department of any cement mill ever built of its capacity.

With enough raw material in sight last for many years to come, with their national reputation as to quality, and with the endorsement of this Government as to the high standing of their Portland Cement, all the leading City Engineers, building and railroad contractors have set this Company's "National Brand" as the standard for all other brands of cement throughout the country, not having a bag returned nor a complaint made since starting the plant.

this is pronounced by leading experts to be marvellous, and making the record for any eight kiln wet plant system on this continent. This Company has also established another record in the manufacture of High Grade Port-present but considerably increased and it is therefore only reasonable that the Shareholders will look for handsome and substantial returns on their investment.

Mr. Gilbert McKechnie, the Company's trusted and untiring Treasurer, looks forward with pleasure to the time when he will have to smilingly meet the Shareholders at dividend calls. In his official capacity Mr. McKechnie has largely been instrumental in bringing about the amicable state of affairs now existing between the Directorate and the Shareholders.

W. H. Hoyle, M. P. P., Cannington, the newly elected Vice-President at the last Annual Meeting, has been very active in looking to the mill's welfare, coming to the mill frequently in person, and as he is quite conversant with railroad matters is a valuable acquisition to the Board.

The other Directors of the Board being, V. Ratz, M. P., Parkhill, A. F. MacLaren, M. P., Stratford, C. W. Dyer, St. Thomas, S. G. MacKay, Woodstock. These gentlemen are also deeply interested in the welfare of the mill and give their undivided assistance on behalf of the best interests of the shareholders at all times.

The Company's yards are at the present writing a complete network of railway sidings, this was necessitated by the greatly increased output of the mill, this, with the able and efficient

The Stockholders of the National Portland Cement Company should feel grateful to their President, Mr. McWilliams, who through his being in close connection with many of the leading cement men in Canada and the United States secured the services of such men as Mr. McGrane, Superintendent, W. Marshall Smith, Chief Chemist, Frederick Lee, Assistant Chemist, J. C. Capper, general day foreman, and Wm. Patterson general night foreman, and through their untiring efforts have made possible such unprecedented results as the foregoing facts which speak more forcibly to the shareholders than mere words can convey.

Mr. A. C. Maitland, who was placed by Mr. McWilliams, in charge of the office and sales department as the Company's Secretary, has had wide and varied experience in this line, and is ably assisted by Mr. Charles Lavelle, so the Company's interest will be well and faithfully conducted in this connection.

The changes that have been effected by the present Board of Directors and management are so thorough and complete that it is an assured fact that the output will not only be held as at
