and Remnants

(By Prof. Franklin Sherman, Jr.)

It is well known that many of our most serious insect pests of the field and garden, pass the winter months beneath such shelter as they can find in or near the crops upon which they have been feeding. Thus many species of cut-worms, for example, pass the winter in half grown condition beneath boards, stones, trash, or just beneath the surface of the soil. The Chinch Bug often hibernates under boards, trash, etc., around the edges of grain or grass fields. The Tarnis so Plant Bug, which causes a distorted twisting of the young leaves of currant, gooseberry and raspberry, hibernates under fallen leaves. The turnip louse, which is the same species as the Cabbage Louse in gardens, seems to pass the winter on such living roots, shoots or other remnants of its food-plant as remain in the field.

These considerations show at once that much may be done at this season to avoid damage next spring and summer. If every fence row be thoroughly cleaned out, either by the plow or by fire; if every piece of trash around the garden and fields be piled and burned; if all the dead leaves in the gardens be consigned to flames, and lastly but perhaps most important of all, if all vines, stalks, stems, leaves and other remnants of crops to be absolutely destroyed by fire or in the compost-heap, we can easily believe that there would be fewer of these insect pests next season. Even the much needed coat of white-wash on the picket fence surrounding the garden will do some good against the insect pest which slips up small cracks in the fence and enters otherwise secret retreats.

In the event of destruction of all such remnants immediately after the harvest of the crop we have a valuable remedy which is all too little appreciated by most persons. A stalk-weevil which bores in the stems of the potato reaches maturity and escapes from the vines only after the crop is harvested and the vines are lying unheeded on the ground. On the neglected stubs of cabbage and cauliflower plants many a brood of lice is born in the fall and "Indian Summer" season. Many a cut worm and green cabbage worm, and many a pupa (chrysalis) of the Diamond-black Moth passes the winter or reaches maturity on these remnants, hence their immediate destruction is advisable.

If one lone gardener or farmer in a locality follows these suggestions while all his neighbors neglect them, his results, while none the less sure, will not be as noticeable and satisfactory as would be the case if all the farmers or gardeners in the community should act together. Unity of action is always more effective than mere spasmodic individual effort.

The Exact Thing Required for Constipation

"As a certain purgative and stomach purifier Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets seem to be the exact thing required, strong enough for the most robust, yet mild enough and safe for children and without that terrible griping so common to most purgatives," say R. S. Webster & Co., Utopia, Ontario, Canada. For sale at Parker's Drug Store.

When you want a pleasant physic try Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They are easy to take and produce no griping or other unpleasant effect. Sold at Parker's Drug Store.

FASHIONABLE WEDDING.

The marriage of Miss Helen Mildred Faith Cumberland, daughter of Mr. Barlow Cumberland of Danain, Port Hope, and Mr. Hugh Clapham Wotherspoon, son of Mr. Ivan Wotherspoon of Montreal, was celebrated in St. John's church, Port Hope, on Wednesday at twelve o'clock, in the presence of a large company of relatives and friends, about a hundred guests going down on a special from Toronto at half past nine. Rev. J. S. Broughall of St. Stephen's, who also married the bride's parents, performed the ceremony, which was coral, and celebrated amid all the beauty of floral decorations and earnest good wishes of a radiant gathering of friends. Rev. E. Daniel assisted in the ceremony. The wedding arrangements were as nearly as might be a replica of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Cumberland, father and mother of the bride. Miss Cumberland's wedding gown was of ivory satin trimmed with a flounce and cascades of exquisite old lace, and she wore a veil of tulle and crown of orange blossoms. The bouquet was of roses and lily of the valley and the jewels a sunburst of diamonds. Three bridesmaids and two little flower girls attended the bride. Miss Neta Mackenzie and Miss Violet Wadsworth of Toronto and Miss Hudsphat of Port Hope were the former, and little Miss Leslie Ward, daughter of Colonel Harry Ward, M. P., and little Miss Virginia Bush were the latter. A rainbow effect was resultant from the pretty tints of the bridesmaids' gowns, which were of primrose, azure and rose color, with white hats trimmed with rosebuds and good crooks adorned with posies of bridesmaid roses and sashes of satin ribbon, the whole effect very Watteau like and lovely. Mr. Stewart Wotherspoon, the groom's brother, was best man. Mr. W. Wadsworth of Toronto, Messrs. D. Brown of Montreal, A. Creelman of Niagara Falls and Stanhope Williams of Port Hope were the ushers. Mr. Cumberland, as handsome a father as ever led in a blushing bride, brought in his only daughter and gave her away. It was also remarked that seldom have three such fine looking fellows represented the bridegroom's family as on this happy occasion. After the ceremony a reception was held at Danain and Mr. and Mrs. Cumberland's home was the scene of a hospitality recalling the good old days of yore. The host and hostess received in the drawing room and the bridal party stood under a decorated arch from which hung a floral cloche des noces. Very many beautiful gifts were admired by the guests, and among them some particularly fine from Toronto and Montreal. The wedding breakfast was arranged in the dining-room and conservatory, the bride's table being beautifully decorated, and after the usual hours were proposed, Mr. A. R. Boswell honoring the bride, and the cake cut Mrs. Wotherspoon changed her bride-

"Royal Household" is in a class by itself.

Flour that gives half nourishment and double work to digest is not good flour.

Cheap and inferior flour gives the digestive organs double work and half pay—inferior flours contain indigestible waste——this waste must first be overcome by nature,—that means extra digestive work.

Indigestibles destroy the nutriment of flour, therefore poor flour gives more work and less nutriment to the system.

Royal Household Flour is in a class by itself—it is the only really pure flour—and it is pure because it is purified and sterilized by electricity.—it is the most easily digested and most nourishing because it is absolutely pure.

The moment a woman puts her hands into "Royal Household" she knows it is a finer flour than she ever used before.

Anniversary Services.

Anniversary services will be held in the Presbyterian church on Sabbath, November 12th, when the Rev. Thos. Wilson, of Walkerton, will preach. On Monday the 13th, Mr. Wilson will deliver his celebrated lecture on "Thirty Years With South Sea Cannibals," being the thrilling work of Dr. John G. Paton. The pictures by which the lecture will be illustrated are as real as life, so that at times the audience shudders to see him in the hands of savages. Children never forget it, while adults want to see it again.

No Poison in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

From Napier New Zealand Herald: Two years ago the Pharmacy Board of New South Wales, Australia, had an analysis made of all the cough medicines that were sold in that market. Out of the entire list they found only one that they declared was entirely free from all poisons. This exception was Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, made by the Chamberlain Medicine Company, Des Moines Iowa, U. S. A. The absence of all narcotics makes this remedy the safest and best that can be had; and it is with a feeling of security that any mother can give it to her little ones. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is especially recommended by its makers for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. This remedy is for sale at Parker's Drug Store.
