Herb W. Edwards Injured.

Herb W. Edwards of Des Moines, Iowa, got a fall on an icy walk last winter, spraining his wrist and bruising his knees. "The next day," he says, "they were so sore and stiff I was afraid I would have to stay in bed, but I rubbed them well with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and after a few applications all soreness had disappeared." For sale at Parker's Drug Store.

Merchants Rubbers

POINTERS FOR RUBBER BUYERS

An up-to-date shoe dealer is usually a good rubber judge—he is quick to discern the comparative points of excellence that pass unnoticed by the ordinary man.

Many of the largest merchants have stocked exclusively with Merchants Rubbers. They know that the high grade materials used, the exclusive methods employed and general care exercised in their manufacture mean increased wear and pleased customers.

This fact is a good guide to the ordinary buyer.

Merchants Rubbers have the fit, style, appearance and wearing qualities that cannot be obtained in any other brand of rubbers.

If your Shoeman doesn't sell them let us know.

THE AD. UPON THE FENCE.

Jim Keeper was a man who had More silver than good sense; He wandered to the field and put His ad. upon the fence. "The neighbors all can read it here, And pilgrims passing by, And I will save the space-rates, too." He said, and winked his eye.

A cow came up and saw the sign, And softly bawling "Moo," She went off to her brother ox And told him of it, too. And all the cattle came and looked Upon the lonely sign, And mooded: "Why, groceries and shoes Are not within our line."

The sheep came up and bleated "Baa" When they the sign had seen; And laughing at the lonely ad., They gambled down the green. "Why, what are woolen goods to us?" They bleated in the fold; We have enough to last for life, To keep us from the cold."

The horses came and read the line About the leather goods. Then galloped off, and hid within A little patch of woods.

"Harness and saddles—cheapest, best;" That's what the letters said; "We wish they were in Halifax." The angry horses neighed.

Thus, while the animals discussed Jim Keeper's rural sign, The people in the paper read Joe Seller's line for line. And Seller sold, and richer grew, Nor strange!—it came to pass Where Keeper kept his store, the cows Are nibbling at the grass.

STRANGE BUSINESS.

At the last meeting of the Board of Licence Commissioners for South Bruce in Walkerton, the application of Mr. McPherson, Lucknow, for an extension of his liquor shop license was refused. In doing so, however, the Board exceeded its powers, and Mr. McPherson's license will remain in force till the end of the present license year, May 1st next.—Lucknow Sentinel—Mr. McPherson's case is just the same as Mr. Schmuck's last year, but last year it happened to be a Grit license board and as Mr. Schmuck was a Tory he had to get out of business. No, Bryan is not a bitter partisan. It's about up to Dr. Clapp to do something toward his removal and have a man appointed to interpret the law alike to Grit or Tory.—Bruce Herald.

SUICIDE AT GRAND VALLEY.

Last Friday evening the choir of Knox church gathered at the church for practice, and were somewhat surprised to find no light or fire for them. While part of them remained in the auditorium Messrs. F. L. Smiley and Jack Tate went to the basement to start a fire, and on opening the woodshed door were horrified to find Harry Donaghy, the caretaker, dead. He had severed the jugular vein with his pocket knife. The rash act had been done some hours previous, doubtless during a period of mental temporary aberration, caused by business worries. Some years ago he had a rather severe abscess in his head, which, it is said, affected him considerably, at times, afterwards. The funeral took place on Monday at Pines' Corners, a number gathering at the home of his father-in-law, Mr. Samuel Thompson, to express their sympathy to the family in their sore trouble.—Grand Valley Star-Vidette.
