Darkie's Corners.

A week ago last Thursday. We are sure it was the day That the Ostrich bird, passed through our burg.
At the speed of a run-away
Mr. and Mrs. John Staples and Ma-tar Joe, visited friends on the south line Glenelg, a week ago Sunday.
The boys who recently came home from the Soo, report that the depth of snow on the level in that part of the country, averages about four feet. We can't boast of a plentiful supply here.
The game should be allowed to rest in peace on the Sabbath day, but Durham boys do not seem to think as we do, as it has been a common occurrence recently to see a party of boys running dogs through the swamps in this locality. It is really too bad that they have not got common sense to know that it is not right to do so.
Mr. Robert Bell is at present busily engaged hauling lumber from Durham for the new barn he intends erecting during the coming summer.
On Wednesday last while on his way to a wood bee Mr. M. J. Staples had a run-away. Nobody got hurt but we understand that the cutter had to undergo some repairs.
Mrs. James Sharp and her three children of Rathwell, Manitoba, is at present the guest of her sister-in-law Mrs. Jas. McGirr.
Those beer and card parties must have taken a strange effect on the Mulock Reporter's brain, when such hallucinations have risen before his imagination, as hearing the caw of the crow, or seeing the ganders strutting around. We expect to hear those welcome sounds and see those familiar sights when spring opens but they are yet a little way off.
Mr. James Vessie of Mordens' Corners visited friends in this burg last Sunday, call again Jim.

GLASCOTT.

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. Chas. Boyle on the 14th inst. when his daughter Mary R. was united in marriage to Mr. Walter A. Ledingham of Weyburn Sask. The ceremony took place at 5:30 o'clock in the presence of 70 guests, friends of the bride and groom. Rev. R. E. Ledingham of Waldimer brother of the groom made them man and wife assisted by Rev. A. N. McDonald of Dornoch pastor of the bride. The bride entered the parlor escorted by her father to the strains of the wedding march rendered by Miss M. Gunn of Durham. The bride's wedding gown was of white silk trimmed with allover lace, ribbon and applique, the bridal veil being held in place by a bunch of cream carnations. The bride was assisted by her twin sister Hanna who was dressed in pale blue nuns veiling trimmed with white applique and wore a bunch of carnations. The groom was supported by his cousin A. M. Ledingham of Williamsford. After the ceremony and usual congratulations the guests retired to the dining room where a sumptuous dinner was served. The evening was pleasantly spent in games, music and a programme of speeches, solos etc. The presents were numerous and costly, the groom's gift to the bride being $20.00 in gold and to the bridesmaid a gold brooch. The happy couple drove to Owen Sound the next day to spend a short honeymoon with friends and in a few days start for their home in the West. They start life with bright prospects and carry with them the good wishes of their many friends.

Moran brothers, Duncan brothers, and Boyle boys are rushing out logs and telegraph poles. They are all hustlers.

Chas. Duncan and Frank Boyle start in a few days for the West. there to seek their fortune.

Thos. Moran has bought himself a highstepping whalebone driver and don't turn out any more to let the boys past.

The scholars of No. 4 are well pleased with their teacher Miss B. Binnie who is taking great interest in her work and gaining the good will of her pupils.

A little girl came to the home of R. Goodwell one night lately with bare head and feet. They took her in and she is doing well. Congratulations Bob.
