Rev. Mr. Stephenson is away for the past couple of weeks on his examination. We wish him success. Bob Gadd and Tom Allan are both working in the Cream Separator Factory in Durham. About 25 of the Varney Epworth League went back to Knox a week ago Sunday night to join them in their Christian Endeavor. They say they had a lovely meeting. Miss Aggie Dunn came home from Toronto where she has been for some time. We were glad to see ber around Varney once more.

Mr. Wm. Glass, of Durham, has occupied the Varney pulpit for the past two Sundays and will also take the work for another Sunday in the absence of the Pastor. Mr. Glass is always welcome when he comes to Varney.

Our Postmaster has been making some changes in the Varney P. O. Mr. Long is giving good satisfaction. He is a very obliging official.

A great number from around here attended the different sales of household effects and did some buying. Among some of the larger purchasers were Wm. Long, John Morice, Julus, Keller and J. W. Blyth.

A very pleasant time was spent in games and plays and singining. Not till the small hours of the morning did the company disperse.

Arthur McCrie left for the West a week ago Monday morning. Art is one of our finest young men and we miss him around Varney, but there are some who will miss him a good deal more. They appear to be stand ing it nicely.

Miss Edith Allan is spending her Easter holidays at home, so there will be some fellow looking some other color than blue.

Our teacher, Miss MacKenzie, is spending her holidays in Toronto. We wish her a very pleasant time.

Great sympathy is felt for Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wilkinson in the very severe illness of their only son, a bright little fellow of 11 months, who has been sick for some time and at time of writing not the slightest hope of his recovery can be held out by the Dr. We do hope that he may yet be spared to his fond parents.

The Salvation Army's American Leader.

The Salvation Army, one of the most remarkable religious movements in the Wm. Morison very unexpectedly and world, is a great organized body going out into the highways and byways of hupresented heir daughter, Miss Maria. manity. It seeks to bring the church to the people rather than merely to urge with an address and also a beautiful the people to the church. It has made religion a warm, inspiring reality to thoumusic rack and fruit set and cake and sands; it has been practical, for it has carried the divine word to the poor, the sincheese dish, as a small recognition of ning, the sorrowing and the suffering, and with it has ever extended the hand of her services as organist. Although human helpfulness, love and brotherhood. Its methods need no vindication; 'aken completely by surprise Miss the transformed lives due to its influence are its living monuments.

The new leader of the Army in the United States is a young woman, Eva Booth, the daughter of the venerable General Booth, founder of the organization. Tall, slender, energetic, alert, with a sweet, mellow, far-reaching voice, she strikingly resembles her father, and went to America after her triumphant crusade in Canada with the reputation of being one of the best women orators in the world. She has a strength, sincerity and spiritual fervor that carry her audiences with her and sweep them on waves of religious fervor to higher spirituality.

As a child, with her sweet face and her little jingling tambourine, she ventured into the slums of Darkest London and faced without a tremor, degradation she could not understand; but which the sunshine of the love she radiated was at last to penetrate and soften. For a time she was compelled to go disguised as a flower-girl, but after suffering personal violence more than a hundred times and bravely leading her people where the police rarely ventured and were always needed, she finally triumphed, and to-day the name of Eva Booth is held in reverence in even the worst sections of London.

Through her personal influence obnoxious laws regarding public religious meetings in the streets of England have been repealed, and under her leadership the Army in England calmed the temper of street mobs and vanquished their op position. She went to Cornwall, and talked to workers in the tin mines; undaunted she went into the mines under the sea, with the surf roaring overhead, to visit the deckel edged seams. Still, if you like sick and dying; she carried her message to the weavers of the Midlands, and braved her way through all difficulties to fight the battle of temperance and better living. She has held practically every rank in the Army, and in Canada, where she was in command, often traveled bravely through the provinces on snowshoes, preaching to men in the lumber camps. To-day she is the ruler of nearly 4,000 paid officers and more than 125,000 of an organized force that ministers day and night, unceasingly to the temporal and spiritual needs of three million people.

Ponsonby was weary, and when Mrs. Dallington had for more than two solid hours discussed gowns, hats, wraps, corsets and feminine apparel in general, Arthur Ponsonby flicked the ashes from his cigar and, turning to Dallington, asked: "By the way, Fred, where do you buy your shirts?" "I always get them at Creighley's."

"Do you like his style? I think Mudgers makes the sweetest shirts I ever wore. They fit just lovely over the hips, and he seems to have a way of putting in sleeves that is so cunning." "Oh, I shall have to go to him when I need shirts again. Where do you get 1906.

"Oh, I wouldn't think of getting a tie anywhere but at Murgenheim's. Do you like these socks I'm wearing?"

"Dear me! They're awfully cute. I bought some new ones last week, but I like yours better than any of mine. I'm going to have a new pair of trousers cut out just as soon as I can get around to it. What do you think would be a good style for me to get? Would you have them shirred at the

"I think," said Mrs. Dallington, "I will have it plaited both in front and behind. Do you remember that denim of mine?"
