PIANO RECITAL.

A piano recital that merited more than passing notice was that given on Thursday evening in the Town Hall by Mrs. Newton. The program was all that could be desired, but the audience was a very small one, showing that the majority of our townspeople appreciate the "Punch-and-Judy" variety of entertainment more than the refined kind. Mrs. Newton, as usual, in her graceful manner thrilled the audience with her piano solos. As we have said before, and we repeat it again, Durham should feel highly honored in having so talented a lady as Mrs. Newton and should show their appreciation by attending her recitals.

Miss McLeay, reader, of Watford, who assisted with the program, is no stranger to a Durham audience, having appeared before her numerous friends in town on a previous occasion. This gifted lady won a triumph with her first number "The Village Gossips." Miss McLeay's stage appearance appeals to an audience, winning admiration with her easy manner and graceful smile. She was down for six numbers during the evening and responded to hearty encores which followed each number. Her rendering of "Only an Irish Washer Woman" met with approval from the audience, a rich vein of humor running through it. "Hagar" was another of her good numbers. "Looking for Tartan" and "Tommy's Prize" were also well rendered and thoroughly enjoyed. Miss McLeay is undoubtedly the best entertainer that has appeared here for some time. She has all the requisites of a dramatic artist, a clear, musical, sympathetic and well modulated voice and graceful gestures.

Dr. Brown, of Holstein, sang a couple of pretty solos and for his efforts was rewarded hearty encores. The Dr. although suffering from a cold sang in good voice and responded good-naturedly to the wish of the audience. He never indulges in trashy songs and his audience is never disappointed. Three of his numbers were, "How a Christian Can Die," "Heaven Above us Still" and "Was that Somebody You."

Miss Crawford gave a beautiful solo, "The Land of Nod" and was forced to respond to an encore.

THE monthly meeting of the South Grey Temperance Association will be held in Calder's Hall on Tuesday evening the first day of May.

Death of Henry Willis

The death of Henry Willis of Allan Park was not unexpected. For some time he had been ailing and gradually grew worse until Tuesday of last week when he breathed his last. Mr. Willis was 76 years of age, a native of Somersetshire, England where he spent his youthful days till coming to Canada at the age of twelve years. The family settled near Fergus for a time. About 58 years ago the deceased moved to Bentinck with his parents and settled on Lot 37, Con. 2, S. D. R. He subsequently married Eliza Firman who still survives. The family consists of five sons and two daughters, as follows: William, Mrs. Park, Mark, all of Bentinck, Nelson in Tacoma, Wellington in Winnipeg, Frank, (deceased) Orange (Mrs. Clendenen at Kenton, Manitoba).

Shortly after settling here the father of the deceased was accidentally killed by a falling limb, and was the first body placed in Sixteen Cemetery and beside the ashes of his long deceased father the remains of Henry Willis were placed on Friday after noon last where he was buried under the auspices of the Orangemen.

Mr. Willis was a member of the Church of England, a life long Conservative and an Orangeman. He was a regular reader of the Durham Chronicle from the first number of the Standard in February 1857, and on the 24th of January last he renewed his subscription for 1906. He was at the time that he would not likely see the expiration of his term. This we understand, is about the last time he was in Durham and realized full at the time that his days were about numbered.

The deceased gentleman was industrious and careful and through good management, frugality and the assistance of a careful family, considerable property has been accumulated.

The Warton Canadian says: "The lecture given by Rev. T. D. McCullough in the auditorium of St. Paul's Church on "Canada from Ocean to Ocean" was bright and instructive and the large audience that was held in breathless attention from start to finish, testify to its appreciation. Mr. McCullough began at Halifax in the east and step by step with views taken from his own camera and reflected on curtain, showed ship and city, mountain and plain, harvest field and cattle ranches, rivers and lakes, lumber, rocks, mines and fisheries enough to make the Canadian feel proud of his heritage and the need of true manhood and worth to go in and possess the land." Mr. McCullough gives his lecture in the Presbyterian church on Monday, April 30th.

THE C P R ON PAPER.

Since the surveys were made last year considerable anxiety has been felt regarding the building of the road through Durham. We are pleased to report another step in advance and trust the railroad now on paper may be a railroad in reality. A profile and course of the road have been filed in the Registry office here and a reference to their contents may be of interest to our readers.

The road as outlined starts from the Canadian Pacific line about five-eighths of a mile south of Flesherston Station and runs in a straight line for about three miles to lot 23, con. 1, N. D. R., Artemesia. It then deviates a little to the south and runs straight again for about 2 miles when it reaches lot 8, con. 1, N. D. R., Artemesia. It then turns for Priceville and runs through the village about west along James St. for a mile and a half to John Nichol's farm, lot 45, con. 1, N. D. R., Glenelg, when it sways to the north to escape an elevation and crosses the gravel at the east side of the Glen. Thence it swings southward and crosses the 2nd concession at lot 12.

After again crossing to the north side of concession 2 at lot 7, it runs nearly parallel with the concession line on the north side till it reaches lot 1 when it again sways toward the north and crosses Lambton St., Durham, about Rock street. Continuing west it passes through the school grounds cutting off the north-east corner of the school building crosses the river near the bridge and Garafaxa St. at the foot of the hill, running into Dr. Hutton's house so as to cut off about three quarters of it, it runs west along George St. to College street, crosses the river on Scarf's farm a little south of the brick yard. Crossing the Durham Road it sways around Hutton Hill just misses the Hutton Hill burying ground, passes through Charlie Lawrence's farms, crossing again to the south side of the Durham Road, runs about $\frac{1}{2}$ of a mile south of Allan Park, strikes the Durham Road again so as to run between the old church and school house at the deviation west of Allan Park, from which point it will follow along the Saugen River flat to Hanover crossing the Grand Trunk line at the north side of the town.

This gives a brief outline of the portion of the road in the County of Grey the total length being about 23 miles. From the profile we learn that the C. P. R. at starting point has an elevation of 1566 feet, Priceville 1528 feet, Durham 1120 feet and Hanover 884.
